Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Oct. 7. [To the Editor of The Times:] I used to try to get what I thought would be some funny political angles over the radio and it was awful hard. But last night along came my old friend Nick Longworth on the air and hit on a humorous angle that I had never thought of, and I bet none of you had either. He blamed the Democratic party for the financial depression that is enveloping the world. It's really the biggest advertisement that the Democratic party have ever had. Why if they was that important they wouldn't be Democrats. They would all be Republicans. But it was a new reason at that. Did you ever notice, there has never been a year when alibis were as scarce?

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

REDS' GUNS SILENCED BY NAVY FIRE

Attack on Gunboat Panay in Hankow River, China, Evokes Hot Response

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (Exclusive)—A short exchange of fire between Chinese Communists and the United States gunboat Panay was reported to the Navy Department today by Admiral Charles B. McVay, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic Fleet.

The encounter, which took place early today on the Hankow River below Havoc Rocks beacon, was of short duration. According to the report submitted to the Navy Department the Chinese opened fire on the Panay with trench mortars concealed behind a dike. The fire was silenced with seven rounds from the gunboat's 3-inch guns and by 450 rounds of machine-gun fire.

The skirmish occurred at the same place where the Panay was fired upon on August 26.

ILLNESS DELAYS HOP OF KINGSFORD-SMITH

LONDON, Oct. 7. (AP)—Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, trans-Atlantic aviator, having contracted another attack of influenza, has been confined to his bed and forced to postpone his projected flight to Australia, which he had hoped to commence from Boston today.

MOBS RIOT IN BOSTON

Disorder Reigns After Parade

Hoodlums Wreck Autos and Light Bonfires After Veterans March

Wildest Night City Has Seen Since Days of Police Strike

BOSTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—Disorder ruled in Boston's downtown streets late tonight as mobs of hoodlums wrecked automobiles and burned bonfires in the center of the city's crooked thoroughfares.

Thousands of crates and boxes, left in the wake of today's American Legion parade, were heaped on tons of paper streamers to be set on fire.

Automobiles were tipped over or jounced until their springs gave way. Tops of machines were torn or split as boxes saved from the bonfires and tin cans were thrown in the air. Hoodlums sold and drank liquor openly or gambled on the Common.

It was a night such as Boston has not seen since the days of the police strike.

The Legionnaires themselves were orderly.

Police were unable to make their way through the crowds to make arrests and the hoodlums went their way unhindered until they became tired out by their own exertions.

There were reports of several thousands of dollars damage to hotel lobbies.

SEVENTY THOUSAND MARCH IN PARADE OF LEGION

BOSTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—Streets that once echoed the tread of Revolutionary heroes rang today with the tread of 70,000 American Legionnaires in one of the greatest military spectacles New England has ever seen.

Before a crowd that packed every bit of available street space and peered down from office buildings, the Legionnaires and their auxiliary members marched through flag-draped streets to the tunes of 400 bands in a parade which started in the morning sunlight and ended after darkness had fallen.

Feet that slogged through the mud of Flanders, that packed down the snow of Archangel and paced the decks of battleships, sounded cadence under a clear blue sky. From right and left came the cheers of the crowd and from overhead the navy dirigible Los Angeles and scores of small planes sent down the steady drone of motors.

TUNES OF OVER THERE

There were the tunes of 1917. "The Long, Long Trail," "Hinky Dinkey Parlez-Vous," "K-K-K-Katy," and scores of others.

The parade route carried them past "the Cradle of Liberty," Faneuil Hall; over the scene of the famous Boston massacre, past the old Statehouse wherein spoke Hancock and the Adamses, along Boston's historic Common and Lafayette Hall and over Beacon Hill past the present Statehouse.

In front of the Statehouse sat a group of white-haired men, their figures bent by years, but extending a welcome and a salute to these vigorous men in the prime of life who filed past. They were of the legion that answered the call in '61.

HEROES OF WAR

Although the practiced step of thirteen years had ecome raggeder, one and all flashed snappy "eyes right" as they passed the reviewing-stand on Tremont street. From the stand Gen. John J. Pershing, wartime commander of the doughboys, looked down on his comrades of grimmer days. By his side stood Gen. Henri Gouraud, war hero of France, saluting with his left hand while his empty right sleeve hung by his side.

In the stand, too, was Sir William Hickie of Ireland, a distinguished veteran of the British army. With him was Legionnaire Patrick J. Hurley, now Secretary of War, and Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams, of a New England family that has given Presidents to its country.

And there was National Commander O. L. Bodenhamer of the Legion.

The parade was a steady blare of bands and a riot of color. California brought one of the largest delegations and had two floats laden with flowers and fruits.

South Pasadena, Cal., has a drum corps that gave a tricky salute at the reviewing stand. San Diego exhibited a covered wagon and Santa Ana's children's band made a hit. Los Angeles had a black bear and a sign, "Bear in mind Los Angeles in 1931."

Crater's Vault Yields Nothing

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—State, county and private attorneys gathered in the vaults of the Empire Safe Deposit Company today and stood in tense silence as a workman forced open the safe deposit box of Justice Joseph Force Crater, strangely missing for more than two months. It contained nothing.

Armed with a power of attorney from Mrs. Crater, Dist.-Atty. Crain went to the bank with the hope that in view of the failure of all other clues the deposit box might yield some intimation of the reason for the justice's disappearance.

TEXAS HAS HEAVY LOSS IN STORMS

One Dead, Seventeen Hurt and Property Damages More Than $350,000

DALLAS (Tex.) Oct. 7. (AP)—Taking stock of havoc wrought by three tornadoes and by rivers and creeks that overflowed after all parts of the State had been soaked by torrential rains, Texas today found property damages in excess of $350,000, one known dead and at least seventeen injured.

Brownsville reported the only fatality, Private Robert Anthony Melthjone of Philadelphia, doing guard duty at Fort Brown, having been electrocuted when he stepped on a live wire torn loose from a pole by high wind that accompanied a deluge of rain.

A report from Junction, where the North and South Llano rivers were out of their banks, said it was believed an unidentified man who was camping in the lowlands had been drowned.

Brady suffered the greatest property loss—estimated at $300,000—when flood waters from the Brady River inundated a big portion of the business district. The water encroached on eighty business houses, flowing through the stores to damage merchandise.

A trio of tornadoes, hitting in a radius of 100 miles of Houston, and touching that city, did comparatively small damage.

German Cities Feel Violent Earth Shocks

STUTTGART (Germany) Oct. 8. (AP) (Wednesday) — Violent earth shocks were reported from Friedrichshafen and Ravensburg at 12:28 a.m.

Three shocks were felt, one violent, about a minute later at Munich, where they awakened many inhabitants of the city. The shocks were also felt at Oberammergau.

A slight earth shock was registered at Karlsruhe and Heidelberg at 12:30 a.m.

No damage was reported.

British Woman Flyer Rescued

JASK (Persia) Oct. 7. (AP)—The Hon. Mrs. Victor Bruce, noted sportswoman who had been lost since Sunday on a lone flight to Australia, arrived here at noon today in her own plane.

Mrs. Bruce had been forced down by engine trouble on Mt. Murabak, twenty miles from here, and when she did not arrive at the expected time a searching party was sent out to scour the lonely desert. The party picked up a distress call from the woman aviator and found her yesterday.

PUBLIC WORKS AUTHORIZED

DETROIT, Oct. 7. (AP)—Public construction to cost $4,400,000 was authorized today by the City Council as a step toward providing employment for the jobless this winter.

Lake Freighter Aground in Fog Pounding Rocks

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 7. (AP)—Shrouded by fog the freighter Burlington, with a crew of twenty-three men aboard, tonight is aground on rocks in Lake Michigan a mile off Cudahy, Wis. Two Coast Guard life crews and the lightship Hyacinth stood by to render assistance.

Moderately heavy seas pound the Burlington and she is reported making water fast, but Coast Guards express little fear that lives will be lost.

In case adverse weather springs up and threatens to pound the Burlington to pieces there is adequate help at hand to prevent loss of life, Coast Guards said. At present there is little danger of the ship breaking up.

Allan Pinkerton, Detective Head, Dies in Hospital

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—Allan Pinkerton, head of the Pinkerton Detective Agency and grandson of the founder of the organization, died today in Presbyterian Hospital after an illness of two weeks.

The agency was founded by Allan Pinkerton in Chicago about seventy-five years ago and was carried on by his two sons, William and Robert, after his death. Allan Pinkerton, the grandson, became head of the agency in 1923, when his uncle William died.

Angeleno Hurt Near Barstow

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 7. (Exclusive)—Hurrying to Minneapolis, where his wife is reported near death, Sanford Beach, 61 years of age, of Los Angeles, was seriously injured early today near Barstow, when his automobile overturned. His brother, Timothy Beach, 72, is also near death at the County Hospital, where his right foot, badly mangled in the accident, was amputated.

Sanford Beach's children, Byron, Etta Mae and Ethel, also suffered slight injuries. Jesse Redman, a friend of the family, was also slightly hurt. The party left Los Angeles at 4:30 p.m. yesterday.

Scores Dead in Mexico Flood

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 7. (Exclusive)—Between sixty and seventy persons perished last night in the mining city of Pachuca, State of Hidalgo, due to an overflow of the River Avenidas, according to telegraphic dispatches received here this morning.

The river broke bounds after several hours of torrential rains, and soon was running four feet deep through the streets, washing away everything in its course.

FORD VISITS PRINCE

LONDON, Oct. 7. (AP)—The Prince of Wales received Henry Ford at St. James Palace today.

FOUR TO AID INQUIRY ON FIGHT GAME

Bixby to Choose Prominent Men for State Survey of Boxing Situation

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 7. (AP)—Allen Bixby of Pasadena, director of military and veterans affairs, told Gov. Young by long-distance telephone today he planned to get four prominent persons interested in athletics to help him investigate the boxing situation in California.

Bixby was expected to visit the Governor, but illness in his family prevented him coming north. The director told the Governor he planned to select two Southern and two Northern California persons to assist him in making a thorough investigation of the fight game. The investigation comes as a result of charges contained in the San Francisco grand jury's report of the Campbell-Baer match in the Bay City in which Campbell was killed.

The Governor said Bixby would select his co-investigators and submit the names to him for approval.

As to who might be picked to help Bixby, the Governor had no suggestion other than to say it would have to be some one whose interest was motivated solely by keeness for fair play in all sports.

Wet Weather Due in North

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7. (Exclusive)—The advance of a new area of low barometric pressure which will make its effect felt in Northern California is cited by the Weather Bureau tonight. An indication of it came today with .06 of an inch of rain at Eureka and a trace at Sacramento.

The forecast is cloudy and unsettled with rain in the mountains. There may be snow in the high levels as the report predicts a recession of temperature.

Large Cavern Found in North

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Oct. 7. (AP)—Prison authorities were notified today of the discovery by convict laborers of a large cavern on the Alturas road, thirty-three miles north of Redding.

Convict workmen constructing the road uncovered the entrance to a cave that apparently extends two or three miles.

The entrance was sealed and University of California officials were notified. They were asked to investigate the find.

Woman Flyer in Albuquerque

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) Oct. 7. (AP)—Laura Ingalls, St. Louis flyer trying to establish a new transcontinental record for women, landed here at 6:21 p.m. (mountain time) today.

She flew here from Amarillo, Tex., leaving there at 3:22 p.m. (central time.) Headwinds delayed her. She will spend the night here.

HOOVER EXTOLS FOUNDERS OF "AMERICAN SYSTEM"

King's Mountain Patriots Praised as Fathers of Nation Giving All Best Chance to Win Success

KING'S MOUNTAIN BATTLEFIELD (S. C.) Oct. 7. (AP)—In a mountain valley close beside the King's Mountain battleground, descendants of the small band of patriots who fought there in 1780 today heard President Hoover plead for the preservation of American institutions which had their birth in the Revolutionary War.

Citing the growth of foreign systems of government which he said destroy "the driving force of equality," the President said, "It is the first duty of those of us who believe in the American system to maintain a knowledge of and a pride in it, not particularly because we need fear those foreign systems but because we have need to sustain ours in purity and strength."

THOUSANDS ATTEND

Thousands of persons, forming a panorama up the hillside across from where Mr. Hoover spoke, stood in a bleaching sun to hear him. Huge microphones carried his voice across the hills.

Mr. Hoover warned that "Socialism or its violent brother, Bolshevism" would destroy the spirit of equality upon which this government is founded.

"In the American system," Mr. Hoover said, "through free and universal education, we train the runners, we strive to give them an equal start, our government is the umpire of its fairness. The winner is he who shows the most conscientious training, the greatest ability, the strongest character. Socialism or its violent brother, Bolshevism, would compel all the runners to end the race equally; it would hold the swiftest to the speed of the most backward. Anarchy would provide neither training nor umpire. Despotism or class government picks those who run and also those who win.

PLEADS FOR SYSTEM

"Whatever the merits or demerits of these other systems may be, they all mean the destruction of the driving force of equal opportunity and they mean the destruction of our Constitution."

Holding that he could not conceive of a wholesome social order or a sound economic system that does not have its roots in religious faith, the President said, "It is significant that some of these systems deny religion and seek to expel it."

"No blind materialism can for long engage the loyalties of mankind," he said. "Economic aspiration, though it marks strongly the American system, is not an end in itself, but is only one of those many instruments to accomplish the profound purposes of the American people, which are largely religious in origin. This country is supremely dedicated not to the pursuit of material riches, but to pursuit of a richer life for the individual . . .

"While we cannot permit any foreign person or agency to undermine our institutions yet we must look to our own conduct that we do not by our own failure to uphold and safeguard and true spirit of America weaken our own institutions and destroy the very forces which upbuild our national greatness."

Mr. Hoover added any practice of business which would dominate the country by its own selfish interests also is a destruction of equality of opportunity.

CROWDS GREET TRAIN

"Government in business, except in emergency," he said, is . . . "the incarnation of tyranny through bureaucracy."

Soon after the special train upon which the President and Mrs. Hoover came from Boston crossed the North Carolina State line, evidence was given of the welcome which he was to receive in the southern State which gave him its electoral vote in 1928.

Groups of people advised of the coming of the Chief Executive appeared at several points along the railway tracks and at Greensboro, the first stop in the State, hundreds

ARMY CAMP PLOT TOLD

Red Propaganda Called Futile

Congressional Investigators Learn Organizers Were Active in C.M.T.C.

Committee Will Come Here to Study Assertions of Communism in Films

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7. (AP)—Although Communist organizers worked in the citizens' military training camps in California this summer their seeds of propaganda fell largely upon barren ground, the Congressional Communist investigating committee was told today.

The committee will continue its hearings tomorrow in Los Angeles, where a number of angles of its inquiry await, including assertions made in Portland that motion pictures are being used for Communist propaganda.

LABOR LOST

Col. Frederick L. Dengler, the first witness today, gave the committee photographic copies of eight circulars and one newspaper clipping as proof Communist organizers had been active among soldiers and student officers and then testified the propaganda had been "wholly ineffective in military circles."

Three of the circulars were distributed by mail to trainees at citizens' military training camps and one at a National Guard encampment, Col. Dengler said, apparently with the aid of some one "within the camps or familiar with the camps."

BEHIND SKIRTS

The officer said women distributed most of the other circulars and expressed the opinion this probably was because "men would be handled rather roughly." He said circulars delivered by mail to the C.M.T.C. were inclosed in eight varieties of envelopes addressed in fifteen styles of handwriting.

The circulars about which Col. Dengler testified were distributed at the San Francisco Armory and Presidio, Monterey, San Luis Obispo and San Pedro. No organized effort had been made to make speeches to soldiers, he said.

John T. McFadden, assistant scout executive here, said his Boy Scouts had been given Communist circulars when they gathered at a railroad depot to welcome some of their comrades home from England. He had no copies of the circular, explaining the disgusted youths had destroyed them all.

BORING WITHIN

William Cohn, general manager of a steel plant at Pittsburg, Cal., told of the distribution of Communist circulars in his plant, presumably with the aid of some of the workmen. Asked about the effect he said no symptoms of general discontent had come to his attention.

Capt. Joseph Sturm, Reserve Army officer, corroborated Col. Dengler's testimony regarding distribution of circulars in the C.M.T. Camp at Del Monte among the 900 men there. He said no action had been taken

HONORS PAID R-101 DEAD

Thousands Unite on National Day of Mourning; Destroyer Conveys Remains to England

BOULOGNE-SUR-MER (France) Oct. 7. (AP)—The plain people of France paid to the victims of the R-101 disaster today a tribute that amply justified the warm words of gratitude which King George expressed to Premier Tardieu through the British Ambassador at Beauvais where France's great national day of mourning was centered in a religious memorial service.

Army, navy and aviation officials and citizens in all walks of life assembled to pay honor to the officers and men and passengers of the ill-fated airship.

Both at Beauvais and Boulogne vast crowds assembled. Officials estimated more than 100,000 persons attended the ceremonies in these two cities and 60,000 peasants added their tribute as the funeral train bearing the bodies later passed through Picardy, where the British troops fought to liberate France in the World War, on its way to this port.

Few state funerals ever have brought forth such general and spontaneous expressions of sympathy in this country. Where people could gain access to the coffins containing the charred remains, or to the carriages bearing them, this sympathetic outpouring took the form of decoration with simple autumn blossoms gathered from the fields made familiar to many throughout the world in song and story of the war.

Along the rail route from Beauvais to Boulogne and especially in towns where the funeral passed without stopping the crowds lined the tracks and platforms.

French aviation paid its tribute to the victims of the pioneering air navigation effort. There were eight squadrons of French planes in the air as the destroyers Tempest and Tribune filed solemnly out of the harbor into the turbulent channel on their melancholy homeward mission.

The train was met at Boulogne by local officials and representatives of the British government, together with officers of the army and navy flying corps. Detachments of infantry were at the railway station and the quay while soldiers were transferring the bodies from the train to the destroyers.

The strains of a funeral dirge were heard as the destroyers disappeared down the channel in the failing light of early evening.

The warships, arriving off Dover about midnight, will remain there at anchor until morning before putting the bodies ashore.

The close bond of sympathy which awaited the President's coming at the station.

TEXT OF ADDRESS

Following is the text of the President's address:

My Fellow Countrymen:

This is a place of inspiring memories. Here less than a thousand men, inspired by the urge of freedom, defeated a superior force intrenched in this strategic position. This small band of patriots turned back a dangerous invasion well designed to separate and dismember the united Colonies. It was a little army and a little battle, but it was of mighty portent. History has done scant justice to its significance, which rightly should place it beside Lexington and Bunker Hill, Trenton and Yorktown, as one of the crucial engagements in our long struggle for independence.

The Battle of Kings Mountain stands out in our national memory not only because of the valor of the men of the Carolinas, Georgia, Tennessee, Kentucky and Virginia, who trod here 150 years ago, and because of the brilliant leadership of Col. Campbell, but also because the devotion of those men revived the courage of the despondent Colonies and set a nation upon the road of final triumph in American independence.

RENEWED FAITH

No American can review the vast pageant of human progress so mightily contributed to by these men without renewed faith in humanity, new courage, and strengthened resolution.

My friends, I have lived among many peoples and have observed many governments. Each has its own institutions and its own ideals, its own spirit. Many of them I have learned to respect and to admire. It is from these contrasts and these experiences that I wish to speak today—to speak upon the institutions, the ideals, upon the spirit of America.

In the time since the Battle of Kings Mountain was fought our country has marched from those struggling Colonies on the Atlantic seaboard to the full sweep of the Pacific. It has grown from fewer than 3,000,000 people to more than 120,000,000. But far more inspiring than its growth of numbers has been the unfolding of a great experiment in human society. Within this land there have been builded new and powerful institutions designed of new ideas and new ideals in a new vision of human relations. Through them we have attained a wider diffusion of liberty and of happiness and of material things than humanity has ever known before. Our people live in a stronger security from enemies abroad and in greater comfort at home than has ever before been the fortune of a nation. We are filled with justifiable pride in the valor, the inventions, the contributions to art and literature, the moral influence of our people. We glow with satisfaction at the multitude of activities in the Nation, the State, the local community, which spread benefits and blessings amongst us. We may be proud of our vast economic development over these 150 years, which has secured to the common man greater returns for his effort and greater opportunity for his future than exist in any other place on the earth.

HORIZON ENLARGED

In the large sense we have maintained open the channels of opportunity, constantly refreshing the leadership of the nation by men of lowly beginnings. We have no class or caste or aristocracy whose privilege limits the hopes and opportunities of our people. Science and education have been spread until they are the universal tools of the common man. They have brought to him the touch of a thousand finer things of life. They have enlarged the horizon of our vision into the inspiring works of God.

This unparalleled rise of the American man and woman was not alone the result of riches in lands or forests or mines; it sprang from ideas and ideals, which liberated the mind and stimulated the exertion of a people. There were other parts of the world even more easily accessible to new invasion by man, whose natural resources were as great as those of the United States, yet their history over this 150 years presents no achievement parallel to the mighty march of the United States. But the deadening poverty of other lands was in the absence of the stirring ideas and ideals which have lightened the path of the whole American people. A score of nations have borrowed our philosophy from us, and they have tempered the course of history in yet a score of others. All have prospered under them.

UNIQUE SYSTEM

These ideas and these ideals were in the hearts and inspired the souls of the men who fought the Battle of Kings Mountain. They had spurred the migration of their fathers from the persecutions and restricted opportunities of Europe, had been sustained by their religious faith, had been developed in their conflict with the wilderness, and had become the spirit of the American people, demanding for man a larger mastership of his own destiny. Our forefathers formulated them through the Declaration and the Constitution into a new and practical political and social system unique in the world. Devoted generations have secured them to us.

It is never amiss for us to review these principles, that we uphold our faith in them, that we search our fidelity to them, that by stretch of our vision over the vast pageant of our accomplishment we should gain courage to meet the difficulties of the day.

Our political system was a revolt from dictatorship, whether by individuals or classes. It was founded upon the conception that freedom was inalienable and that liberty and freedom should rest upon law, and that law should spring from the expressed wisdom of the representatives of the majority of the people themselves. This self-government was not in itself a new human ideal, but the Constitution which provided its framework, with the checks and balances which gave it stability, was of marvelous genius. Yet of vastly more importance than even the machinery of government was the inspired charter of the rights of men which it guaranteed. Under them we hold that all men are created equal, that they are equal before the law, and that they should be safeguarded in liberty and, as we express it latterly, in equality of opportunity to every individual that he may achieve for himself and for the community the best to which his character, his ability and his ambition entitle him.

ORIGINS TRACED

No student of American history can fail to realize that these principals and ideals grew largely out of the religious origins and spiritual aspirations of our people. From them spring at once the demand for free and universal education, that the door of opportunity and the ladder to leadership should be free for every new generation, to every boy and girl. It is these human rights and the success of government which has maintained them that have stimulated the initiative and effort in each individual, the sum of which has been the gigantic achievement of the nation. They are the precious heritage of America, far more important, far more valuable, than all the riches in land and mines and factories that we possess. Never had these principles and ideals been assembled elsewhere and combined into government. This is the American system.

We have lived and breathed it. We have seldom tried even to name it. Perhaps we might well abandon efforts to define it—for things of the spirit can be little defined. Some have called it liberalism, but that term has become corrupted by political use. Some have called it individualism, but it is not an individualism which permits men to override the equal opportunity of others. By its enemies it has been called capitalism, and yet under its ideals capital is but an instrument, not a master. Some have called it democracy, yet democracy exists elsewhere under social ideals which do not embrace equality of opportunity.

EXPRESSION OF SPIRIT

Ours is a system unique with America—an expression of the spirit and environment of our people—it is just American.

Parallel with us, other philosophies of society and government have continued or developed and new ones have come into the world, born of the spirit of other peoples and other environments. It is a function of freedom that we should search their claims with open mind, but it is a function of common sense that we should reject them the moment they fail in the test. From experiences in many lands I have sometimes compared some of these systems to a race. In the American system, through free and universal education, we train the runners, we strive to give them an equal start, our government is the umpire of its fairness. The winner is he who shows the most conscientious training, the greatest ability, the strongest character. Socialism or its violent brother, Bolshevism, would compel all the runners to end the race equally; it would hold the swiftest to the speed of the most backward. Anarchy would provide neither training nor umpire. Despotism or class government picks those who run and also those who win.

Whatever the merits or demerits of these other systems may be, they all mean the destruction of the driving force of equal opportunity, and they mean the destruction of our Constitution, for our political framework would serve none of them and many of its fundamental provisions are the negation of them. They mean the abandonment of the nation's spiritual heritage.

RELIGION UPHELD

It is significant that some of these systems deny religion and seek to expel it. I can not conceive of a wholesome social order or a sound economic system that does not have its roots in religious faith. No blind materialism can for long engage the loyalties of mankind. Economic aspiration, though it strongly marks the American system, is not an end in itself, but is only one of many instruments to accomplish the profound purposes of the American people, which are largely religious in origin. This country is supremely dedicated, not to the pursuit of material riches, but to a pursuit of richer life for the individual.

It would be foolish for me to stand here and say that our political and social system works perfectly. It does not. The human race is not perfect yet. There are disheartening occurrences every hour of the day. There are always malevolent or selfish forces at work which, unchecked, would destroy the very basis of our American life. These forces of destruction vary from generation to generation; and if we would hand on our great inheritance to our children, we must successfully contend with them.

While we cannot permit any foreign person or agency to undermine our institutions, yet we must look to our own conduct that we do not by our own failure to uphold and safeguard the true spirit of America weaken our own institutions and destroy the very forces which upbuild our national greatness. It is in our own house that our real dangers lie, and it is there that we have need to summon our highest wisdom and our highest sense of public service.

AIM EXPRESSED

We must keep corruptive influence from the nation and its ideals as we would keep them from our homes. Crime and disobedience of law are the very incarnation of destruction to a system whose basis is law. Both pacifism and militarism court danger from abroad, the one by promoting weakness, the other by promoting arrogance. Failure of many of our citizens to express their opinions at the ballot box is at once their abandonment of the whole basis of self-government. Manipulation of the ballot is a denial of government by the people. Corruption or even failure of moral preceptions in public office defiles the whole spirit of America. Mere destructive criticism destroys leadership and substitutes weaklings.

Any practice of business which would dominate the country by its own selfish interests is a destruction of equality of opportunity. Government in business, except in emergency, is also a destruction of equal opportunity and the incarnation of tyranny through bureaucracy. Tendencies of communities and States to shirk their own responsibilities or to unload them upon the Federal government, or of the Federal government to encroach upon the responsibilities of the States, are destructive of our whole pattern of self-government. But these evils cannot shatter our ideals or subvert our institutions if we hold the faith. The knowledge of danger is a large part of its conquest.

It is the first duty of those of us who believe in the American system to maintain a knowledge of and a pride in it, not particularly because we need fear those foreign systems, but because we have need to sustain ours in purity and in strength.

The test of our system of government and of our social principles and ideals as compared to others may in part be interpreted by the practical results of the 150 years of growth that have brought to us the richness of life which spreads through this great nation. I can give you some measurement both of our standards and of our social progress. In proportion to our population, we have one-fourth more of our children in grade schools than the most advanced other country in Europe, and for every thousand of our young people we have six and one-half times as many in colleges and universities. And I may add that today we have more of our youth in institutions of higher learning than all the rest of the 1,500,000,000 people of the world put together.

Compared with even the most advanced other country in Europe, we shall find an incomparably greater diffusion of material well-being. We have twice the number of homes owned among every thousand people that they have; we consume four times as much electricity and we have seven times as many automobiles; for each thousand people we have more than four times as many telephones and radio sets; our use of food and clothing is far greater; we have proportionately only one-twentieth as many people in the poorhouse or upon public charity.

DOORS KEPT OPEN

There is a profound proof, moreover, that the doors of opportunity have indeed been kept open. The posts of leadership in our country, both in government and in other activities, are held by men who have risen to command. A canvass of the leading administrative officials of our Federal government, of our industries, and of our professions, shows that 90 per cent of them started life with no financial inheritance. Despite the misrepresentations of demagoguery, there are today more chances for young men to rise, and for young women too, than there were thirty years ago.

We shall not have full equality of opportunity until we have attained that ultimate goal of every right-thinking citizen—the abolition of poverty of mind and home. Happily for us we have gone further than others on this road and we make new gains every decade.

But these tangible things which we can reduce to statistics and comparisons are but a part of America. The great intangibles of the spirit of a people are immeasurable—our sense of freedom, of liberty, of security, our confidence of future progress, our traditions of past glory and sacrifice, the example of our heroes, the spiritual enrichment of our people — these are the true glories of America.

The world about us is tormented with the spiritual and economic struggles that attend changing ideals and systems. Old faiths are being shaken. But we must follow our own destiny. Our institutions are a growth. They come out of our history as a people. Our ideals are a binding spiritual heritage. We cannot abandon them without chaos. We can follow them with confidence.

Our problems are the problems of growth. They are not the problems of decay. They are less difficult than those which confronted generations before us. The forces of righteousness and wisdom work as powerfully in our generation as in theirs. The flame of freedom burns as brightly in every American heart. There need be no fear for the future of a republic that seeks inspiration from the spirit of the men who fought at the Battle of Kings Mountain.

PLEA OF STRIKER HEARD PATIENTLY BY HOOVER

DANVILLE (Va.) Oct. 7. (AP)—The President of the United States stood bareheaded tonight on the rear platform of his special train and listened patiently as a striking textile worker pleaded the cause of the laboring man.

Only once during the lengthy dissertation in which the humbly clad striker, wearing no tie, spoke of the mill workers' intention of remaining out until they won their strike in two mills here, did the President interrupt.

"The way to win all those things," he said, "is to keep the peace and not through violence."

The striker told Mr. Hoover there had been no violence in their strike and none was intended, that they praised the President's address yesterday in Boston before the American Federation of Labor, saying he knew from it that Mr. Hoover had the "right sentiments" and understood the problem of the working man.

As the train moved and ended the unexpected discourse, Mr. Hoover waved the speaker a friendly good-by.

HOOVER TALKS POLITICS IN SOUTHERN TOWNS

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S SPECIAL TRAIN, EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—President Hoover, for the first time since he left the capital on his swing over the East and South talked a little politics as he sped homeward tonight across North Carolina, handshaking and speaking from the rear platform.

At Salisbury, to a man in the crowd who yelled that "We are for Hoover 100 per cent," the President replied: "Now that you have the habit, keep at it."

At one small town after another after his departure from Kings Mountain, the special train stopped momentarily and the Chief Executive abandoned his practice of not speaking by saying a few words at each stop.

To the people of Charlotte, where the only prearranged halt had been planned, he thanked the people for the overwhelming welcome he had received and praised the progress of the State.

At Annapolis, where babies were held up for him to shake hands with and a band played, he again said a few words.

because they had not cared "to give the Communist party a lot of free advertising," and added the men in the camp were "so patriotic the propaganda did not affect them."

The committee recalled William Simons, Communist organizer, and asked him whether in a speech last spring in Oakland he had told a meeting of unemployed, "Don't be alarmed at this unemployment situation," because it was the result of the plan of the soviet to develop discontent in the United States, "simply fertilizing the fields to sow seeds of Communism in."

"I'll tell you what I said—" Simons began.

NO SPEECH WANTED

"We don't want to know what you said," interrupted Representative Carl G. Bachman of West Virginia. "I want you to tell me whether you said this," indicating a long excerpt from the Oakland speech he had just read.

"You cant' get a yes or no answer to that," Simons argued. "I'll tell you what I said."

Representative John E. Nelson of Maine interrupted and persuaded the witness to take the speech a sentence at a time. This Simons did, saying in between he never had blamed unemployment on Russia, "because it is the fault of the boss class, the system here." He ended by saying the excerpt was "a fabrication and absolutely false."

Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., of New York, chairman of the committee, was forced to warn him against making speeches, which brought from Simons the retort, "you don't want to hear what we have to say."

Chairman Fish, announcing the adjournment, said he will take affidavits from witnesses who were unable to attend the hearing here and said he had asked Will Hays, director of the motion-picture producers, to appear before the committee in Los Angeles and discuss assertions of propaganda in the films.

SOVIET MISSIONARIES HELD FOR INQUIRY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—Twenty students from soviet Russia, two of them women, were removed from the liner Majestic today and taken to Ellis Island on complaint of fellow-passengers that they had expressed ill will toward the United States.

Immigration officers who boarded the Majestic at Quarantine were told by several American engineers traveling with the soviet students in second-class quarters the students had directed remarks against the government during the voyage and boasted revolutions in China, India and other countries were inspired by the soviet government.

The students were detained for a hearing before a board of special inquiry. They planned to study American commercial and industrial life.

Dry Leader Hails Rum Reduction

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (Exclusive)—The speculative estimate of the prohibition bureau on the possible production of illegal liquor last year "indicates a tremendous trend toward sobriety under extremely adverse conditions," it was declared today by O. G. Christgau, assistant general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League.

This estimate by enforcement officials was $76,310,000 gallons.

Despite any contrary claims by the wets, Christgau said, "sober students of the facts" will concede a great variation between the "possible" and "probable" consumption of liquors in any given period.

ROMOLA RECEIVER PLANS DEVELOPMENT

PHOENIX, Oct. 7. (AP)—Leo V. Youngworth of Los Angeles, receiver for Romola, Inc., told stockholders here today the company is solvent and presented a plan for co-operative development of the project. The plan is dependent on approval of contract holders, creditors and stockholders.

EX-WARDEN SMITH SUED FOR DIVORCE

Friend W. Richardson's Daughter Files Complaint Charging Desertion

OAKLAND, Oct. 7. (AP)—Suit for divorce was filed here today against Frank J. Smith, former warden of San Quentin Prison, by Ruth Richardson Smith, daughter of former Gov. Richardson.

The complaint charges desertion. Mrs. Smith for several months has lived with her father at the Richardson family home at Berkeley. Smith was an unsuccessful candidate for State Treasurer at the last primaries.

They were married in 1927. There are no children.

Gunman Found Slain in Auto

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—Herbert Irving Roberts, gunman and racketeer, was found dead today in the back seat of an abandoned automobile in a residential section of the Bronx. There was one bullet wound in the temple.

Roberts, according to police records, is known as a gunman and confidence man to the police of every large city in the country. His criminal career had led him through prisons from California as far east as Detroit since 1912.

Senator Jones Aids Arrest of Bank Robbers

CHELAN (Wash.) Oct. 7. (AP)—Senator Wesley L. Jones, who aided in make life a little more unpleasant for liquor-law violators by his "five and ten" bill, unwittingly brought about the capture of another type of law breaker today when his automobile effectively blocked the escape of two bank robbers on a one-way road at Wapto Lake near here.

Henry Rule, 21 years of age, of Campsin, Alta., was shot in the lung when he and his companion, Audrey Robins, 17, Columbia, S. C., raced up a woody gulch after leaving their stalled machine, trying to outrun a posse of two, Bob Kercheman and Paul Yunger, and make away with $1000 in currency scooped up in the Miners and Merchants Bank here an hour earlier. Senator Jones took no part in the actual capture but watched the flight of the robbers and their subsequent surrender.

ommissioner Alcock Sets Whole Force to Work

CHICAGO, Oct. 7. (AP)—Mayor illiam Hale Thompson tossed down e gauntlet to his police chiefs to- y to find the men who robbed his fe of $17,000 worth of jewelry and nt her to bed, prostrated by the ock. John H. Alcock, acting Com- ssioner of Police, accepted the re- nsibility with few words, "the hole department is working to ap- ehend the robbers."

Between the lines that told of the idnight hold-up in front of the ompson's Sheridan Road apart- nt the public read two ques- ns: "Who?" and "Why?"—the hy?" inspired by a theory that derworld foes of the Alcock ad- nistration took the sensational ethod of robbing the Mayor's wife jeopardize the commissioner's

"I have my own ideas about that," cock said. "The matter will be lly investigated."

Another theory as to the motives hind the robbery is that Mrs. ompson was the victim by a ere chance.

The three men who tore the welry from Mrs. Thompson and gged and robbed her policeman- auffeur said nothing to indicate y knew Mrs. Thompson's iden- y. They did, however, express rprise at finding a star on the auffeur, Peter O'Malley.

This was taken by Chief of De- tives John Norton as proof that e men did not know who their tim was.

"If they had known it was Mrs. ompson," Norton argued, "they uld have known her chauffeur s a policeman. They were just ateurs who happened to bump $17,000 in jewelry."

The theory persists, however, the ld-up was planned by an organ- d gang to embarrass Acting Com- ssioner Alcock, who has directed drive on racketeers and hood-

It is recalled that last week the derworld was reported gathering $1,000,000 fund to combat the lice and especially to bring about cock's removal.

Alcock, who was swept into the ice of commissioner in the storm t followed the slaying of Jake ingle, was made personally re- nsible for solution of the Thomp- n robbery.

"It's up to Alcock," said the yor in a brief statement to the ss. "We'll see if he can make od."

FIRST RAIL LINE MAY BE ABANDONED

Twenty-four-Mile Road in Pennsylvania Constructed in 1828 Now Useless

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—Abandonment of the first stretch of railroad constructed in the United States is being contemplated by the Delaware and Hudson Railroad Corporation.

The line, running from Racket Brook to Honesdale Junction in Pennsylvania, is twenty-four miles long and was constructed between 1828 and 1829. Its age is greater than that of the railroad locomotive, for when first laid its rails served with gravity as power to convey anthracite coal from Carbondale mines to the Delaware and Hudson Canal.

The Interstate Commerce Commission was informed today the branch line for many years has been of little use to the present Delaware and Hudson system.

MEXICAN PICKNICKERS DROWN IN LAKE

The party boarded a launch for the trip across the lake. When about midway to the destination a storm came up and the boat foundered. Ten occupants were drowned and five are missing.

COLORADO SUIT SPEED SOUGHT

Mitchell to Ask Advanced Date for Hearing

Decision Deemed Probable by December 1

Wilbur Plans to Request Additional Funds

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (Exclusive)—It was stated unofficially at the Department of Justice today that Atty.-Gen. Mitchell will ask the Supreme Court to expedite action on the suit filed by Arizona yesterday against the Boulder Dam project and that it is expected this request will result in the court making the case "special," or in other words putting it ahead of other and less important suits on its docket.

If the case is thus advanced it is believed a final decision will be forthcoming by December 1, next. Meanwhile, the November election will have been held in Arizona and the belief persists in certain quarters here that after the election Arizona will lose interest and may even ask that the suit be withdrawn on the plea that it has not the funds to prosecute the litigation to its conclusion.

MAY ASK SUPPORT

Defense of the Colorado River development against the attack on its constitutionality will fall on the Solicitor-General, who handles all cases before the Supreme Court involving the Federal government. However, it is expected that much of the legal work to sustain the government's position will be contributed by Solicitor E. C. Finney of the Interior Department, and his aides, who have lived with the project and the opposition to it through all the years leading up to the enactment of the Swing-Johnson bill, and beyond that through the drafting of the power and water contracts with Los Angeles and Southern California.

It is said in government legal circles that the Water and Power Department of Los Angeles, the Metropolitan Water District and the Southern California Edison Company, who are the principal contractees for water and power from the project, may be called upon to file briefs backing up the government's case, although this will be entirely up to the Solicitor-General, who may or may not request such support.

MORE FUNDS TO BE ASKED

If the government wins out in the case, as officials confidently expect, it is understood the intention of the Interior Department is to ask Congress next winter for an additional appropriation of $25,000,000 to finance work at Black Canyon over the 1931-1932 fiscal period. The initial appropriation granted at the last session was $10,660,000, which was deemed sufficient to carry the project up to July 1, next.

BALLOT SUIT ARGUED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7. (AP)—Petition of R. M. De Wood of Chico for authority to place his name on the November ballot as a candidate for Butte County Supervisor was argued before the Supreme Court today and the court took the case under advisement.

OCEAN POWER RAISES DOUBT

Claude System Declared to Be Not Feasible

Experiment Only Interesting, Scientists Say

Principle Sound But Long Held Valueless

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—Government scientists today described the feat of Prof. Georges Claude, French engineer, in harnessing the water of the ocean to generate power as "scientifically interesting but far from warranting the building of similar hydroelectric plants along the Atlantic seaboard."

Power experts at the Bureau of Standards said scientists have long recognized that utilizing the thermal differences in water to generate steam and run a turbine is a sound scientific principle but they doubt whether such a method of power production ever will be commercially valuable.

The cost of extracting power by the Claude system, they said, makes the project economically unfeasible.

CITY COUNCILMEN GO ON STRIKE

Illinois Legislators Assert They'll Remain Out Until Police Chief's Fired

PITTSFIELD (Ill.) Oct. 7. (AP)—The Pittsfield City Council went on a strike today.

The Councilmen do not ask for more money or shorter hours. What they do want is the discharge of Police Chief Jeff Davis. Until he is dismissed, they informed Mayor Vertrees, not one bill will be passed.

No specific charges have been made against Davis, the Councilmen merely saying he is "not the man for the job."

LOST MAN RETURNS FROM MOUNTAIN TRIP

ROAD CONGRESS TALKS FINANCE

Funds for Highways Theme of International Meet

Subsidies and Loans to States Proposed

Sixty Nations Represented at Washington Session

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—Where to get the money with which to build roads was a question propounded and answered in varying phrases and languages today by delegates to the sixth International Road Congress.

In the end they tentatively approved proposals for national governments to grant loans and subsidies to their States, and for the use of general tax revenues and bond issues to cover the expenses of building and maintaining highways.

Financing was the first general question to receive the attention of the road men from sixty countries.

A group of delegates from the Latin-American republics attended a special meeting tonight to discuss means of hastening progress on the proposed Pan-American highway to join the countries of North and South America.

"FOR CALM SEAS OR ROUGH"

This slogan adopted when Seaboard was organized is now more than a phrase. The thought expressed is interwoven into every fibre of the institution. That this Bank has been built for stormy business weather as well as calm is evidenced by the figures shown in the report of our President, George L. Browning, to stockholders October first.

This report shows, in the face of a national depression, a gain of 80.1% in the net earnings of the Bank for the first three quarters of 1930 over the same period of 1929. This report also shows that $97,421,492.00 in loans have been made since the beginning of the Bank with losses of only $2331.83 resulting from such loans. This is believed to be an unparalleled record for small losses on such a large turnover of loans.

Seaboard's splendid growth is accounted for by the continuous efforts of the Bank's executive officers to maintain close personal contact with Seaboard's customers and by their earnest endeavor to give understanding personal service. The unusual record of conservative operations is due to the ever alert personal attention to the policies of the Bank given by the outstanding business executives who compose the Board of Directors of Seaboard. MAGISTRATES ALL FACE QUIZ

None Immune in New York Graft Inquiry

They Will Be Questioned in Open Court

Bank Accounts and Finance Records Subpoenaed

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (Exclusive) Charges of corruption have been made to the Appellate division inquiry into the magistrates' courts against "almost every magistrate in Manhattan and the Bronx," it was announced today, and as a result all of them will be called before Samuel Seabury, the referee, and questioned in open court.

Some of the complaints are anonymous and some are signed and backed by evidence, it is announced. At least one of them charges that three oil companies list magistrates among their backers.

The complaints will be investigated and the magistrates—those not mentioned as well as those whose conduct is complained of—will be examined by the referee, without immunity.

The bank accounts and the financial records of all the magistrates have been subpoenaed. Two accountants today were checking the transcripts which already have come to hand against the pay checks the magistrates received, which have been obtained from the Controller's office.

The office-holders, it became known, will be asked by the investigators to submit the contents of their safe-deposit boxes to scrutiny, and in case they refuse to do so, court orders probably will be sought to compel them to comply.

At the same time it became known that Isidor J. Kresel, chief counsel in the inquiry, is making an attempt to learn on whose recommendation the various magistrates were appointed and their backers, Tammany district leaders and others are to be examined in secret session before him.

Twenty-six magistrates are involved. Although not all the magistrates whose papers are to be inspected are suspected of office buying, it was explained that the subpoenas were sent out to throw some light on the system used in making appointments to the bench in the minor courts.

WITCHCRAFT CHARGES COME HOME TO ROOST

JANESVILLE (Wis.) Oct. 7. (AP)—Relatives and friends looked askance today at Henry Dorn of Leyden Township.

Apples on the farm of Herman Prey, his brother-in-law, rotted, the chickens suddenly stopped laying and the cows all went dry at the same time. Witchcraft, whispered Dorn's kindred, and they called in Herman O. Englehardt of Rockford, Ill., a spiritualist. He said Dorn had "read black books and worked evil." Dorn, shunned by neighbors and relatives, fled to the home of a friend.

The State Board of Medical Examiners was interested in Dorn's story that it was during a "treatment" he received from the spiritualist the sorcery charges were made.

Walter Drew, an investigator for the Wisconsin Medical Association and an official of the State Board of Medical Examiners, tomorrow will conduct a John Doe hearing to determine if Englehardt practiced medicine without a license.

EMPIRE PARLEY WELDED CLOSER

Premiers Unite in Attack on Economic Evils

Tide of Nationalism Ebbs Before Common Foe

Committee Struggling With Political Problems

LONDON, Oct. 7. (AP)—The rising tide of nationalism that beat against the shores of England as the Dominion premiers convened for the imperial conference has been checked, temporarily at least, while the delegates grapple with the economic problems common to all units of the empire.

A plenary session will begin tomorrow with J. H. Thomas, speaking for the home government, surveying Britain's economic position. Each Dominion spokesman will give a similar outline, telling of his country's needs in relation to Britain and the world at large. These declarations are expected to take two days and upon them will be based the further economic considerations of the gatherin gof premiers.

Meanwhile, in the "Moses Room" of the House of Lords, gathered around a horseshoe table over which hangs a large painting of Moses, the lawgiver, there sits an important conference committee under Lord Chancellor Sankey, unraveling complicated empire political problems.

Its first problem today was the proposed empire tribunal to settle legal disputes among the dominions. The need for such a court arises from the fact all empire units except the Irish Free State have signed the option clause of The Hague court, with the reservation interimperial disputes are to be settled within the empire. The Free State opinion is that even the decision of an empire tribunal would be subject to international review at The Hague.

The committee also began a study of empire nationality. The question is whether British Empire nationality is to be broken into seven distinct nationalities — Canadian, Australian, South African and the like—or whether a formula for dual citizenship within the British commonwealth will be found. The highly intricate question of women's nationality also was discussed.

CONTEMPT FOR TARIFF EXPRESSED

MacDonald Declares it Worthless as Cure for Economic Troubles

LLANDUDNO (Wales) Oct. 7. (AP) Contempt for tariff protection as a way out of trade depression was expressed by Prime Minister MacDonald in an address to delegates of the Labor party conference here this morning.

"We cannot cure the ills of the new generation by going back to the quack remedies of two generations before," he stated.

Alluding to the tariff truce measures signed by Great Britain at Geneva, he remarked, "we have signed the truce because we believe in its doctrine and because we are asking other industrial nations of the world to come to an agreement about tariffs.

"The truce has been signed only to allow negotiations to be begun. I have been sitting in a committee and I have been amazed at how easy it would be to get back millions of pounds without putting a brass farthing of protection on any commodity that comes in."

LABORITES WIN RADICALS' HELP

Move Comes as Surprise to Political Circles

Extremist Had Been Severe Critic of Government

LLANDUDNO (Wales) Oct. 7. (AP) The Labor government headed by Premier Ramsay MacDonald presented a more strongly consolidated front to its enemies tonight as the result of developments in today's proceedings of the Labor party conference. James Maxton, extreme Left Wing leader and critic of the MacDonald administration, created a surprise when he informed the Premier that if he goes to the country on the unemployment issue he will have the whole Socialist-Labor strength solidly behind him.

It had been popularly supposed Maxton, frequently a severe critic of the MacDonald administration, had come here to further express his disapproval of Labor Cabinet policies. Instead, much to the surprise of all, Maxton remained, not to praise, but to assure the Laborites of his sympathy with their attempts toward amelioration of business and employment conditions.

CHAMBERTIN held NAPOLEON when Josephine couldn't

To the flighty lady he wooed so ardently the Emperor of the French became fickle all too soon and divorced her. Yet, Bonaparte never tired of the fine old Chambertin of Burgundy.

For him and for thousands of others Chambertin had its never-tiresome personality, its matchless bouquet. Without these, Chambertin would have been merely another wine.

Similarly, it's a matchless bouquet plus a subtle, zestful flavor all its own which so vividly distinguishes Busch Extra Dry from the 1200 other brands of ginger ale in America. This flavorful bouquet resulted from mating the essence of a little shrub flowering in the tropics to a new and finer effervescing quality. Anheuser-Busch experimented for years to achieve this distinction for Busch Extra Dry. So, its method is, of course, a secret carefully kept from those 1200 other ginger ales.

You'll detect the delightful difference with your first sip of Busch Extra Dry. You'll sense what ginger ales always have needed—spirit, breed and a fullness of flavor. Long after you've forgotten the taste of plebeian ginger ales you'll continue to delight in the never tiresome personality of Busch Extra Dry—the one of 1200. Then try to be satisfied with any other!

The swivel feature of the eight propellers is another important safety factor. The great ship can be more easily maneuvered in adverse winds.

The Akron-ZRS-4 can be kept in the air by use of dynamic lift, it is calculated, which results from flying at a slight angle of pitch to compensate for an extreme case of losing more lifting power through large ruptures in gas cells than can be compensated by jettisoning ballast.

The possibility of a gasoline fire is considered to be no greater than in an automobile, but fireproofing precautions will be taken. The engine rooms will have reproof walls, the entire ship will be ventilated and electrical connections will be gas-tight.

The whole metal framework will be banded together as a Faraday cage, rapidly dissipating a lightning charge.

Construction started a year ago and it is to be completed by next summer. The dirigible will be 785 feet long with a diameter of 133 feet. It will have eight engines and a volume of 6,500,000 cubic feet.

NEW TYPE FOSSILS FOUND

Roy Chapman Andrews Returns to Peiping With Record Bag of Animal Remains

PEIPING (China) Oct. 7. (AP)—Bringing a record bag of prehistoric fossils the Central Asiatic Expedition, led by Dr. Roy Chapman Andrews, the American anthropologist, returned here today after five months of intensive work in the Gobi Desert.

In the opinion of Walter C. Granger, chief palenotologist, who directed operations in this field, this year's collection is the largest and scientifically most important made by the expedition since its first explorations in 1922.

Fossils representing about seventy-five different species, several of them new to science, have been found and are expected to throw much additional light upon the evolution and dispersal of animal life millions of years ago. No human remains thus far have been discovered, but Dr. Andrews does not consider that this rules out the possibility that forerunners of the Peking man yet may be found in the Gobi region.

"We still think," said Dr. Andrews, "that if we are allowed to continue our investigations we shall find traces of primitive man. But this can be done only by thorough exploration."

The party found skulls and jaws of a chalicotheres, belonging to the same group as the horse, rhinoceros and tapir, but much more primitive than the type previously found in Europe and America. This was a hoofed animal in every way, but with a great claw instead of a flattened hoof.

the misfortune so clearly revealed between France and Britain found its expression at the conclusion of the Beauvais ceremonies, when British Ambassador Tyrrell, acting upon orders of King George, handed a letter to Premier Tardieu, in which he said he was instructed by his sovereign to express the profound gratitude of the King for the "precious aid of the French government and the local authorities in connection with the terrible catastrophe."

The testimonial continued that Premier Tardieu, by his presence and by presence of detachments of the French army, navy and air force, had given evidence of the links of friendship and bonds of sympathy which "unite our two countries." The message continued that France, by her decision to proclaim a day of national mourning, had manifested the sorrow which all French people feel and that the King wished to send to all a warm expression of thanks and appreciation.

BODIES TRANSFERRED AS WARSHIP GROUNDS

DOVER (Eng.) Oct. 7. (AP)—The British destroyer Tempest tonight brought back to England the bodies of forty-seven of Britain's airmen who perished in the wreck of the dirigible R-101 Sunday morning at Beauvais, France.

The destroyer Tribune, her sister ship, ran aground outside Boulogne Harbor, across the channel, and the Tempest had to return to take off the coffins she was carrying.

Rough seas were running in the channel as the two warships steamed out from Boulogne breakwater. The coffins at the final ceremony on French soil had been divided between the two destroyers.

BRITISH PREPARE FOR INITIAL INQUIRY

LONDON, Oct. 7. (AP)—The government today took its first step toward a public investigation into the causes of the R-101 disaster and its toll of death by ordering a Coroner's inquiry to open Friday, conducted by Ingleby Oddie, the Westminster Coroner.

Beginning of the inquest will follow closely on England's official funeral memorial to the dirigible's dead at St. Paul's Cathedral, for which preparations went forward today. The principal development in the memorial plans was announcement that the Prince of Wales will represent King George at the commemorative gathering. Other members of the royal family are expected either to attend in person or to be represented.

CHARGES HURLED BY BEDFORD PAPER

BEDFORD (Eng.) Oct. 7. (AP)—With the caption, "Indictment," an editorial appearing in a local newspaper, the Bedford Record, today asserted that the disaster to the R-101, which cost the lives of so many residents of this region, need not and ought not to have happened.

The paper declared the airship was sent on her long hazardous flight before having been properly tested, with one engine out of order, just after she had shown a tendency to dip at the nose and with weather conditions unfavorable to the flight.

"Our brave men were sacrificed to improvidence if not even to improvisation," concludes the article. "Who did it?"

ECKENER TO ATTEND SERVICES IN LONDON

FREDRICHSHAFEN (Germany) Oct. 7. (AP)—Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, announced today he will go to England Friday to take part in the funeral ceremonies for the victims of the R-101 disaster.

Cleveland Wife Says Mate Had Victim's Clothing

CHICAGO, Oct. 7. (Exclusive)—Chicago and Cleveland police tonight instituted a search for George W. E. Perry, self-described ne'er-do-well son of a wealthy Pasadena (Cal.) family who is wanted for questioning in connection with the death of a woman believed to be Mrs. Cora Belle Hackett, whose body was found last Wednesday along a swamp road at the edge of the Lac De Flambeau reservation of the Chippewa tribe in Vilas county, Wisconsin.

Co-operating in the investigation is Mrs. Kathryn Gebhart Perry, legal wife of the fugitive, whom he had married in Chicago January 3, last, and who says she supported him until, her patience being exhausted, in June, she banished him from her Cleveland home.

MARRIED TO PERRY

An examination conducted at Milwaukee established almost to a certainty that the woman was Mrs. Cora Belle Hackett, twice widowed Chicago business woman who was married to Perry here last June and has not been heard from since she departed for the Wisconsin woods on her honeymoon.

How Perry met Mrs. Hackett was described by the missing woman's friend, Mrs. W. H. Rogers, whose husband started the investigation resulting in the discovery that Perry had another wife.

Early in June, Mrs. Rogers said, Mrs. Hackett noted a newspaper advertisement asking for an elderly woman companion on a trip to California. The advertisement instructed respondents to call at the Y.M.C.A. Hotel.

ANSWERS AD

Going to the hotel Mrs. Hackett was surprised to meet instead of the woman she expected, a suave, neatly dressed man of 39 years, who identified himself as Perry. Perry introduced himself as the son of a wealthy man who was about to come into a $300,000 inheritance from two maiden aunts in Pasadena, providing he married a respectable woman, abandoned his previous habits and entered business.

He proposed that Mrs. Hackett marry him, journey with him to Pasadena in her car, and there settle down to enjoy the bequest of the aunts. Mrs. Hackett consented and the couple were married on June 13 by Judge Pomeroy in the same courtroom where, as it developed later, Perry had married Kathryn Gebhart of Cleveland six months before.

Perry and Mrs. Hackett left the city for Vilas county on June 18. Nothing has been heard of her since. Meanwhile in mid-August Mrs. Rogers received a letter from Mrs. Perry in Cleveland saying that Perry had visited her there traveling in an automobile and having in his possession the clothing of a woman whom he described to her as his "Aunt Cora."

Aunt Cora, it developed, was Mrs. Hackett, over whose fate both Mrs. Rogers and the Cleveland wife are now concerned.

AIR LINE SUED FOR LANDING

Passenger asks $50,000 For Missing Appointment Due to Poor Plane

CHICAGO, Oct. 7. (AP)—Elmer W. Arch, an attorney, has sued Universal Air Lines for $50,000 damages, charging a forced landing was a breach of contract.

The plane, in which Arch was being flown from Louisville, Ky., was forced down at Springfield, Ill. The same plane two days later crashed and three persons were killed.

Arch maintains the forced landing caused him to miss an important business engagement.

Former State Official Fined

OKLOHOMA CITY, Oct. 7. (AP)—W. Oscar Gordon, former Assistant State Attorney-General, was sentenced to twelve months in the County Jail and fined $1000 by Federal Judge Vaught today on his plea of guilty of extortion.

Gordon was implicated during the Pottawatomie county liquor conspiracy trial here last winter by the testimony of Homer Knappenberger, former Mayor of Earlsboro, who confessed to protecting bootleggers during the boom oil days. Knappenberger said Gordon extorted money from him.

LOSS ON HORSES HAS BRIGHT SIDE

It Can Be Deducted When Making Tax Return

Bad Bets on Races Must Be Proved, However

Gambler Must Also Show Wager Was Legal

CHICAGO, Oct. 7. (AP)—There is a way, explained Robert E. Neely, chief deputy collector of internal revenue, today, to deduct from income taxes one's losses on horse races.

"Persons who lose money by betting on the wrong horses may, under certain conditions, deduct those losses from their net income in figuring the tax which becomes payable next March," he said.

The taxpayer must prove he made the bet, prove he had a legal right to make it, and prove the horse lost.

Lost bets on other gambles—dice and cards, among others—are not deductable.

Bets that are won are subject to tax; and the government in such cases does not require proof of profit.

"In the case of bets won," Neely said, "Uncle Sam trusts you."

Old Murder Charge Fails

GUNTERSVILLE (Ala.) Oct. 7. (AP)—A jury today returned a verdict of acquittal in the case of James F. Neeley, 70 years of age, charged with murder in the death of Hiram Cooley forty-seven years ago.

The defendant, arrested in Tyler, Tex., recently after spending more than half his life evading the law, had expressed confidence throughout his three weeks' stay in the Marshall County Jail he would be acquitted. He pleaded not guilty by reason of self-defense.

RUSSIA DENIES RUMANIA PLOT

Moscow Would Not Make War to Free Bessarabia

(Copyright, 1930, by New York Times)

MOSCOW, Oct. 7. (Exclusive)—According to Moscow authorities there is no foundation for the story that the soviet government is planning to seize Bessarabia and it is stated to be "absurd" that soviet ambassadors are now inquiring into foreign government's attitude toward such a move.

Senatore Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of radio, leader of radio science for 36 years, who praises the new Radiola!

—with the result that the new Radiola Super-Heterodyne is the most popular instrument in Radiola history

The whole world respects the mature judgment of Senatore Guglielmo Marconi . . . the great genius who invented radio . . . the outstanding leader of radio science for 36 years.

Impressed by his statement, "The new RCA Radiola Super-Heterodyne represents a great advance in radio reception," tens of thousands have visited Radiola dealers throughout America to see this extraordinary new instrument . . . to hear it . . . and hence to buy it.

Never had they heard such glorious reproduction . . . note for note . . . tone for tone . . . voice for voice . . . instrument for instrument . . . the actual performance of the actual broadcasting artists.

Climax of 7 Years' Research!

Here is the finest home instrument that RCA, the recognized leader of the industry, the creator of practically every great development in radio, can build. It is the high spot of 7 years of Super-Heterodyne development by the world's most brilliant radio engineers.

Four times more sensitive, three times more selective than any recent model, the new Radiola was designed to fit today's broadcasting conditions. As you probably know, the government assigns each station a broadcasting channel of a standard 10-kilocycle width. The new Radiola is so expertly designed that it receives all the program in the full width of the channel—no more—no less. Hence the gorgeous tone quality, lifelike realism, and the freedom from overlapping, noise and distortion.

Greatest Value Ever!

Four years ago a Radiola Super-Heterodyne console cost $570. Today, this exquisite model, with all its revolutionary improvements, comes to you for only $142.50, less Radiotrons.

See and hear this sensational new instrument. Then you will understand why Radiola factories are working overtime. Look on the dial for the famous RCA trademark—your guarantee of the ultimate in modern radio and continued pleasure for years to come.

NEW GUNS SPIT DOOM INTO SKY

War Department to Show Off Antiaircraft Weapons

Ordnance Group Will View Death Dealers Tomorrow

Stereoscopic Fire Control One of Chief Improvements

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (Exclusive)—Vastly improved apparatus for combating enemy aircraft will be on exhibition at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md., Thursday when the War Department conducts its annual demonstration of new weapons for members of the Army Ordnance Association.

Included in the exhibits will be a new stereoscopic fire-control director which increases the effectiveness of antiaircraft machine-gun fire, an improved fire-control director for the three-inch anti-aircraft battery which has increased the accuracy of these weapons, trucks equipped with caliber .30 machine guns utilizing the stereoscopic sight and a number of improved mounts for the 75-millimeter field guns.

By the use of the stereoscopic sight the officer controlling the fire of machine guns is enabled to follow the true course of tracer bullets aimed at a target thousands of yards away. By utilizing the same sight, a gunner seated in a specially constructed seat in a truck, is able to direct machine-gun fire almost instantly on aircraft attacking ground troops. The operator of the machine gun aims his gun with his hands and fires with his feet.

The improved fire-control director for the three-inch gun battery is so constructed that the officer in charge can keep the fire of his guns on the target simply by manipulating two small knobs.

THIS TIME MAN WALKED HOME FROM AUTO RIDE

STAMFORD (Ct.) Oct. 7. (Exclusive)—That old chestnut about walking home from an automobile ride took on a new slant here tonight when Joseph Fishman, a local playboy, hoofed it in from a suburb.

Joseph offered Olga Warden, a sanatorium employee, a ride downtown and then proceeded to drive in another direction.

Getting out of his car to talk to someone else, Joseph was astounded to see Olga and the car speed away. She drove to police headquarters and left the car there for Fishman, but refused to make a complaint against him.

Ambassador Edge also will see Foreign Minister Briand. It is said no particular question received special attention at today's conversation.

FARM BOARD'S DANDER ROUSED

Asserted Propaganda Drive to Be Combated

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (Exclusive)—The Federal Farm Board has decided to fight back against its enemies which it charges have instituted an "insidious" propaganda campaign through rural newspapers in the Middle West to discredit it in the eyes of the farmers.

Samuel R. McKelvie, wheat member of the board, today announced that the board has laid its charges before the Federal Trade Commission for investigation with a view to forcing into the open the asserted instigators of the campaign who, he said, are allied with representatives of private grain dealers' organizations.

"The campaign has been carried on most insidiously," Mr. McKelvie said. "Recently they have got the open and active support of organizations pretending to support the farmers' movement and many people are being misled by their statements as to co-operative marketing associations."

Man Killed by Dry Officers in Raid Fight

AUSTIN (Minn.) Oct. 7. (AP)—George Holgate, about 50 years of age, was shot to death in a gunfight with officers today after the latter had raided the home of Andy Nelson and seized a small quantity of liquor. Chief of Police Sargent was wounded slightly in the head by a shotgun charge.

Sargent and Deputy Sheriff Enochson had entered the house and seized the liquor without resistance, they said, and had gone into the back to search further when Holgate barred the door and refused to permit them to enter. Enochson tossed a tear gas bomb into the house and Holgate opened fire with a shotgun.

The officers returned the fire.

LYON FILES ACTION TO GET ON BALLOT

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7. (AP)—State Senator Lyon of Los Angeles, recently defeated for re-election at the State primary, appealed to the State Supreme Court today for a writ to compel the Secretary of State to place his name on the November ballot as an independent candidate for the Assembly from the Fifty-seventh District. The Secretary of State, according to the petition, refused to put Lyon's name on the ballot, saying a man defeated for one office at the primary could not legally seek election to another at the general election.

He succeeds Dr. James A. Doull, who resigned to take a post at Cleveland, O. What the research workers have been able to accomplish in their more than two years of labor has been kept a secret.

DIAMOND SQUAD TURNS IN CASH

New York Port Watched for Gem Smugglers

National Treasury Richer by $664,564 in Year

Tariff Reduction Lessens Illicit Incentive

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—The diamond squad of the United States Customs Service, alert watchers of the New York water front, made the National Treasury richer by $664,564 in the 1930 fiscal year.

The annual report of this super-detective group, just received by Commissioner Eble of the Bureau of Customs, showed 118 noncommercial seizures, for which $453,397 was collected in fines, and $33,748 in merchandise not redeemed.

SEIZURES REPORTED

It showed sixteen commercial seizure, netting merchandise valued at $115,559. An item of $61,860 was added for recoveries made in other districts on information furnished by John W. Roberts, chief of the diamond squad, and his wary men. The previous year a total of $732,529 was collected from these sources.

Rising in the wake of the World War, syndicated diamond smuggling had assumed such proportions by 1928 that organized legitimate diamond dealers and the American Consul-General at Antwerp, center of the industry, united in testifying to tariff committees that one diamond was smuggled into this country for every diamond that went through customs.

FIRMLY ENTRENCHED

George W. Messersmith, the Antwerp Consul-General, testified the syndicate was too firmly entrenched, and so sure of results, it furnished security for safe delivery equal to the value of the diamond. Five or six smuggling brokerage offices operated openly in Antwerp, he said, and honest diamond dealers were "crowded to the wall."

Before 1914, Russia, Central European nations, India and the Orient were heavy purchasers of diamonds, but war wiped out those markets. Prosperity's tide turned to the United States, and her citizens became the purchasers of 80 per cent of the gems.

In 1913, the diamond duty was raised from 10 per cent ad valorem to 20 per cent. Smugglers discovered they could operate profitably on a 6 to 8 per cent commission with a product so convenient that $10,000 worth could be carried in an inoffensive-looking fountain pen. Like the honest Antwerp dealers, the honest American dealers were "crowded to the wall."

INCENTIVE LESS

Congress granted the 10 per cent reduction they asked. With that to lessen temptation, and the diamond squad, now two years old, to add to the hazards, it was hoped commercial smuggling would decline. Though the tariff was in effect only a half-month before the fiscal year closed, customs officials saw in the diamond squad report a slight diminution over 1929 which they attributed to those causes.

INDIA DEATH PLOT TRIO DOOMED BY TRIBUNAL

LAHORE (India) Oct. 7. (AP)—Three of those accused of complicity in assassination of Mr. Saunders, assistant superintendent of police, in Lahore in 1928, were found guilty and sentenced to death by the special tribunal which has been trying the cases, today.

Seven others were sentenced to transportation for life, and to from one to seven years rigorous imprisonment.

Monopoly of Product Main Issue in Proceeding

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—The District of Columbia Supreme Court today began a study of the packers' consent decree to determine whether packing companies shall be permitted to enter the retail field and sell meats direct to the consumers.

The witnesses, government employees called by the packers, gave data on meat packing establishments and their products. John F. Daily, Census Bureau employee, testified the value of manufactured food products for 1927, was $11,000,000,000 and 227 meat packing establishments in that year did more than a $1,000,000 business each.

YEARS IN LITIGATION

Government counsel objected to much of the testimony as irrelevant while Frank J. Hogan, for Armour & Co., and Swift & Co., contended it would fit into a mosaic that would show the decree which limits the companies to meat packing and closely related lines should be modified.

The packers' consent decree entered into by Armour & Co., Swift & Co., and other concerns in 1920, has been before the courts in one form or another since 1924. Prior to the consent decree the government brought antitrust proceedings against the packers, charging they had a monopoly on certain meat products.

The packers later brought suit to vacate the decree but it was upheld by the Supreme Court in 1928. A petition for modification followed and this is the basis for the hearings now under way.

MODIFICATION ASKED

The case has been before the district courts for several months and a lengthy trial is in prospect.

The way was cleared for testimony today when Justice Jennings Bailey denied the motions of the American National Live Stock Association and the National Wool Growers to intervene. They were permitted, however, to file briefs supporting the packers.

CANNY POLITICIANS MIX MEETING WITH CIRCUS

RENO, Oct. 7. (AP)—In competition with a circus in a small town, a political meeting is about as attractive to the proletariat as an epidemic of measles, but it is possible to mix the two together and have a big time.

This was demonstrated at Yerington, Nev., by the Republican candidates now on a vote-seeking tour of Nevada, who landed in the town with their speeches all wrapped up just as the two elephants and one camel and the steam calliope were occupying the center of the main street. The rally was called off.

With United States Senator Oddie in the lead the candidates headed for the circus and were immediately given star spots in the performance. The Senator and Gov. Balzar were honored with enviable positions on top of the elephant's heads and Lieut.-Gov. Griswold was given the services of the camel to ride in the grand opening number.

The Senator and the Governor managed to stick on top of the swaying heads of the elephants, but the Lieutenant-Governor came to grief directly in front of the high-priced seats. The camel stopped suddenly and Griswold lost his grip on the front hump. Over he went into the dirt while the crowd cheered wildly.

"I knew I should never have anything to do with a camel," Griswold said to the crowd as he brushed himself off and rubbed a sore spot near the back of his neck.

MATRIMONIAL RING ACCUSED

Five Arrested on Charges of Mail Fraud

Two Women Asserted Bait for Wife Hunters

Extensive Operations Carried on in Six Cities

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 7. (AP)—How an asserted fake matrimonial ring mulcted victims throughout the South, Middle West and West for more than $6000, was revealed by Federal investigators today following arrest of five persons on charges of postal fraud.

Using photographs of two women members of the ring as "bait," the agency obtained sums ranging from a few dollars to $1700 from its victims, postal inspector said. Operations were carried on from Dayton, O.; Muncie, Ind.; Covington, Ky., Marion, Ind.; Lebanon, Ind., and Crawfordsville, Ind., in turn, the investigators revealed.

Those arrested are Miss Oda Lippens, at Marion; Timothy O'Leary, alias Robert White; Ora Thomas, alias Roy Gibbs, and Roxie Chaney Gibbs, at Crawfordsville, and Ethel Rose Brewer Williams, at Muncie.

do Norte and of Nernambuco had attempted to flee to Rio de Janeiro. If this is true part of the Brazilian navy in the north is co-operating with the insurgents.

SAFEGUARDS PROMISED AMERICAN INTERESTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—News of an attack upon American property in Brazil came today coincident with a statement from Ambassador Do Amarel of that country saying his government will resort to bloodshed to quell the revolution "when bloodshed is inevitable."

His statement came shortly before the State Department received word from S. Walter Washington, American Charge d'Affaires at Rio de Janeiro, that the American-owned street car service and elevator service between the upper and lower levels of the city of Bahia had been attacked Saturday and Sunday. State police are understood to have stood off the attack, and the cablegram added the service will be resumed tomorrow.

In a prepared interview, Ambassador Do Amarel declined to minimize or magnify the seriousness of revolutionary activities in his country. He said the government will resort to bloodshed "when bloodshed is inevitable."

Embassy reports are President Washington Luis is directing organization of the Federal resources to combat the revolutionaries, whose number has been estimated at 80,000 men.

The Ambassador said "a general offensive will take place shortly and the government is confident it will be able to restore order as soon as possible in the Brazilian family.

"The Federal army is very well trained by a French military mission and the efficiency of our small navy could not be better owing to the training of the American naval mission contracted by Brazil eight years ago," he added.

"I seize this opportunity to inform you that the news concerning the defection of a part of the navy is entirely devoid of foundation. I am very positive about this."

Communication facilities into the interior of the immense republic are described as poor, but this is regarded as equally disadvantageous to both sides.

Official reports at the Embassy told of riots at Para which were dominated by State and Federal troops.

BRAZIL NAVY STARTS FOR RAIDS ON REBELS

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 7. (AP)—Units of the Brazilian navy tonight are steaming swiftly nothward and southward along the coast to combat the rebellion which broke in southern States last week, but now has spread to the regions north of the capital.

Part of the fleet is bound for the lower ports, while one unit is on the way to Pernambuco, far on the eastward tip of the South American continent.

Government spokesmen declared late this afternoon the administration of President Washington Luis has the revolt well in hand.

MOVEMENTS CRUSHED

They asserted that the insurrectionary movements in the great rubber-producing State of Para, north of the capital, and in Parana, to the south, had been crushed without bloodshed. Defeat of the rebels in Parana would be a severe blow to them, for it is through this State that the 80,000 troops reported marching northward from Rio Grande do Sul have planned to attack the large coffee metropolis of Sao Paulo.

Besides contending that the entire battle fleet will remain loyal, the government asserts that soldiers of the regular army in the capital district, numbering 10,000, will stand staunchly behind the administration.

Moreover, the government has additional resources in the reserves. These men, ranging in age from 21 to 30 years, were warned two days ago to be ready for duty but have not been used so far.

FEDERALS HAVE MONEY

It is in the financial field, however, that Federal officials say they have the final edge on the revolters. The central government has been advanced $10,000,000 by the Bank of Brazil to put down the rebellion, whereas the revolutionaries are said to have no financial resources.

Sao Paulo reported tonight that so far as known there has been little fighting to the southward, but large troop movements are taking place as the government distributes soldiers and supplies over the State of Sao Paulo on the Soro Cabana Railway.

Officials there state they have little apprehension as to the loyalty of citizens, but fear that the food problem may become acute in less than a week. Since the revolutionaries dominate the railroads from the States of Minas Geraes, north of Sao Paulo, and Rio Grande do Sul in the south, holding up normal shipments of food, the supply is growing low.

In Rio de Janeiro, too, the food problem is important and the government today requisitioned all supplies. Officials said shopkeepers were profiteering, taking advantage of the fact that foodstuffs are cut off from Minas Geraes.

BANKS CLOSED

Since the banks have been ordered closed until the 21st inst., the government saying it took this step to prevent speculation in exchange, the city appears as on Sunday. The stores are open but are not doing a great business, partly because the banks are closed and partly because the government has taken over food supplies.

Airplanes of the Sao Paulo State police and military craft today bombed rebel detachments in Minas Geraes.

Additional support was given the government today by the formation in both Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo of "civil legions." These organizations will assist Federal troops if their aid is needed.

HEIRESS OF DODGE SUES FOR DAUGHTER

Delphine Dodge Baker

SEPARATED PAIR BATTLE FOR CHILD

Daughter of Dodge and Former Society Husband in Bitter Legal Fight.

NEWPORT (R. I.) Oct. 7. (Exclusive)—Society stragglers at this fashionable mecca will seek a post-season thrill here tomorrow when they pack themselves into a courtroom to see two of the members of the gayest younger set fight bitterly for possession of their child, 8-year-old Christina Cromwell. The mother and father fighting for her are Delphine Dodge Baker, heiress to the Dodge motor millions, and James H. R. Cromwell, one of high society's best dancers and the son of Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury of Philadelphia, wife of a senior member of J. P. Morgan & Co.

Cromwell, backed by his stepfather's money, will hold an advantage over his wife, who has about $10,000,000 of her own, when he goes into court tomorrow. For little Christina now is with his brother and sister-in-law here, the O. E. Eaton Cromwells. His Attorney declared he plans to offer evidence that the child's mother neglected the little girl.

The Detroit automobile heiress will have a new husband by her side in the court fight for her daughter. He is Raymond T. Baker, former director of the United States Mint, whom she married December 14, 1924, after obtaining a divorce from young Cromwell at Reno three months before.

OIL MERGER ARGUMENT PRESENTED

Consolidation of Vacuum and New York Standard Opposed in Federal Court

OMAHA, Oct. 7. (AP)—The government today presented to three Federal Appellate judges its arguments against the proposed merger of the Standard Oil Company of New York and the Vacuum Oil Company.

John Lord O'Brian of counsel for the government traced what he termed the history of the two companies in attempting in the past to evade the 1911 decision of the Supreme Court which dissolved the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and thirty-seven subsidiaries, including the two defendant companies.

He charged the two companies had collaborated with others to attain objectives forbidden by the 1911 decree.

The argument was in reply to the contention yesterday of attorneys for the companies that the 1911 decision is not in danger of defiance in the proposed merger and that it is not in any sense a violation of the antitrust laws, but a move to expand competition and not to stifle trade.

Manufacturers Re-elect Chief

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—John E. Edgerton of Lebanon, Tenn., was reelected president of the National Association of Manufacturers today. Other officers voted another term in office were J. Lewis Benton, secretary; Henry Abbott, treasurer, and J. R. Royce, assistant secretary.

State vice-president elected included: California—Watt L. Moreland, Los Angeles.

DEBT ON JEFFERSON HOME SHRINE CLEARED

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—Dr. George J. Ryan, president of the New York City Board of Education and chairman of the bond committee of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation, received today in a formal ceremony a receipt denoting payment in full of a $300,000 second mortgage on Monticello, Jefferson's Virginia estate, which the foundation purchased in 1923 for $500,000 to make of it a national shrine.

CROSS-COUNTRY SCHEDULE MADE

Transcontinental-Western to Speed Passage

Two Planes Daily Each Way Provided For

Present Rail-Air Service to Be Maintained

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., announced today that two transcontinental services daily in each direction have been made available under its new schedules. The company is the recently formed subsidiary of Transcontinental Air Transport and Western Air Express.

The new schedules maintain the elastic air and rail combinations in effect on both Western Air and T.A.T.-Maddux lines.

Westbound planes will leave Newark Airport daily. For a short time these will be mail planes only. Passengers wishing to connect with this transcontinental service will leave New York at 10:10 p.m. the previous night over the Pennsylvania Railroad, connecting with the plane at Columbus the next afternoon. They will arrive in Los Angeles at 8 p.m. the foloiwing day.

Two planes will leave the west coast daily, one from Los Angeles at 5 a.m., the other from San Francisco at 10:40 a.m. Columbus will be the train transfer stop.

The announcement said C. W. H. Smith has been appointed assistant to the vice-president in charge of traffic; J. W. Brennan, traffic manager for the western region, and P. B. Sturgis, chief of transportation.

The four vice-presidents are T. B. Clement, traffic; F. J. Fell, Jr., comptroller; Jack Frye, operations, and J. G. Wooley, public relations.

The new service will be operated during daylight hours only until the airways are equipped with night-flying facilities.

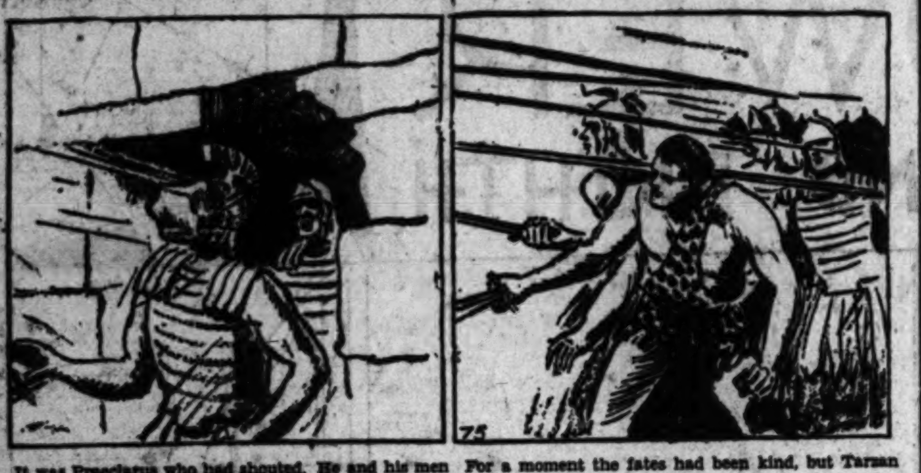
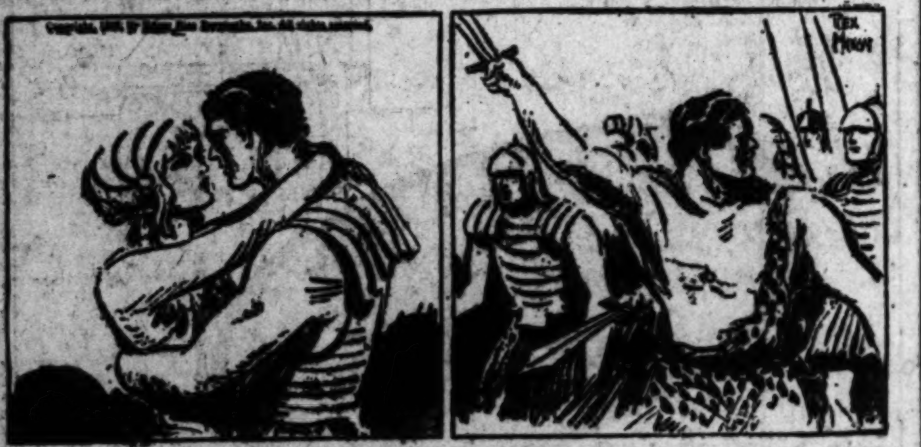
TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



It was Praeclarus who had shouted. He and his men had taken the ballista and it was aimed at the breach in the wall. As Tarzan and his followers fell away to safety, the hammer fell upon the trigger of the ballista and a heavy rock drove full in the face of the first legionary through the breach.

For a moment the fates had been kind, but Tarzan realized they were little better off in the garden than in the room. Caesar's soldiers still surrounded them on all sides. Pikes were flying through the air. The ballista and their own good swords alone stood between Tarzan's followers and death.



"They will charge in another moment," said Maximus Praeclarus, and turning to Dilecta he took her in his arms and kissed her. "Good-by, dear heart," he said. "How fleeting is happiness. May the gods receive us with rejoicing." "Not good-by, Praeclarus," replied the girl, "for where you go, I shall go."

She shower him the slim dagger in her hand. "Not that!" he cried. "And why not?" she asked. "Is not death sweeter that Fastus?" "Perhaps you are right," he said sadly. "They come!" cried Cassius Hasta. "Ready!" shouted Tarzan. "Give them all we have! Death is better than Caesar's dungeons!"

HERE'S FISH STORY IN REVERSE

Shark Catches Ontario Fisherman Off Ensenada and Drags Him From Boat; Modern "Jonah" Not Swallowed, However, and Gets Away

ONTARIO, Oct. 7.—Catching fish in California doesn't draw much attention, but when a fish catches a fisherman and carries him down to the depths of the sea, the fisherman has a yarn worth spinning.

Simon Powers, postman at Ontario postoffice, has such a yarn and he has been officially christened "Jonah," his friends believing that his escapade ranks with that of the famous whale episode.

While on his annual vacation Powers went to Ensenada to do a bit of deep-sea fishing.

He went out on a fishing boat with a party, and when far out to sea cast out their lines.

There was no rail on the boat. Powers stood next to a Japanese fisherman, and both were engrossed in the sport of luring the big fish to their hooks.

Both got a bite at the same time. The Japanese began hauling in his line and coiled it near Powers's feet. The fish at the end of the Japanese fisherman's line leaped out of the water, and all on board were surprised to see the Japanese had hooked a large shark.

In his excitement, the Japanese let loose his line, and the shark flashed away drawing the heavy line with him. Powers's feet got tangled in the line and he went overboard, dragged behind the shark. The line zipped out, but before it was completely out someone on deck with presence of mind tied it to a post.

A boat was lowered and set out in pursuit of Powers who was skimming through the water, and downwards.

The Japanese thought he should cut the line, but before he could apply his knife to it, someone else sent him sprawling on deck. Had the line been cut Powers never would have been rescued, according to the captain of the fishing boat.

What seemed hours passed before Powers succeeded in kicking himself free from the line about his feet. He bobbed to the surface and was dragged into the boat and rushed back to the fishing craft where he was found to be more dead than alive.

However, after the water had been pumped out of his lungs and his respiratory organs set back to work he "came to."

According to the rescuers, Powers at one time was forty feet below the surface, trailing along swiftly behind the shark.

After a valiant fight, the shark was landed and was weighed. He tipped the scales at 210 pounds.

Powers contracted a severe cold from his experience and was confined to his bed for several days.

He has several deep marks about his ankles to show where the heavy fishing line, became entwined.

FIREMEN KEEP LIFE IN BABE

Faint Vital Spark in Newborn Infant Believed to Be Fanned Into Permanent One at Last

ALTADENA, Oct. 7.—A faint spark of life in a newborn baby appears to have been lighted permanently today following an eight-hour battle with death won by the local fire department's inhalator squad.

The baby, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul DeRuff of 2004 North Fair Oaks avenue, was limp and apparently in a dying condition when he entered the world at 3:30 a.m. today. The inhalator squad was called and arrived at the home an instant after the baby appeared to have ceased to breath.

For more than eight hours, the firemen, in charge of J. L. Morin, alternated between gentle application of artificial respiration and the use of the inhalator.

At 9 a.m., a faint pink color crept into the baby's cheeks, and at 11:30 the first-aid men, physician and the child's father stood by silently as the final test of the success of their efforts was made when the mouthpiece of the inhalator was removed from the baby's lips. A tiny sigh and gasp and the small chest began to rise and fall regularly for the first time.

Dr. William Wagner, one of the attending physicians, announced that the child probably will live.

New Fireman Proves to Be From Asylum

ALTADENA, Oct. 7.—Members of the local fire station had a novel experience last night when they had an escaped lunatic as a bedfellow, it was learned today.

A new member of the force was expected to take up his duties and when a pleasant but extremely talkative stranger entered he was greeted with handshakes, given a dinner and shown his bed.

After telling the other firemen that he had wanted to be a fireman since his youth and that his great ambition had been relized, the "new hoseman" turned over and began to snore.

After a night's sleep, however, the stranger appeared suddenly seized with an ambition complex. After announcing that he had been appointed captain by President Hoover, he suddenly ordered his superiors out of the building, threatening to turn the hose on them if they demurred.

The local Sheriff's office was notified, and a few minutes later the new smoke eater was escorted back to his old headquarters, a sanatorium.

Drunk-Driving Penalties High

SOUTH GATE, Oct. 7.—Very little leniency is being shown by Judge Stanley Moffatt of the City Court when it comes to persons found guilty of driving automobiles while intoxicated. Yesterday Paul Yahn of this city appeared before the court, having been arrested at Atlantic and Wright Road. He was charged with driving while drunk. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and also given a jail sentence of at least thirty days. Cecil Blinn of Long Beach was before the court on a similar charge. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 or serve 100 days in jail, one-half the fine being suspended. E. T. Burke of Central Gardens entered a plea of guilty to a similar charge. He was sentenced to pay $200 or serve 100 days in jail, one-half the sentence being suspended for a period of six months.

Galen Johnson, with offices in the Lawson Building, while Johnson was in the office of Dr. W. O. Leach having a plaster cast on his leg renewed, after a fracture.

Johnson said that Girard was sober when he visited him during the forenoon. Dr. Hulse informed Chief Fraser that the information he received regarding Girard's fall did not lead him to believe that the injuries were serious, and that it was not until the following day that he observed signs that tended to indicate that his wounds were more than superficial.

Truce Week at University Ends

REDLANDS, Oct. 7.—Truce week at the University of Redlands ended today and sororities announced their pledges at that time.

Pledging ceremony of Sigma Pi took place at the home of Mrs. Francois Uses and the pledges are Ruth Hardy, Violet Pallon, Beatrice Walker and Harriet Kreysler.

Kappa Pi Zeta announced the largest number of pledges with an evening of bridge held in Bekins Hall. The new pledges are Esther Thompson, Virginia Stone, Isabel Van Sant, Marion Jeffers, Mabel Stubbs, Ethel Witt, Mildred Watson, Mary Morgan and Flora Ellen Tilton.

Alpha Theta Phi was second in number of pledges. Those chosen are Olive Parsons, Charlotte Taylor, Thelma Rollo, Helen Ducker, Norma Miller, Ramona Jensen and Dorothy Bussey.

Delta Kappa Psi entertained with a camp dinner at Forest Home and the pledges were Margaret Bell, Jean Henricus, Vera Hotchkiss, Ramona Simonson and Mildred Smith.

Mildred Burditt, Vivian Baileu and Elizabeth Wilson are pledges to Alpha Xi Omicron. Beta Lambda Mu pledges are Eloise Wiseman, Dorothy Yancy, Louise Garland, Vivian Hall and Marguerite Muller.

NO HARD-TIMES TALK NOW AT SAN FERNANDO

SAN FERNANDO, Oct. 7.—Between $20,000 and $30,000 last week was the industrial pay roll of local packing-houses and the San Fernando Cannery, according to the figures furnished by managers of the various concerns.

Although the orange plants virtually are closed down or are working only with a small force until the new crop is ready, the Sylmar Packing Corporation, the Fernando Canning Company and the lemon packing-houses are operating at peak, employing in all about 1000 persons. Inasmuch as the bulk of this huge pay roll is spent in San Fernando there is less talk about "hard times" among local merchants than there has been for some time. Banks and business houses at present have an optimistic view of the general trade situation as a result. All look for a general revival of trade here during the winter and coming spring months, they say.

SCHOOL CHILDREN GIVE FIRST AID

Sierra Madre Red Cross Chapter Provides Equipment

City Nurse Ella Cole Barker Supervises First-Aid Work Done by Sierra Madre Youngsters of Grammar Grades

Young students of the Sierra Madre grammar school demonstrating how they would administer first aid during such disasters as forest fires, earthquakes or any other emergency. Instruction in first aid was inaugurated by the Sierra Madre chapter of American Red Cross, who loaned the boys and girls their equipment for their classes.

SIERRA MADRE, Oct. 7.—To qualify themselves for rendering aid during times of disaster other than ordinary emergencies, boys and girls of the Sierra Madre grammar school are learning the intricacies of first aid under the supervision of City Nurse Ella Cole Barker.

Borrowing the elaborate first-aid equipment from the Sierra Madre chapter of the American Red Cross, the children, after their first few classes of instruction, ably demonstrated their skill. The girls, for the most part, practiced the use of bandages and simple nursing, using the boys as their patients.

The local Red Cross chapter has the finest equipment for rendering first aid of any chapter of its size and even some larger, in Southern California, according to W. R. Humphries, chairman. Classes in first aid for adults were sponsored by the Red Cross last year, and this year the training has invaded the local grammar school, where young students are taking to it as ducks do to water.

Humphries announced today that the annual roll call of the local Red Cross will begin on Armistice Day and last until Thanksgiving, and that the chapter will put forth every effort to retain its championship quota of 750 members.

Now that the children are interested in first aid they are enthusiastic boosters for the Red Cross, Humphries stated.

GROWTH OF W.C.T.U. SEEN

Reports at Opening of Southern California Convention at Santa Ana Give Membership Increase

SANTA ANA, Oct. 7.—Gathering here today for the first formal meetings of the 1930 Southern California W.C.T.U. convention, delegates heard reports from State officers which indicated a tremendous growth of the organization and its allied associations during the past year, and heard their president, Mrs. Eva Craven Wheeler, continue the challenge to the wet interests not only in California, but also in the entire nation.

Before the convention had formally met, however, one of its most important issues was apparently settled through the adoption last night of a resolution by the executive committee declaring the intention of the Southern California W.C.T.U. to stay out of the 1930 California Governor campaign.

Supporters of Milton K. Young, Democratic nominee, who has declared himself "bone dry," urged that he be indorsed. Others argued that California was so predominantly Republican that the election of Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco, looked upon as wet, was assured and that, should the W.C.T.U. indorse Young, the election of Rolph would definitely place California in the list of wet States.

The indorsement of Gov. Young as the candidate of the W.C.T.U. in the primary election will have its reverberations in the present convention, it was indicated. The Los Angeles County Federation indorsed Buron Fitts and may make an effort to "clean the slate" of the present officers and install a new set, it was said. Mrs. Wheeler, candidate for re-election as president, was said to feel confident, however, that the entire present slate would be retained.

Election of officers and the report of the resolutions committee will be on the program Friday morning.

More than 500 delegates had registered today and it was predicted by State officials that the registration would probably exceed 1000 before the conclave concludes with the annual banquet Friday night.

GRAY WILL SPEAK TO FARM BODY

Washington Representative of National Federation to Address Ventura Group

VENTURA, Oct. 7.—Chester G. Gray, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, is to be the featured speaker here the 14th inst. at a special meeting of the Ventura Farm Bureau members and all county ranchers, to be held in the banquet room of the First Methodist Church. Gray, a Missouri farmer, is known in Washington as the "watchdog of organized agriculture."

Besides the Ventura county farmers, delegations from Santa Barbara and Los Angeles counties will attend the dinner, as it is one for the second region of the California Farm Bureau Federation.

In the morning of the same day the board of directors of the Ventura county Farm Bureau will elect officers and review the work of the past bureau year at their annual meeting, to be held in the Farm Bureau offices in the Courthouse.

STOLEN FRUIT FOUND EXPENSIVE BY BOYS

COVINA, Oct. 7.—Stolen fruit may be the sweeter, as the old proverb goes, but it surely is the most expensive, is the belief of Herman Christiansen and Bert Nolles of San Dimas, who were fined $25 each for stealing avocados from the Hayes grove on Azusa avenue, Sunday night.

They both pleaded guilty to the charge in Judge Reed's court here yesterday and were released upon payment of the fine. Their fondness for avocados was the sole reason they helped themselves from the Hayes grove, they told Judge Reed, and were more than embarrassed when they were trailed to their rooms in San Dimas by officers of the Sheriff's substation there.

GEN. FECHET, ARMY AIR CHIEF, DEPARTS

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 7. (AP)—Flying solo in an army air corps bomber, and accompanied by Capt. Ira C. Eaker, in another plane, Gen. James E. Fechet, chief of the army air corps, with headquarters in Washington, was to take off this forenoon for Tucson, Ariz., first stop on his return trip to the eastern coast.

Gen. Fechet landed at Rockwell Field, San Diego, yesterday, and was welcomed by a guard of honor including officers of the local air base and the enlisted personnel.

Gen. Fechet is a native of Fort Ringgold, Tex.

Redondo Asks Supervisors for County Wharf

REDONDO BEACH, Oct. 7.—Petitions addressed to the Board of County Supervisors asking the construction of a wharf to accommodate fishing and boat landings opposite the county beach at the foot of Ainsworth Court, are in circulation here today. The petitions, which are understood to be circulated in ten sections, set forth the need of such a pier as a complement to the county-owned beach playground and cite the excellent fishing at this point.

The site designated in the petition was at one time occupied by the Pacific Electric Railway Company's wharf No. 3, which was long a rendezvous for fishermen, providing a landing-place for fishing boats and lumber vessels. Following the expiration of the Pacific Electric Company's franchise at that point, it was demolished.

The proposal is advanced by its sponsors as a means of settling this city's long-drawn-out fishing question, in which the operation of the Monstad pier, a private enterprise, as the only fishing pier here, has been the object of several years' contention. Revenue which would be derived by the county from rental and operation of concessions on the proposed pier would defray the cost of its construction and maintenance, it is urged.

TAX-SPLIT CHANGES URGED

Gordon Whitnall Advocates Distribution Method for Benefit of Cities, at Municipalities Meeting

LONG BEACH, Oct. 7.—Change in the method of distributing the State gas tax so that municipalities will benefit in road construction was advocated at the convention of the California League of Municipalities today by Gordon Whitnall, president, in an address to the general assembly. Whitnall, talking along lines expressed at department sessions on the preceding day, urged that the State take over control of main highways within the cities and that the tax be used for maintenance and improvement of these municipal streets.

At department sessions today representatives on the resolutions and nominating committee were named preparatory to the important business session Thursday afternoon when officers will be named, resolutions adopted and reports received.

School health administration occupied the attention of the department of public health at its session this afternoon. Papers by Dr. Herbert E. True of Sacramento and Dr. Sven Lokrantz were followed by a general discussion.

City attorneys heard Ray C. McAllaster, deputy counsel of Los Angeles county, talk on recent court decisions. Bernard C. Brennan, City Attorney of Glendale, will discuss city advertising and promotion at the meeting of this department tomorrow.

Budget control in city affairs was the subject of a paper by Mayor C. H. Christenson of Palo Alto at the Mayor and Council session today.

Construction at Ontario Lively

ONTARIO, Oct. 7.—October started out with a great record of building activity in Ontario, and promises to be the banner month of the year.

Three projects are now under way, with promise of two or three others starting soon.

William Atchley, Upland honey producer, started the boom in building by starting a large apartment-house at Fourth street and Euclid avenue, on a site on which the City Council refused him permission to build a miniature golf course.

Exchange Orange Products Company has started construction of a laboratory and manufacturing building adjoining the main office building.

Campbell Construction Company of Ontario took out the third permit, which amounted to $110,000, and is for the first unit of the new junior college building on Chaffey campus.

HUGE GAS MAIN WILL BE BUILT

Line Five and One-quarter Miles Long Planned for Ventura, to Cost $100,000

VENTURA, Oct. 7.—Construction of a sixteen-inch gas main five and one-quarter miles in length at a cost of about $100,000, probably will get under way within two weeks for the Southern California Gas Company, company officials announced today.

The proposed line will run from the company's compressor plant on Ventura avenue overland to join with the firm's present twelve-inch line at Telegraph and Mills roads.

The new main, when completed, will take the place of the present twelve-inch main running down Ventura avenue and through the city on Front street. This latter line then probably will be used by the Southern Counties Gas Company to join with the new line now under construction from Ventura to the Elwood oil fields above Santa Barbara.

The line will cut across the hills north of the city in as near a straight line as possible, it was learned. Its purpose is to facilitate pumping gas from here to Los Angeles by the Southern California Company, officials said.

Contract on the project now is being prepared for bidders, and is expected to be let within two weeks. Work will begin immediately after the contract is awarded, it was said.

Two Detroyers at Anchor for Bombing Tests

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 7. (AP)—The decommissioned destroyers Marcus and Sloat are riding at anchor south of Point Loma ready to begin serving today as targets for bombs hurled at their decks from three battle fleet planes attached to the VF-3 squadron.

Very few bombs will be dropped on the two huge hulks, it was announced at headquarters of Rear-Admiral J. M. Reeves, commander of the aircraft squadrons battle fleet. The purpose of the maneuvers, it was explained, is to determine the structural strength of various parts of the "wasps" rather than to test the accuracy of officers in the bombing planes.

The bombardment will be slow and a study of each hit will be made, it was said. It is probable the decommissioned vessels will be "peppered" with various types of projectiles for about ten days, provided, of course, the bombing does not cause either of them to sink in about twenty fathoms of water.

Gov. Bernal and Mayor Rolph to Make Air Trip

EL CENTRO, Oct. 7.—Gov. Bernal of Lower California is to accompany Mayor James Rolph and Congressman Phil D. Swing when they make an aerial trip over the Lower Colorado River basin tomorrow afternoon, according to an announcement made at the offices of the Imperial Irrigation District today. Rolph is scheduled to arrive at Brawley by plane tomorrow noon and spend two days as the guest of the Imperial District.

The program includes a flight over the Imperial irrigation system, and protective works in Lower California tomorrow afternoon and an aerial trip to Boulder Canyon damsite on Thursday.

The plane carrying the Rolph party is to stop at Mexicali airport where Gov. Bernal and one of his aides will join the party. The landing is to be made late in the afternoon at Imperial Airport, from which point Gov. Bernal will accompany the American visitors to El Centro and be one of the guests at a dinner given in Rolph's honor.

VAN NUYS PASTOR ON WAY TO CONVENTION

VAN NUYS, Oct. 7.—Rev. A. E. Worthy, pastor of the Van Nuys Christian Church, left here last night for Washington, D. C., to attend the convention of Christian churches, in session between the 14th and 23rd inst. It will be the first world convention of the Disciples of Christ. It is expected that 25,000 delegates from all over the globe will attend the sessions.

GRAND JURY IN GOOD INQUIRY

County Inquisitorial Body Begins Sifting Charges

San Diego Supervisors' Head Under Investigation

Robert M. Burton, One of His Accusers, Called

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 7.—The sixteen-year term of office of Charles L. Good on the County Board of Supervisors was scrutinized today as the grand jury opened its investigation of criminal charges filed recently against Good by Robert M. Burton, Imperial Valley rancher, and John A. Miller of Encanto. First, an analysis of the charges was presented to the inquisitors by their legal adviser, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Oran N. Muir.

In apparent explanation of one phase of this analysis, Burton was called into the jury chamber soon after the meeting began, and after a few minutes both Muir and the witness, together with Fred Robinson, official shorthand reporter of the proceedings, were sent from the chamber while the jurors discussed the first-known details. The jury spent half an hour in the "huddle" before recalling the three men. Then Burton resumed his testimony, it was supposed, where he left off at the interruption.

Miller was not expecting to be called to testify until tomorrow morning. Burton was looked upon as the "key man" in the expected testimony. Miller, however, announced he would be able to produce two witnesses to support his allegations concerning Good's administration of the Fourth County Road District, which he represents on the board. Facts and figures were promised by the two accusers.

Burton, former partner of Good on the latter's Santee ranch, next door to the county's Edgemoor poor farm, declared the Supervisor had violated a State law by dealing with the county and profiting from the deals. The Good ranch sold beef and hay to the poor farm, Burton asserted.

Burton and Miller two weeks ago filed joint charges that the board's chairman had padded pay rolls of his road district, had shown favoritism in awarding county contracts, and had mismanaged the County Hospital as "hospital committee" of the Board of Supervisors.

Police Seek to Stop 'Scooting' on Valley Roads

VAN NUYS, Oct. 7.—A representative from each Chamber of Commerce in San Fernando Valley attended a traffic conference this afternoon in the Van Nuys Municipal Court, with Capt. C. A. Hodson, commander of the valley police division, in charge. The purpose of the gathering was to arrive at means to reduce traffic deaths and injuries in the valley area.

Capt. Hodson submitted a traffic-control plan for the approval of those present, which, in turn, is to be sent to the Los Angeles Police Commission for adoption. Within the last two years traffic deaths in the valley area have multiplied tenfold.

It is the purpose of Capt. Hodson to obtain the adoption of a regulation that will halt much of the unnecessary speeding on the long, sparsely used concrete roads running through all the valley sections.

She Hopes for Purse's Return

ONTARIO, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Elsie Ritter, proprietor of the Elsie Mae Shop in West B street, today felt confident that she would recover her purse, a diamond ring, onyx ring, a watch, and probably the cash in her purse, all of which were stolen from her place by a youth she told police is Allan Williams, who is also charged with highway robbery in Pomona.

Williams was captured after a spectacular chase through the streets of Pomona Saturday, and identified by Mrs. Ritter as the man who stole her valuables.

According to word from Pomona, Williams admitted the highway robbery charged against him, but denied theft of Mrs. Ritter's jewels and watch.

Local police said they would place no hold order against Williams as none of the stolen articles had been found in his possession.

INDIANS MAY GET PRICE

Road Crew Nears Reservation With Pines-to-Palms Highway; County Still Minus Right of Way

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 7.—With the road crew on the Pines-to-Palms highway within two miles of the Indians' land, the Board of Supervisors today indicated steps will be taken within the next two weeks to obtain the right of way across the Santa Rosa reservation even if the county's $1250 may have to be enlarged nearer the Indians' demand of $4000.

County Surveyor Fulmor filed with the board a telegram from Commissioner Rhoads of the Department of Indian Affairs saying the Indians' protest against the county's offer would have to be withdrawn before the department could give immediate approval to a compromised agreement.

It appeared that the supervisors are willing to pay more for the right of way acros the Indians' land to avoid the lengthy delay that doubtless would result should the matter be tied up in the red tape of the Federal Indian Department. A representative of the supervisors is expected to confer with the Indians in the next few days.

E. C. Wickerd, superintendent of the county prison camp, whose crews are building the thirty-mile Pines-to-Palms Highway, estimated his shovels will reach the reservation boundary within the next three weeks. His report showed that during the last two weeks his crews have recorded excellent progress. The eastern end of the road now is approximately twelve miles from Kern Camp, and slightly less than two miles from the reservation. With the exception of small turnouts around culverts, all the finished roadway is open to travel.

Chairman Jameson said, however, that the county must not overlook the priceless factor of friendship with the Indians.

Oil Earnings for Year Set at $404,258

Equal to $1.78 1-2 a Share on A and B Stock

Decrease of 5 Per Cent From Previous Period

Net income of the Hancock Oil Company of California for the fiscal year ended August 31, last, after all charges, including depreciation, depletion and Federal taxes, totaled $404,258.37, equivalent to $1.78½ a share on the 226,504 average number of Class A and B shares outstanding during the year, according to the statement issued yesterday by Will J. Reid, president of the company.

This compares with net income of $426,986.03, or $1.88½ a share on the same share basis in the year ended July 31, 1929, and represents a decrease of $22,727.66, or 5 per cent.

Gross operating income was $8,122,816.05, as against $6,757,660.64 in the 1929 period, an increase of $1,365,155.41, or 20 per cent. Operating charges, including raw material, selling and general expenses and all taxes, totaled $7,095,755.67, as against $5,460,995.54 in the 1929 period.

Intangible development expenses and abandonments were $349,165.51, as against $658,193.26, while depreciation and depletion amounted to $273,636.50, as against $211,485.81 in the 1929 period.

SALES JUMP

Gasoline sales for the year ended August 31, last, totaled 41,933,730 gallons, as compared with 33,920,473 gallons for the year ended July 31, 1929, an increase of 8,013,257 gallons, or 23 per cent.

Current assets as of August 31, last, totaled $1,234,161.52. Liabilities of every description consisting of current bills and accounts payable, State gasoline tax and Federal taxes amounted to $930,582.98. Total assets were given at $8,174,083.74. The company has no long-term indebtedness, no purchase money obligations, and all of its indebtedness as stated is of a current nature, according to the report.

EXPANSION PROGRAM

During the past year, the company expended $511,215.09 in the drilling of its own wells and in the acquisition of properties for future development. Of this sum $349,165.51 was charged to expense and $162,049.58, representing the tangible development cost of oil wells and the cost price of leases, was capitalized. The company also expended $204,728.30 in adding to and improving its refining and marketing facilities. Due to the general curtailment of both oil production and refining the company has not realized the full benefit of its expenditures for expansion during the past year, the report pointed out.

Plans for expansion during the coming year embrace a drilling program calculated to maintain the company's potential production at its present standard, the development of new outlets for its products and an aggressive sales campaign, according to the report.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—An early advance of a few points in cotton on reports of further rains in the central and western belts was followed today by declines under realizing or reselling by some recent buyers who appeared to be influenced by the failure of the weather news to create a more active demand and by weakness in grain and some of the other markets. New October contracts declined from 10.41 to 10.22, with the active months ruling about 5 to 10 points net lower during the midafternoon.

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (Exclusive)—Cottonseed oil was fairly active today with the tone barely steady as a rule because of the weakness in other markets. Local and commission house liquidation was absorbed by refiners' brokers. Old contracts closed 1 point higher to 10 points lower and new contracts 7 to 15 points lower. Total sales, 300 barrels old and 5250 new. The average of the estimates of the cotton crop by thirty-one members of the cotton oil trade on the New York Produce Exchange was 14,496,526 bales. TELEPHONE STATISTICS ENCOURAGE

Subscribers to Service of Southern California Utility Show Gain

Statistics of the Southern California Telephone Company covering the first nine months this year show a net gain in the number of telephones added which compares more or less favorably with previous years and disproves the popular conception of the seriousness of the current business depression in Los Angeles, M. L. Stannard, division manager, announced yesterday.

For the nine months ended September 30, last, the net gain in telephones numbered 11,707. Figures for the same period in previous years are: 1925, 9943; 1926, 16,726; 1927, 16,385; 1928, 10,714; 1929, 17,028. Installations for the period just closed exceed those for the corresponding periods of 1925 and 1928.

Most of the growth has been residential, and approximately 50 per cent of the 1930 gain has been in Hollywood, Beverly Hills and the Wilshire district. Other districts also have gained and a substantial growth has been experienced in the southern part of the city.

"An interesting fact is that the turnover in telephones this year has been unusually high," Mr. Stannard stated, "even greater than 1929. That is, we have actually installed more telephones than last year. But we have also disconnected more, resulting in a smaller net. The figures are 148,703 connected for nine months of 1930 as compared with 134,783 for the same period of 1929; and 136,996 disconnected this year contrasted with 117,755 in 1929. This indicates an unusually heavy population movement, and has been something of a burden upon us."

Investment Unit Offering to Be Made Shortly

Public offering of Cumulative Trust Shares, the new fixed investment trust providing for complete capital accumulation will be made shortly by Bancamerica-Blair Corporation and Distributors Group, Inc., it was announced yesterday.

Distributors Group, Inc., are sponsors and distributors of North American Trust Shares of which $125,000,000 have been placed since early in 1929.

The offering of Cumulative Trust Shares follows an exhaustive research of all existing types of investment trusts and it is anticipated that several features, new to the investment trust field, will be announced.

STOCK RIGHTS LOSE CASTE

Drive on American Telephone Suggests Tendency to Ignore Annual Offers; Cash Sole Basis

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Until yesterday's drive against American Telephone the public utility shares have been relatively exempt from the current popularity of selective selling. But now it appears the professional short sellers are singling out the utility shares which have heretofore been fortified marketwise by the expectation of annual subscription rights.

If the market is to continue ignoring stock dividends in computing the annual return on stocks, it is only logical to look for similar conclusions respecting annual subscription rights. The tendency evidently is to reduce the price of all stocks to a level at which cash dividends will offer an investment return comparable with the current price of capital.

CASH RATE FIXED

American Telephone works on a policy of paying $9 in cash annually, a fixed rate which will not be supplemented by cash extras or will not be increased, as the management has officially announced. The return to stockholders, however, is measurably increased each year through the offer of stock rights which may be sold for cash. The addition of this cash income usually swells the annual cash return by a comfortable amount.

In gloomy times like these, nevertheless, it is characteristic of the stock market that anything related to extra-stock distributions or promises of higher cash returns are discredited by a disillusioned public. "The bird in hand" attitude is uppermost, or the only accepted index to the value of a stock is what the company pays in cash each quarter.

Application of this line of reasoning to public utility companies, which most frequently employ annual subscription rights, may call for the downward adjustment of stock prices to a point where the annual return from cash dividends is reconciled to the price of capital around 5 per cent. It all depends on how long the existing attitude of pessimism continues.

On its annual cash dividend of $9, excluding the probable cash value of rights, American Telephone at 200, is selling on a 4.5 per cent basis. About 20 points lower the stock would be on a 5 per cent basis.

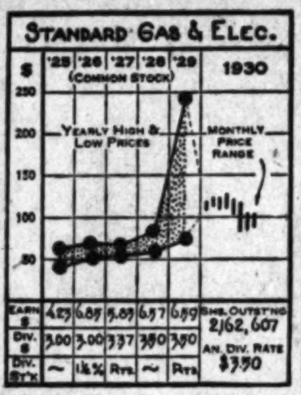
CASH YIELD LOW

Southern California Edison and Pacific Gas and Electric are two other utility stocks usually selling at prices recognizing the cash value of rights added to the regular cash dividends. On the basis of cash dividends only, the two common stocks are currently quoted, however, at prices offering an investment return of approximately 3.7 per cent.

Most industrial companies utilizing stock dividends in connection with cash payments have already realized the futility of continuing stock distributions. They are costly as a charge against earnings or surplus and virtually useless as bullish tactics in a bear market.

Public utility companies, however, are more interested in the advantages of common stock rights to raise new capital than in the attitude of the stock market concerning cash returns to stockholders. As a necessary annual practice, these companies undoubtedly will continue their offers of new common stock.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



This public utility system is one of the largest in the country, serving about 1600 communities, including the important cities of Pittsburgh, Louisville, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Oklahoma City, Muskogee, Pueblo, Sioux Falls, Seattle, Tacoma, San Diego and San Francisco. A substantial investment is carried in the common stock of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, important west coast utility, and one subsidiary, the Deep Rock Oil Corporation, is profitably engaged in the production, refining and distribution of petroleum and its products. Electric sales are the greatest source of revenue, but gas manufacturing, traction and oil properties are also important contributors to the company's income. A majority of the common stock is now controlled by Standard Power and Light Company, thus giving effect to the intercompany capital structure simplification and concentration of control undertaken at the close of last year.

For the twelve months ended June 30, 1930, net income showed a sizable increase to $16,946,654, or $6.41 a share, from the $13,574,997 net reported for 1929, equal to $6.70 on a smaller number of shares.

CAPITALIZATION

Funded debt	$476,477,000
Subs. pfd. stocks	$232,724,710
Pfd. stocks (no par)	1,276,398 shares
Common stock (no par)	2,162,607 shares

Current data: Since most of the profits are earned from operations in large cities, it is not expected that the drought in some portions of the company's territory will greatly affect revenues.

Cahill Succeeds Haile as Head of 'Katy' Road

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7. (AP)—M. H. Cahill, New York, chairman of the board of directors of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad, was elected president today at a meeting of the directors in New York, to succeed C. Haile, who is retiring from the presidency, but will remain on the board of directors, it was announced here.

Haile, who has been in active railroad service for nearly half a century, retires from active railroad work after more than forty-five years spent with the M.K.T. road.

It also was announced C. E. Schaff, former president of the M.K.T., has retired from the board of directors and will be succeeded by H. E McGee, St. Louis, executive vice-president of the road.

Safety-Razor Combine Near

BOSTON, Oct. 7. — Agreement has been reached for the consolidation of Gillette Safety Razor Company and Autostrop Safety Razor Company, it is understood here today. The necessary financing to take the form of $20,000,000 ten-year convertible 5 per cent notes and about $31,000,000 5 per cent preferred stock convertible into common stock for five years will be announced shortly, according to reports.

Proceeds of the notes would be used for working capital and the preferred stock would be offered in exchange for the 310,000 shares of Autostrop Safety Razor Company stock.

COPPER COMPANY IN DIVIDEND REDUCTION

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—Directors of Cerro De Pasco Copper Corporation today reduced the annual dividend rate to $4 from $6 by declaring a quarterly payment of $1.

The $6 rate had been in effect since the first of this year. Last year the stock paid $5.75.

PRICE ADVANCES ON COTTON MART SEAT

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The second membership of Frank M. Harpcorn on the New York Cotton Exchange has been sold for $19,000, it was announced here today. This price represents an increase of $900 over the last previous sale.

Carriers Place Large Orders of Steel and Rails

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Orders for more than 74,000 tons of steel and rail were awarded today by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, Pere Marquette and Canadian Pacific railways. Santa Fe placed an order for 60,000 tons, Pere Marquette, 13,650 tons and Canadian Pacific, 1500 tons.

The Santa Fe order is for rail and track material for the laying of 370 miles of track which will cost about $3,500,000. Rails will account for 18,000 tons. Last year the line ordered about 85,000 tons. W. B. Storey, president, recently said, however, that only minimum requirements for 1931 would be ordered at this time.

Pere Marquette has awarded 3600 tons to the Algoma Steel Company, 2000 tons to Bethlehem Steel Corporation, 4000 tons to Illinois Steel Corporation and 4050 tons to Inland Steel Corporation.

Canadian Pacific has ordered 1500 tons of steel from the Hamilton Bridge Company to be used for the erection of two viaducts in the road's Empress subdivisions near Calgary.

Smelting Unit to Pay Regular

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—Directors of the American Smelting and Refining Company today declared the regular quarterly dividends of $1 on the common, $1.75 on the preferred and $1.50 on the second preferred.

This company and Phelps Dodge Corporation are the only organizations among the larger domestic copper companies that have not reduced their dividends this year.

NEW YORK CLEARING FIGURES DECREASE

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—Total clearings of the New York clearing house during the fiscal year ended September 30 were $399,471,637,873, compared with the record figures of $456,937,947,312 last year. The total for 1928 was $368,917,656,546.

GENERAL AVIATION SUPPLANTS FOKKER

General Aviation Corporation common stock, effective yesterday, was substituted for Fokker Aircraft Corporation stock on the California Stock Exchange. Either stock will constitute delivery for General Aviation transactions.

BUSINESS OF GLOBE GRAIN HOLDING UP

Third-Quarter Tonnage Sales Gain; Value Only Shade Off from 1929

Through a substantial increase in tonnage sales for the first quarter of its fiscal year ended September 30, last, Globe Grain and Milling Company held its dollar sales volume close to the comparative quarter of last year despite the decline in prices, it was disclosed yesterday in figures released by C. C. Hine, vice-president of the company.

Tonnage sales for the three months ended September 30, last, amounted to 96,816 tons, as compared with 81,962 tons in the like 1929 period, a gain of 14,854 tons, or 18.1 per cent. The dollar sales volume for the 1930 period was $4,395,186.62, as against $4,546,080.81 in the 1929 period, a decrease of 3.3 per cent.

The increase in tonnage sales was attributed partly to the lower prices of the company's products which encouraged heavier consumption and partly to the well-favored reception of its goods, particularly in California.

Wheat flour is about $2 less on the barrel than a year ago, reflecting the purchase by the company of the cheapest wheat stocks since 1905-1906. Mr. Hine said that all indications are that any further change in prices will be upward.

As the company's present stocks have been accumulated at the low prices this year, the operating position is much improved. The company's flour mills are operating at 70 per cent of capacity, as against 68 per cent a year ago, and about 15 per cent higher than the average operations of flour mills throughout the United States.

Unit of Q.R.S. Neon Company in Long Beach

Establishment of a branch in Long Beach to care for sales and service was announced yesterday by Leonard M. Bell, president of the Q. R. S. Neon Corporation. Heavy increase in sales of Neon signs and the resultant demands for service occasioned the opening, Mr. Bell said.

The Long Beach branch makes the third opened in the last two weeks, according to Mr. Bell, Riverside and Spokane, plants having been established.

Mr. Bell, who has just returned from a trip over the eleven western States comprising the territory covered by Q. R. S. says that business has increased 25 per cent and that indications point to an even greater volume for the balance of the year.

Small Decline Shown in Daily Oil Production

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—The daily average gross crude oil production in the United States decreased 2600 barrels for the week ended the 4th inst., totaling 2,386,950 barrels, says the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute. The daily average production east of California was 1,800,750 barrels, an increase of 5300 barrels.

Refineries representing 95.4 per cent of the estimated daily potential refining capacity, operating at 67.2 per cent of their capacity, reported daily average run of crude oil to stills as 2,391,700 barrels. Daily average the previous week was 2,501,700 barrels for refineries representing 594 per cent of potential capacity operating at 70.3 per cent of their capacity.

GRAIN EXPORTS DOWN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—Exports of grains from the United States during the week ended the 4th inst., totaled 1,780,000 bushels, compared with 2,675,000 the preceding week, and 3,242,000 the corresponding week of 1929.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—The London wool sales closed on the 7th inst. with prices of all types of wool from 5 to 7½ per cent below those at the opening of the sales September 16. Prices of all wools are mostly 15 per cent below July and some wools are 20 to 25 per cent lower. According to Agricultural Commissioner Foley wool owners are either in great need of money or else expect values to go lower, because they are accepting bids privately after the sales, which they refused while the sale was in progress. Small quantities of slipped and greasy cross breds and few warped merino's were purchased by Americans during the wool sales.

BANKING GROUP OPTIMISTIC

Cleveland Convention Declares Present Depression Reaches Bottom and Upturn Due

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—"The business slump has run its course," unanimously declared the 5000 American bankers at Cleveland.

"Judged by historic precedents, we have now reached the low ebb and with the resumption of construction, very gradual but definite improvement may be expected," they believe.

That's good news to thousands of people who have been looking for work for months.

Bankers control the nation's credit. They are the key men in the picture. Money is cheap and there's plenty of it. Interest rates on savings are dropping; bond prices are stiffening. Cheap money is a strong foundation upon which to build up business activity.

Lord Melchett, the British industrial leader, was about right in his diagnosis when he said recently to a New York audience; "What America needs is not an economist, but a psychologist."

British interests and a Kansas City company, Theodore Gary & Co., have joined in the formation of the General Telephone and Electric Corporation, to control the largest number of private telephones in the world, outside of the Bell system. It was announced further that more than $20,000,000 of the stock of the new company would be acquired by the Gary interests and the Transamerica Corporation.

Who is the Theodore Gary referred to in the dispatch? At 43 years of age, Theodore Gary, Kansas City business man, was making a fair living in the little town of Macon, Mo. He had battled for twenty-five years to get ahead but had little to show for all his enthusiasm, determination and work.

Then in 1897, the Bell Telephone patents expired and Mr. Gary purchased the Macon (Mo.) Telephone Company for $7000. It was a small transaction, and he had to borrow part of the money, but it was the beginning of a business which was destined to reach gross sales of $150,000,000 annually, and manufacture and market of 80 per cent of all the automatic telephone equipment in the world.

I asked Mr. Gary, not long ago, what kind of a man he most liked to have in his employ. He replied:

"Give me a reliable average man to a brilliant, brainy, erratic one every time. The great constructive work on the world is being done, and always has been done, by the reliable, not the brilliant, ones."

And he gave me these ten working maxims:

Establish your dependability and your credit.

Be particular but not critical.

Maintain poise. Avoid the negative.

Remember thoughts are things.

Be content but not satisfied.

Hold your temper and your tongue.

Reliability rates ahead of ability.

Happiness is largely a state of mind.

Divide liberally with your associates.

Merger Charge Denied by Oil Trust Official

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Denial was made today by H. D. Sheldon, secretary of the Petroleum Corporation of America, that a consolidation is under way with Sinclair Consolidated Oil Company, as charged in the suit filed by Hyman Schapiro, a stockholder of Petroleum Corporation. The suit also asks for the appointment of a receiver, to which Mr. Sheldon replied that the company is solvent and in strong financial condition.

Supreme Court Justice Louis A. Valente reserved his decision on the motion of Schapiro's attorneys to restrain a proposed merger of Petroleum Corporation with Sinclair, and also on the request for a receiver.

Schapiro, according to the statement from the Petroleum Corporation, is the owner of 200 shares of stock, and "has for some time been attempting to induce a repurchase of his stock. Apparently he is attempting to pass on to the corporation his loss in the market value of this particular stock, comparable to the losses which investors in stocks of most coporations have suffered during the declining market of the past year."

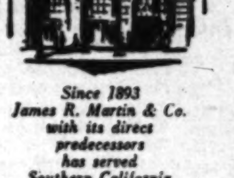
THE UPWARD TREND IN BONDS



Since 1893 James R. Martin & Co. with its direct predecessors has served Southern California Investors

"At the present time, there is very little that can stop or delay the upward movement of bond prices," states a recent issue of Moody's Investors Service, which goes ahead to predict that the heavy institutional buying over the past six months will extend to the public generally and result in a return to the price levels reached in 1928 or even higher.

In the face of such a situation, we believe no far-sighted investor can afford to overlook the opportunities for profitable investment still available in many sound bonds which have not as yet reflected this upward movement.

We have prepared a list of such issues—including both local and Eastern offerings—with yields running as high as 7%. A copy will be gladly furnished on request.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—Curb stocks closed irregularly lower today in a session in which extensive liquidation carried the utility group into new low ground for the year. A mild rally in the final hour recovered a portion of the losses and domestic utilities closed about steady. Total sales were 812,800 shares.

Electric Bond & Share was the focal point of attack. It sold down to 56¾, a new 1930 low, before rallying to finish at 62, off 1⅝ net. American & Foreign Power warrants reacted 3 points before recovering more than a point. American Gas & Electric duplicated its year's low and closed 2¾ net lower. American Superpower and United Light & Power closed steady to firm.

Driver Harris reacted 3, Deere 3, and Aviation Corporation of the Americas more than 3. American Cyanamid B was up ⅝.

With the exception of Gulf, which rested at a new 1930 minimum with a drop of 1¾ points, the oil shares were fairly steady. Cities Service, Standard of Indiana and Vacuum were fractionally higher. Goldman-Sachs reached a new year's low with a ⅛ net loss.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

The Tremendous Increase in NATIONAL WEALTH

Total national wealth of the United States in 1925 according to the Federal Trade Commission, amounted to $380,000,000,000, as against $107,000,000,000 in 1904. Per capita wealth in the same period increased nearly threefold, from $1,318 to $3,300. Former President Coolidge recently estimated the national wealth at $1,000,000,000,000.

To participate in the future growth of America, invest in the best common stocks, as a group, at present bargain prices. Buy a block of Massachusetts Investors Trust, and you get an interest in 140 stong dividend-paying stocks. ABNORMAL YEARS

WITH firm faith in the future of Southern California, in its financial institutions and in its industries, the house of JONES, HUBBARD & DONNELL has consistently concentrated its efforts toward the development of markets for high-grade local securities.

● Scarcely more than a year ago these financial and industrial corporations of Southern California were admittedly well financed. Their management was beyond criticism, and their past records of progress, earnings and dividends formed an important chapter in the history of the industrial expansion of the West. On the Stock Exchanges, their shares enjoyed wide popularity and were recording new high levels almost daily.

● However, with the inauguration of the world-wide deflation of commodity prices and the subsequent collapse of security markets since the autumn of 1929, local stocks became involved in the general liquidation which followed the demoralization of Eastern markets. During the past year of reaction, securities of the highest type have been dragged down with the poorest issues and reason has largely given way to hysteria.

● Regardless of temporary unfavorable trade conditions and the maelstrom of discouragement and pessimism so popular today, it is important to realize that these industrial and financial institutions of Southern California are just as well managed and just as sound financially today as they were a year ago and enjoy the same favorable prospects for future success. What is more important during this period of unsettlement than able management and financial stability?

● Few companies are reporting favorable earnings this year and to judge the value of securities by their 1930 earnings is as erroneous as it was to judge them by 1929 earnings, both being abnormal years they offer no fair basis for comparison. However, based on their present financial condition and past five-year record of earnings, progress and future prospects, the stock of these companies are selling at prices which cannot be justified even by the present period of utter disregard for true values.

Without predicting whether prices will advance or decline during the immediate future, we wish to emphasize our belief that these basic industries of the greatest and fastest growing section of the United States are sound; and that in spite of popular "Bearish" theories, idle rumors, and the natural pessimism which always follows the disorganization of a wild "Bull Market", the equity shares in these concerns can be safely bought for investment and for appreciation in value that is sure to come.

Stock Market Records Small Recessions at Close When Rally Follows Early Break

Encouraged by the failure of the market to sustain recent rallies bears launched another attack on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday which forced the index of thirty representative common stocks into new depths, 19 per cent below the 1929 bottom. The depression, however, was quickly followed by a pronounced technical rally and while final prices were for the most part fractionally lower than the preceding day the list was heading in an upward direction at the close.

Union Oil, Southern California Edison and Emsco were among those to break through former bottom levels. While only 1000 shares of Union Oil crossed the board the issue dipped to 33 1-4, recovering to end at 33 5-8. Edison sold briskly with a turnover of 3700 shares and sank to 52 3-4, closing later at 52 7-8, down 1 1-8 net. The low last year was 47 1-4 and the high 91 1-2. Emsco, on light sales, yielded 1-4 to hit 12 1-2.

Richfield again dominated the activity with a turnover of 3700 shares. The stock ranged between 8 7-8 and 8, and finished at 8 1-2, unchanged from the close of two preceding sessions. The preferred dipped another 1-2 to 11, while the bonds continued to sell at 75. Standard of California sold actively to hit 55 and rallied to 55 1-2 for a net gain of 1-8. Rio Grande sold off 3-8 to 10, Union Associates, 3-8 to 32 5-8, and Hancock, 1-8 to 11 1-2, while Signal, Macmillan and Bolsa Chica held steady, and Gilmore gained a point to 18.

Transamerica with sales of 4000 shares sold in less volume than usual and dipped 1-8 to 19 7-8, where it had recovered from a low of 19 1-4. Seaboard National Bank spurted 2 points to 43. Pacific Finance and Pacific Mutual eased fractionally.

Sales totaled 26,465 shares, valued at $754,347; previous day, 22,888 shares, valued at $502,227.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—Resumption of the selling movement had a devastating effect upon prices of a wide list of Brazilian bonds today. Prices slumped 1 to 16 points, reflecting the uneasiness of American investors over the revolution.

While virtually the whole list of foreign bonds was unsettled, prime domestic bonds displayed a firm undertone in dull trading.

The day was notable for the appearance of the largest piece of foreign financing of the year in the domestic market—the $100,000,000 Canadian government thirty-year 4 per cent bond issue being brought out under the auspices of an international banking group. It was oversubscribed.

The liquidation in both foreign and domestic bonds swelled the volume of business more than $14,000,000. The largest since May 1. Sao Paulo State 8s slumped 16½ points; Brazilian 8s, 15; Rio Grande Do Sul 7s and Brazilian Central Electric Railways 7s and Antioquia first 7s, 10 each. Bonds off 3 to 10 points included Brazilian 6½s, Caldas Department 7½s, Cauca Valley 7½s, Pernambuco 7s, Rio Grande Do Sul 6s of 1968, City of Sao Paulo 6½s, and Bolivian 7s of 1969.

Liquidation was extensive in some issues of Chile, Colombia, Peru, Uruguay, Argentina and Mexico, but the losses ranged from 1 to 3 points. The German International 5½s slumped 2¼ to 77½, a new year's low compared with an offering price of 90.

There were some wide changes in the domestic list, where an irregular movement prevailed. Selling dominated the trend of many stock privilege, second-grade rails and industrials, here and there a high-grade bond registered a small advance, but the majority were on the down side as reflected by the averages, off 2-10ths of a point.

There was an unusually large turnover in St. Paul Railroad issues. The 5s of 1975 yielded 1¼, and the adjustment 5s of 2000 reacted 4⅛ points to the year's low. Paramount Publix 5½s reached a new low for the year.

Treasury issues reacted slightly to announcement of the prospective sale of $100,000,000 bills. Liberty bonds were steady to firm.

If last price omitted, low and last are same. If low and last are omitted, high, low and last are same.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7. (AP)—Western stocks rallied late today after prices had been driven downward. The close was strong.

Activity was about average, running 30,035 shares, selling for a little less than $900,000. Trading was fairly well distributed among thirty stocks.

Seven stocks hit new lows, but none developed severe losses. They were Caterpillar, Calamba and Paauhau Sugars, Pacific Lighting, Union Oil of California and Standard of New York, and First National Corporation of Portland.

Transamerica closed even with yesterday's finish at 19⅞.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Rail receipts numbered 19 cars in addition to about 575 head held over from the previous day. The market continued slow with values again steady to 25c lower. Good grade steers were scarce and several loads plain Mexican types were held over. Bulls were weak.

The top on steers was 7.50, lightly sorted at 6.50 for two loads around 900 to 1000 pounds, intermountain stock. Other steers from the same territory cashed at 6.75@7.25. A load 730-pound Southwesterns went at the former figure and several loads Mexicans at 6.00@6.25, some loads carrying sorts which brought the average price below 6.00.

A load good 1056-pound northern cows garnered 6.10 with another load at 5.90. The bulk medium to good northern cows ranged at 5.25@5.75 and common southwesterns at 4.50@4.90, cuttery kinds going down to 4.25. Odd head good heifers made 7.25 with two short loads medium grade at 6.00@6.25. Low cutter and cutter cows sold at 2.25@4.50. A few odd head bulls made 6.10 and 6.25 but most were taken at 5.25@5.75.

CALVES—The market was unchanged. Local milk vealers reached 12.00 and slightly above. A few 233-pound made 11.25 and a load good 318-pound Arizona vealers 10.75. The bulk 250 to 350-pound southwestern calves were scaled at 8.00@9.10 and weightier and plainer kinds down to 7.00.

HOGS—Supplies consisted of two loads 170 to 175-pound eastern butchers which were around 25c higher at 11.25.

SHEEP—The small supply of lambs sold on a basis which looked 25c or more higher. Two decks good 72-pound Southern Utah offerings cleared at 7.00, one deck taking a light sort at 6.00. A deck feeding lambs was taken out at 5.60. A load wethers was not reported sold at a late hour. Ewes were absent and quotably unchanged.

STOCKS TRAVEL UNEVEN COURSE

markets are regarded as holding at least the germ of trade revival. Call funds held at 2 per cent as the banks withdrew about $40,000,000. There was a $79,000,000 rise in commercial loans of Federal Reserve member banks.

Official figures on steel ingot production for September revealed the average daily output of 110,307 tons was the lowest for that month since 1924. Operations were placed at 55.10 per cent of capacity.

Today's decline in stock prices attracted attention chiefly because so many issues broke to new lows. United States Steel went to 151 1-4; American Telephone to 196; General Electric to 57 5-8; General Motors to 37 1-4; New York Central to 146 1-4; Westinghouse to 131 and Radio to 23 1-8.

American Can touched a low for the decline and then rallied a point net.

There were gains of a point or more in Du Pont, National Biscuit, Southern Pacific, Sears-Roebuck and United Aircraft. Cerro De Pasco, whose annual dividend was cut to a $4 basis from $6, advanced more than 3. American and Foreign Power recovered more than half of a 5-point drop. People's Gas, down 17 points, closed 1 lower.

Foreign currencies eased.

[illegible] Union Oil Company is the [illegible] of the major group to lease [illegible] acreage within a few [illegible] of Tracy and south of the San [illegible] River in San Joaquin county, [illegible] a district that has never had [illegible] oil test.

The company has just leased 7680 [illegible] divided among perhaps a dozen owners, and about three miles [illegible] of Tracy. According to [illegible] reports there is no immediate requirement for drilling operations and it is probable that the company will make further surveys before a definite location is announced.

During the last few months [illegible] geologists have been busy [illegible] San Joaquin county making a [illegible] geological examination of [illegible] property and getting the signa[illegible] of the various property own[illegible]

[illegible] Recement

Failing to effect a water shut-off, [illegible] A. McKenna, independent operator, is preparing to recement his [illegible] 1 deep test westerly of the Potrero town lot area. Bottom of the hole is at 6210 feet, with casing set [illegible] 6179 feet. McKenna's deep test [illegible] within a short distance of the [illegible] Oil Company's Sloan No. [illegible] at present the best producer in [illegible] Potrero town lot area.

The Associated Oil Company has decided to abandon Potrero No. 3, located on the Potrero Country Club grounds. This project drilled to [illegible] feet and encountered considerable oil sand, but failure to effect [illegible] water shut-off is thought to have brought about its abandonment. Associated plans a fourth test there and is considering a new location within ninety days.

[illegible] Back to Test

The St. Helens Petroleum Company has plugged back to test upper [illegible] sand showings in Monterey No. [illegible] in the southeasterly portion of [illegible] Montebello field, having failed [illegible] develop production with bottom [illegible] of the hole at 5384 feet. A test of [illegible] showings showed a slight cut and very little gas pressure.

[illegible] In One

Completing at the rate of 1150 barrels of 26-deg. gravity oil a day, the Shell Oil Company successfully brought in Stakemiller No. 7 in the [illegible] southeasterly portion of the [illegible] Hill field, being the company's first producer there in several months. Shell's Stakemiller No. 7 is flowing from a depth of [illegible] feet. The company has nine other drilling projects in the same general vicinity.

[illegible] Site

Concrete is being poured for the Shell Oil Company's Porter No. 1-1, [illegible] direct offset to the company's Porter-Day No. 1 wildcat six miles [illegible] of Bakersfield. Site for Shell's Whorton No. 1 is being graded and both new projects are expected to be drilling ahead within [illegible] weeks. Shell's Porter-Day No. [illegible] is coring ahead in shale with [illegible] of sand below 5450 feet.

[illegible] Completions

[illegible] Meyer zone wells have just been placed on production in the [illegible] Fe Springs oil field. The [illegible] Petroleum Company's Archer No. 1 came in for eighty barrels of oil a day and the Bellview Oil Syndicate's Gross No. 1-A completed for [illegible] barrels a day.

In the Midway district, the Standard Oil Company's No. 5K-60 came [illegible] recently for 117 barrels of oil a day from a depth of 3018 feet and [illegible] company's No. 22B-113 came in [illegible] the rate of 111 barrels daily from [illegible] depth of 3015 feet. At Kern Front [illegible] Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company's No. 36 continues to put [illegible] 200 barrels a day.

[illegible] Revise Method

The Elwood Operators' Committee met yesterday at the California Oil and Gas Association's offices to consider revising the method of [illegible] production of oil among the various companies. At the close of several hours' discussion the committee announced that another meeting may be held before end of the week.

[illegible]

Following an acid-bottle test of [illegible] Bastanchury No. 1, due east of Coyote Hills, the Standard Oil Company has plugged back to about [illegible] feet and is redrilling to straighten the hole with old bottom at 7038 feet. Standard's Bastanchury No. 1 is a test to extend the present producing area of Coyote Hills.

[illegible] Oil Sand

Eighteen feet of oil sand has been cored in the United Kern Petroleum Company's Clair No. 1, one-half mile northwest of the Terra Bella Oil Company's Gardner No. 1 discovery well, southwest of Porterville in Tulare county. Oil sand was first encountered at about 800 feet.

Terra Bella's new test, located on the Miami tract north of Deer Creek, is preparing to spud in this week. This undertaking is east of the highway. A. T. Yaeger has contracted to do the drilling. The company's Zimmerman No. 1, south of Ducor, is making progress below [illegible] feet. Oil sand showings have been encountered.

WARNER QUINLAN IN SUIT SETTLEMENT

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.— Suit of certain minority stockholders of the Municipal Service Corporation for a temporary injunction restraining the Warner-Quinlan Company from using the gasoline trade names "Super X Utielo and Municipal," and from disposing of properties or other assets of the municipal Service Corporation has been settled in the Supreme Court of New York county.

DISMISSAL REFUSED IN JULIAN OIL SUIT

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 7. (AP)— The State Supreme Court today denied a motion of the C. C. Julian Oil and Royalties Company to dismiss its injunction suit attacking the constitutionality of the State oil conservation laws and the jurisdiction of the Corporation Commission to enforce proration, indicating the court intends to pass on the questions raised by the Julian company.

BOMBSHELL IN FRESNO DRY TRIAL

Woman Testifies That She Signed False Affidavit Against Federal Agent

FRESNO, Oct. 7. (AP)—Declaring she signed a false affidavit against Paul L. Mathias, Federal prohibition agent, because she was offered a reward, Mrs. Hortense Berry threw the government's first bombshell today in the trial of Thomas J. Niceley and Paul Shannon, former Federal prohibition agents, and Detective Sergeant A. B. McCreary of the Fresno police department in the Federal court.

The defendants are accused of having conspired to interfere with the operations of Mathias, at one time in charge of the prohibition bureau here, by submitting false charges to the United States Civil Service Commission, purposed to oust Mathias from his position.

The most sensational development of today's proceedings was Mrs. Berry's testimony on direct examination, that she falsely accused Mathias of misconduct because Phil Martin, an operative for Niceley, promised her payment of $50 and assistance in obtaining evidence against her husband in a divorce action.

New Company Formed for Air Line to Atlanta

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—Organization of Southern Air Fast Express, Inc., to operate between Atlanta, Ga., and Los Angeles, was announced today by the Aviation Corporation, operating company for American Airways.

The new company is the outgrowth of a joint bid submitted for the southern transcontinental air-mail contract by Robertson Aircraft Corporation, a subsidiary of American Airways, and Southwest Air Fast Express, Inc., controlled by Erle P. Halliburton.

Service on the new route will start from Atlanta and Los Angeles on the 15th inst., F. G. Coburn, president of the Aviation Corporation, who was elected president of the new company, said.

Wagner Doubts Jobless Census

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—The census figures on unemployment were challenged today by Senator Wagner, Democrat, New York, as "inaccurate" and "far below" the number actually unemployed.

The New York Senator, who sponsored legislation to provide more accurate accounting of unemployment, asserted he believed the actual number of unemployed in the nation is between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000, whereas preliminary statistics from the Census Bureau indicated about 2,500,000.

Hayes Decries 'Unnatural' Law

SOUTH BEND (Ind.) Oct. 17. (AP) The $400,000 law building just completed on the campus of Notre Dame University was dedicated today with ceremonies presided over by Patrick Cardinal Hayes of the Archdiocese of New York.

In a brief talk the cardinal declared that "man-made laws cannot force the will, and where it tries to do it you have jails and prisons filled."

He added that "any law which is a violation of the natural law is an attack on the law of God."

Three Killed as Plane Crashes

ATLANTA, Oct. 7. (AP)—Pilot Fred Ziehm, Montgomery, Ala., and two passengers, Robert Ditzon and John Dimmock of Bryson City, were killed today when an airplane in which they were flying caught fire and crashed near Bryson City, N. C.

A telephone message said the plane caught fire in midair and Ziehm made an effort to land the ship, presumably hoping to save the passengers, who were strapped in.

Seventeen Burn in Russian Club

ASTRAKHAN (U.S.S.R.) Oct. 7. (AP)—Seventeen persons, including several children, were burned to death when an upset kerosene lamp caused a fire in a workers' club near here during a motion-picture performance.

Fourteen others were severely scorched and many slightly injured.

NANKING REPORTS REVOLT NEAR END

NANKING, Oct. 7. (AP)—The Nationalist government asserted tonight its troops had driven Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang and the majority of his 100,000 rebels across the Yellow River in Honan Province and the end of six months' rebellion was in sight. Chengchow, important rebel base, according to the unconfirmed Nationalist claims, had fallen to Nationalists led by President Chiang Kai-shek after weeks of stubborn resistance. Westward of Chengchow, other Nationalist forces were reported to have captured Honanfu, beating back Northern Alliance rebels who had dug in along the Haichow-Tungkwan Railway.

KRUPP COMPANY MAY DISMISS EMPLOYEES

ESSEN (Germany) Oct. 7. (AP)—The Krupp Company announced today that owing to the unfavorable business outlook it will be necessary to dismiss 2500 employees in November unless prospects improve.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Gobernador Mejicano que Visita al de Nuevo Méjico

SANTA FE (Nuevo Méjico), Octubre 7.—El coronel Filiberto Gómez, gobernador del Estado de Méjico, en la vecina república, ha llegado hoy a esta ciudad para corresponder oficialmente a la visita que le hizo el invierno pasado en Toluca el gobernador Dillon de Nuevo Méjico. Después de pasar dos o tres días con el gobernador Dillon, saldrán para Los Angeles el coronel Gómez y sus acompañantes, con el fin de concurrir a un congreso internacional de carreteras.

Excursionistas Mejicanos que se Ahogan en el Lago de Chapala

GUADALAJARA, Octubre 7.—De veintiuna personas que fueron ayer a una jira de recreo a Tizipán, en el Lago de Chapala, sólo seis regresaron hoy.

Los excursionistas se embarcaron en una lancha para atravesar el lago, y cuando se hallaban como a medio camino se desató fuerte tormenta, que echó a pique la embarcación. Se ahogaron diez de los que la ocupaban, y cinco más han desaparecido.

Por Enfermedad, Tuvo que Aplazar su Vuelo Kingsford-Smith

El capitán de fragata Charles Kingsford-Smith, aviador transatlántico, contrajo nuevo ataque de influenza, que lo tiene en cama y lo ha obligado a posponer su proyectado vuelo a Australia, el que había esperado poder comenzar hoy.

Tal Vez Despida Muchos Operarios la Compañía Krupp

ESSEN (Alemania), Octubre 7.—Ha anunciado hoy la Compañía Krupp que, en virtudes de la desfavorable perspectiva que ofrecen los negocios, va a ser necesario, si las cosas no cambian, despedir 2500 empleados en Noviembre próximo.

El Tío Samuel Descontará las Pérdidas en las Carreras

CHICAGO, Octubre 7.—Hay manera, según explicó hoy Robert E. Neeley, teniente recaudador de renta interior, de substraer de la renta las pérdida, en las carreras de caballos, y, por consiguiente, de no pagar impuesto sobre ellas.

"Las personas que pierden dinero apostando a caballos vencidos pueden, en determinadas condiciones, deducir esas pérdidas de sus rentas líquidas al calcular el impuesto sobre la renta pagadero en Marzo próximo", dijo aquel caballero.

El contribuyente tendrá que probar que hizo la apuesta, que tenía derecho legal para hacerla, y que el caballo a que apostó perdió la carrera.

No podrán deducirse las pérdidas sufridas en otros juegos, como dados, naipes, etc.

Las apuestas ganadas estarán sujetas al impuesto sobre la renta, y, claro está que en tal caso no exige el gobierno prueba de la ganancia. "Cuando la ha habido", dijo el señor Neely, "el Tío Samuel hace confianza en los ganadores".

Pistolero Hallado Muerto en un Automóvil

NUEVA YORK, Octubre 7.—Herbert Irving Roberts, pistolero y "racketeer", ha sido encontrado muerto hoy en el asiento de atrás de un auto abandonado en el barrio de residencias del Bronx. Tenía un balazo en la sien.

Roberts, según los archivos de la policía, era conocido como pistolero y timador por la fuerza pública de todas las grandes ciudades del país. De 1912 a la fecha, había recorrido casi todas las cárceles desde California hasta Detroit.

Tal Vez se Abandone el Primer Ferrocarril Construido en Este País

WASHINGTON, Octubre 7.—La Compañía del Ferrocarril Delaware and Hudson está pensando en abandonar el primer tramo de la vía férrea construido en los Estados Unidos, que es el que corre de Racket Brook a Honesdale Junction (Pensilvania). Tiene veinticuatro millas de largo y fue construido entre 1928 y 1929. Es más viejo que la locomotora de vías férreas, pues se construyó, antes del uso de ésta, para llevar por gravedad la antracita de las minas de Carbondale hasta el Canal de Delaware y el Hudson.

Hoy se ha comunicado a la Comisión del Comercio entre Estados que esa línea secundaria ha sido desde hace muchos años de poca utilidad para el actual sistema del Delaware and Hudson.

Han Sido Atrapados dos Penados Fugitivos

SAN QUINTIN, Octubre 7.—Hoy se le notificó al alcaide Holohan la captura cerca de Napa, de G. W. Kidd y Wilmer C. Spivey, penados que se escaparon ayer de un campamento de caminos en un automóvil robado.

Iban los fugitivos caminando por la carretera rumbo a Napa, cuando les echaron el guante el capitán Christley y Fred Eberhart, ambos de la brigada de tráfico del condado de Napa, quienes encontraron el auto abandonado en una cuneta. Los presos fueron encerrados en la cárcel del condado referido.

NOTAS LOCALES

Se Hacen Preparativos para la Llegada del Cardenal

Se espera aquí noticia definida del arribo a ésta del cardenal Patrick Hayes, de la arquidiócesis de Nueva York, y ya se hacen preparativos para su visita a la diócesis de Los Angeles y San Diego.

El cardenal Hayes, acompañado de Monseñor Stephen Ronohue y de Monseñor Vincent Arcese, salió el lunes de Nueva York para hacer un viaje por el Canadá, California y el Oeste. Vienen invitados por el Marqués George MacDonald, de Nueva York.

No se sabe la hora a que llegarán a Los Angeles, pues viajarán de Chicago a Banff por las Rocallosas canadienses. Irán luego en auto por el camino real transcanadiense hasta Golden, y de allí a Vancouver. Desde este punto vendrán en vagón especial a San Francisco y Los Angeles.

El cardenal Hayes y sus acompañantes visitarán el Valle del Yosemite, y volverán a Chicago por el Gran Cañón.

HARBOR PLAN APPROVED

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 7. (AP)—Gov. Young issued a statement today approving the $10,000,000 construction program outlined for San Francisco Harbor and made possible by Proposition No. 9 on the November election ballot.

CARGO SERVICE LINES COMBINE

Fleets of Redwood, Swayne & Hoyt Merge

Report of Deal Confirmed at Local Offices

Fifteen Vessels to Ply in Gulf-Pacific Trade

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Merger of Swayne & Hoyt and the Redwood Line, operators of two competing freight fleets between Pacific Coast and Gulf of Mexico ports, was confirmed by word to local offices from executives in San Francisco yesterday.

The new combination already is in process and will be completed early next month, when the last of the Redwood Line ships arrive on the Puget Sound and are turned over to Swayne & Hoyt. The latter will dominate, and it is understood the personnel of the Redwood Line will be discontinued.

Under present conditions the merged fleet will comprise seven Swayne & Hoyt ships and six of the Redwood Line, with more ships available as cargo offerings warrant.

The merger will permit of sailings from Mobile and New Orleans westbound every eight or nine days. Eastbound there will be sailings from the Pacific Coast to those points every sixteen or eighteen days, and other sailings at like intervals from this Coast to foreign Caribbean ports as well as to Corpus Christi, Lake Charles, Port Arthur and Tampa.

An advantageous agreement with the Illinois Central Railroad permitting transhipment of cargo to and from the Pacific Coast and inland Mississippi River points will be continued. Redwood Line first attained such agreement, and was followed by a like arrangement between the railroad company and Swayne & Hoyt. Other lines are reported after similar agreements.

NEW RAIL RATE HEARING ON TODAY

New coast line railroad freight rates recently ordered by the State Railroad Commission will be submitted by the Southern Pacific to the commission at the latter's offices in the Associated Realty Building, Los Angeles, at 10 a.m. today. Tomorrow at the same place the commission will hear the objections of a joint committee of the San Pedro and Wilmington chambers of commerce and of the Los Angeles Harbor Department, represented by L. H. Stewart. H. R. Brashear, rate expert for the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, also will attend as intervenor.

The hearings follow others months ago where the port chambers charged prejudicial coast rates favoring San Francisco in the territory between that city and Los Angeles Harbor. The State Railroad Commission ruled such prejudice did exist, and gave Southern Pacific the choice of lowering rates to and from Los Angeles Harbor, or raising them at the San Francisco end.

The railroad company elected the latter. The new schedule submitted, however, is declared by the port chambers to be still prejudicial, and their representations will be aired tomorrow.

Heavy southeast swells were developing in Los Angeles' outer harbor yesterday and in the afternoon hampered the San Francisco Bridge Company so much it temporarily suspended repair work on the government-owned Reservation Point. Company officials believed the swell to be the aftermath of a storm which developed hurricane force 1200 miles south three days ago. The globe-girdling freighter Javanese Prince, arrived here yesterday after passing through the hurricane, and the Shepard Line freighter Windrush, also caught in the big blow, is delayed in arrival until tomorrow. The latter is reported to have experienced a slight shifting of her cargo.

The new Swedish motor tankship Capella is due on her maiden voyage from Swedish yards Friday to undergo long-term charter to the Chile Steamship Company. She has a capacity of 60,000 barrels. The Capella, the British Star and the Norwegian-owned Velma were signed eighteen months ago for their present charters. Since then low copper prices caused reduced operations in Chile mines, curtailing fuel consumption. As a result the company's three American tankers are being laid up here temporarily.

Bismarck Houssels, president of the new California Fish Canners' Association, and Sam Hornstein, a director, will leave the harbor tomorrow night for San Francisco to attend a meeting of the association the 10th inst. Selection of a manager for the association is believed possible at this meeting.

Panama Pacific liner California, upon reaching New York from here, reported its surgeon, Dr. Charles W. Allen, treated two illnesses on other ships successfully by radio en route. From symptoms radioed from the Danish freighter Australian a seaman's case was diagnosed as acute sinus trouble and the prescription afforded relief. At the same time he treated a seaman on the Columbian by radio for gastric ulcer.

Lieut. J. A. Fletcher, executive officer at section base No. 17 of the Coast Guard Service, returned to duty yesterday after a month's leave hunting in the mountains of Northern California. He got one shot at a deer, but that wasn't enough. He tried trout fishing, too, but threw his pole away.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Bard's, Eighth between Broadway and Hill—"For the Defense."

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"All Quiet on the Western Front." Remarque's powerful drama of war, with Lew Ayres.

California, Main near Eighth—"Las Campanas de Capistrano." A historical romance of early California proves rather interesting.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Holiday." A film play of quality and delight with Ann Harding at her best in defense of youth.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"The Big Trail." Spectacular in setting and photography, this production demonstrates the power and sweep of Grandeur film.

Figueroa, Figueroa at Santa Barbara—"For the Defense." The clash between law and crime offers interest and William Powell.

Filmarte, 1228 North Vine — "Blackmail." An English murder takes the form of a cinema experiment.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"Love Among the Millionaires." Clara Bow is at the bottom of it, but you can't keep that girl down.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"The Last of the Duanes." A western thriller, with George O'Brien furthering the adventures of Buck Duane.

Majestic, Bdwy. at 9th—"Old English." The faultless George Arliss up to his masterly tricks again.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Animal Crackers." The Four Marx Brothers in bursts of insanity.

Pantages, Hollywood at Vine—"The Sea God." Richard Arlen enacts the lead in this symposium of the South Seas.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"The Santa Fe Trail." Romance and melodrama are provided in pleasant doses by a capable cast.

Ritz, Wilshire at La Brea—"Our Blushing Brides." Those modern gals are up to things again. Joan Crawford.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Leathernecking." Marines and South Sea Islands provide the plot for this musical comedy film.

R.K.O., Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Half Shot at Sunrise." A war comedy which ought to bombard the box-office. Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey.

Tower, Bdwy. at 8th—"Sins of the Children." A sympathetic scene of a family struggle poignantly interpreted by Louis Mann.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"Raffles." A comedy adventure provides room for Ronald Colman's gallantry.

United Artists, Broadway near 9th—"Whoopee." Opens tonight.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"The Office Wife." A modern Cinderella goes on a quest for happiness. Dorothy Mackaill and Lewis Stone.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Big Boy." Jolson at his best in one of his old hits.

Wilshire, 8440 Wilshire Blvd.—"Let's Go Native." Fun and foolishness by the Paramount players. Jack Oakie.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"The Crimson Hour." Lurid melodrama for those susceptible to Pauline Frederick's charms.

Biltmore, 5th and Grand—"Death Takes a Holiday." A fantasy somewhat slow in reaching its dream. Henry Daniel.

El Capitan, Holly'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath." Charlotte Greenwood strides onto the stage, and the play matters not at all. Destined for a healthy and wealthy run.

Hollywood Playhouse, Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"Kongo." The tropics will surely get you if you don't watch out and Charles Middleton is the victim.

Mayan, Hill near 11th—"Temptations of 1930." A modern revue exhibiting some tuneful songs, clever dancing and colorful ensemble work.

BURLESQUE

Follies, Main at Fourth—Burlesque.

Southland Well Represented at Chamber's Meet

The Southern California Council will be well represented at California's State Chamber of Commerce conference, scheduled to convene in San Francisco the 23rd and 24th inst.

"Invitations from President Koster of the State chamber to councilmen and committeemen of this region," President Young of the local council states, "have met with a whole-hearted response. Problems of this district in all the economic phases of agriculture, industry, foreign trade, publicity, highways, aviation, conservation, street and highway safety are vital not only to us here, but to the State as a whole.

"The truism that a chain is only as strong as its weakest link applies to our State and community. California's strength in her progressive development lies in the united strength of her integral districts, and, inasmuch as all our problems have a State-wide phase, it is necessary that we have State-wide co-operation."

Excavating for Drug Building to Start Today

Steam shovels early today are to start excavations at the site of the new Brunswig Drug Company Building at Second street and Central avenue, following the award of the general contract last night to MacDonald & Driver by Albert C. Martin, architect. Contract price is $126,890.

The steel contract was let one month ago to the McClintic-Marshall Company, at $110,000, and the balance of the contracts, including elevator installation, will be let within two weeks, Architect Martin stated. The building, a six-story, Class-A steel-frame structure, is to be completed in four months and its construction is expected to set a time record. The steel now is at the site.

GREAT CAST WILL SING IN 'MIGNON'

Clare Clairbert to Have Soprano Part in Eighth Opera of Present Season

A brilliant cast that includes Clare Clairbert, Brussels soprano; Queena Mario, soprano; Beniamino Gigli, tenor, and Ezio Pinza, bass, all of the Metropolitan, and Elinor Marlo of Los Angeles, will sing "Mignon" tomorrow night in the Shrine Auditorium, eighth of the ten operas in the Los Angeles Grand Opera Association's annual season.

Tomorrow's opera will be conducted by Wilfred Pelletier, of the Metropolitan, who will make his only appearance of the season. The Serge Oukrainsky ballet is to make its final appearance.

The remaining operas after tomorrow night are "Girl of the Golden West," which will be given Saturday, with Maria Jeritza, and "Lucia," with Clairbert, which will bring the season to a close Monday.

Assessments on Figueroa Street Given Approval

The City Council yesterday confirmed the assessments for the widening and opening of Figueroa street from Manchester avenue to One Hundred and Ninetieth street. The costs are $360,000. Councilman Henning said that while no allocation has been made for the opening, he feels sure a substantial appropriation from city funds can be made for the physical improvement. He added that within two weeks the Board of Supervisors will have launched plans for carrying the artery through from One Hundred and Ninetieth street to the harbor.

The Council also confirmed the assessments for the widening of Slauson avenue between Central avenue and Figueroa street. The hearing of protests against the improvement of streets in the Marengo street and State street district was continued until next Tuesday.

Bebe and Marie, Screen Sisters, to Be Kinfolk

Marie Mosquini and Bebe Daniels long have been close friends, just like sisters, and Miss Daniels's uncle is the famous Dr. Lee DeForest, radio and sound-film inventor, and that is how Miss Mosquini and Dr. DeForest came together, a friend explained last night.

So now the actress and the inventor are to be married as soon as his wife's divorce decree becomes absolute, he announces.

It will be the third marital venture for each, Dr. DeForest said the wedding is to take place in a month or two. He is not just certain when his decree becomes final. His last wife, he said, got a divorce in a remote New York county some months ago in order to avoid publicity.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should try Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 20 years of study.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and help overcome constipation. Take nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes sold yearly. 15c, 30c, 60c.—[Advertisement.

IF AT FIRST MARRIAGE FAILS

"Try Again," Theory of Film Couple

Alan Roscoe and Barbara Bedford

"IT TAKES a divorce as well as a marriage to make a man and woman acquainted with each other." This was Barbara Bedford's explanation when she appeared at the marriage license bureau yesterday on the arm of her divorced husband, Alan Roscoe, stage and screen actor, to file notice of intention to wed.

The couple were first married in 1921 and Miss Bedford, a screen actress, obtained a divorce in 1928. Since that time, however, they have been friendly, and a month ago they decided it would be better to launch on the sea of matrimony once more.

"The second trial, I am sure, will be the successful one, and this time it will be easy," she said.

"We have found that there was no one else in the world for each of us," was Roscoe's statement.

There is no date for the wedding inasmuch as Roscoe is busy in an R.-K.-O. production.

In getting her divorce from Roscoe, Miss Bedford stated that her husband remarked he was not fit for the "slavery of double harness." Now, however, he has changed his mind, she says. They have one daughter, Barbara, 8 years of age. Miss Bedford is 27 and Roscoe 43 years of age.

COMMUNIST QUIZ OPENS HERE TODAY

Congressional Committee to Begin Inquiry Into Reds' Activities

Conducting a nation-wide investigation into the activities of Communists in the United States that may result in legislation whereby convicted Reds will be deported as undesirable aliens, a Congressional committee will open its first sessions here at 10 a.m. today in the Federal Building to survey local Communism conditions.

If the investigation follows lines of that conducted in San Francisco earlier in the week, political officials, Federal immigration officers, National Guard officers and American Legion leaders will give testimony.

It is expected that Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., chairman of the investigating committee, also will call at least one local Red leader to give the Communists' version of their Los Angeles efforts.

This procedure was carried out in San Francisco and resulted in Reds flatly stating they are working to overthrow the government of the United States and substitute that of Russia, set up and supported by 1 per cent of the Russian population.

It was admitted in the Bay City hearing that Pacific Coast Reds are members of the Third International with headquarters in Moscow and under direct control of Russian Reds.

During its stay here the committee will make headquarters at the Alexandria.

New Site for Division Police Station Picked

A resolution asking the City Council to purchase the property at the southeast corner of Santa Barbara avenue and Harvard Boulevard for $30,000 as the site of the new University division police station was passed unanimously yesterday by the Police Commission.

The action followed a report by Commissioner Wehn, chairman of the committee appointed to inspect more than a dozen sites. Wehn reported that the property is in a business district, with 130 feet frontage on Santa Barbara avenue and ninety-six feet on Harvard Boulevard.

The present University station is to be vacated to make way for the extension of Hoover street.

PLANS MADE FOR ARRIVAL OF CARDINAL

Date for Hayes's Visit to Southland Still Unfixed; Yosemite to Be Viewed

Definite word as to the date of the arrival here of Cardinal Patrick Hayes of the archdiocese of New York is awaited here but plans were considered yesterday for his visit to the diocese of Los Angeles and San Diego.

Cardinal Hayes, accompanied by Rt. Rev. Mgr. Stephen Donohue and Mgr. Vincent Arcese, left New York Monday on their trip through Canada, California and the West. They are the guests of Marquis George MacDonald of New York.

The itinerary of the party leaves the exact time of their arrival in Los Angeles unsettled, as they will travel from Chicago to Banff in the Canadian Rockies. They expect to motor over the Trans-Canada Highway to Golden and thence to Vancouver, B. C. From this point they will travel in their private car to San Francisco and thence to Los Angeles.

Cardinal Hayes and party will visit Yosemite National Park and return to Chicago by way of the Grand Canyon.

VENICE DRILLING PERMITTED

With Councilman Williams voting no, the City Council yesterday gave permission to Madeline L. McGill, Grace M. Hall, Elizabeth Gardner and Thomas Strain to drill for oil in the Venice field west of the Speedway. This being the second reading, the ordinances were adopted.

SURPRISE WELL SPURTING

Belridge Deep Producer in Kern County Opens Up Vast Potential Field

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

Completion of the Belridge Oil Company's No. 15 well in the Vaqueros formation of the North Belridge district of Kern county yesterday came as one of the greatest recent surprises in the oil industry. Perhaps the outstanding thing about it is that it apparently proves up hundreds and perhaps thousands of acres in that area for deep-gusher production of high-gravity oil.

With bottom at 5475 feet the hole has 503 feet of oil formation to draw from. Yesterday it started flowing without swabbing while the crew was preparing for a production test. Arrangements had been made to blow off the gas through a high stack 600 feet from the well as a protection against fire. Late yesterday the well was flowing through four one-inch "beans."

One man's guess was as good as another's as to the amount of oil that was going into the air, and the estimates ranged from 1200 to 3500 barrels, while the gas output was rated at 20,000,000 to 50,000,000 cubic feet. The gas pressure on the casing was 800 pounds, with 840 pounds on the tubing. While the general opinion is that the oil is black, similar to that in the Kettleman Hills, small samples appear to be amber. The gravity test is rated at 50 deg.

The well is situated perhaps thirty-five miles southeast of the Kettleman Hills and about the same distance slightly northwest from Bakersfield. Production experts assert that the formation is unquestionably the same as that from which the large wells at Kettleman Hills are producing, but they declare that the two fields are not otherwise related. Some experts' opinion is that the North Belridge deep stuff may be

HUNTING FRIEND LEADS TO JAIL

Capitalist Experiences Queer Anaheim Adventure

At Wrong House He Falls Under Suspicion

Explains to Judge After Night in Cell

The troubles of a Los Angeles citizen looking for the home of an Anaheim friend after 10 o'clock at night and the resulting train of circumstances, which lead through both the Anaheim and Fullerton city jails, were related yesterday in the Anaheim police court.

It all started Monday night when H. F. Grosse, 526 South Oxford avenue, owner of a large office building at 126 West Sixth street, and other valuable properties, decided upon an evening automobile ride to Santa Ana. On the return journey Grosse sought to call on a friend, and turning off the main highway through Anaheim stopped in front of a well-lighted house, thinking it was the address he sought.

The rest of the story was told yesterday when Grosse appeared before Municipal Judge Tausch of Anaheim to answer a charge of being a suspicious character and a vagrant.

EXPLAINS TO JUDGE

Grosse said that a cursory examination of the house, which proved to be the home of O. E. Hansen, banker of Anaheim, convinced him that he had forgotten the location of the residence he sought.

He told how he and his chauffeur, F. B. Reese, upon discovering their mistake, proceeded on their way only to be stopped after driving about six miles by a party of men in a large car. One of the occupants, B. H. Sidnam, a guest at the home of Mr. Hansen, where a party had been in progress, had sought the aid of the Anaheim constable in capturing Grosse and his chauffeur, charging they had been acting in a suspicious manner by looking in the windows of the Hansen home.

Grosse and Reese were taken to the Anaheim jail, which being full, resulted in their transfer to the Fullerton jail, where, despite their angry protests, they were held on vagrancy and suspicion charges.

Yesterday morning when they appeared before Judge Tausch, Grosse quoted the justice as saying: "What were you doing driving through Anaheim after 10 o'clock at night—what reason did you have for being abroad at that hour of the night?"

Upon Grosse's proof of identification as a substantial citizen and owner of valuable real estate, Judge Tausch dismissed the case, Grosse said.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Judge Tausch last night said that an investigation of Grosse's movements had been made with nothing found that would uphold the charges against him, but that he had accepted a plea of guilty to a charge of loitering and imposed a suspended jail sentence of six months.

Grosse said he was held in the Fullerton jail all Monday night and not released from the custody of the Anaheim police officers until late yesterday afternoon when he was allowed to return home, leaving behind him a complete record of his Bertillion measurements and fingerprints.

Man Dead Ten Years Remains on City Payroll

How a city employee who has been dead ten years remained on the city pay roll as a laborer with a mule team in the City Engineering Department, was revealed yesterday when the Civil Service Commission granted the request of City Engineer Jessup that the job be maintained in the name of the widow.

C. Granucci is the name of the deceased laborer. He was one of a number chosen from the civil service eligible list more than ten years ago because he had the mule team, which brought his pay to $8.25 a day.

The widow, Mrs. Carmino Granucci, failed to inform the engineering department that her husband was dead and hired John Griffo to take his place with the team. She cashed the checks, since her initial was the same as her late husband's, according to the information furnished to the Civil Service Commission.

The widow now is on the pay roll with a mule team, with Griffo substituting as laborer, according to the new arrangement.

THIS IS A WHALE OF A STORY

Whale Capturers Wail that Rail Line Wouldn't Let Their Dead Whale Have Rail Ride to San Diego for Whale of a Time Inside Show Rail

Whether a railway company is required by Federal law to transport a stuffed and embalmed whale over its system is largely a question for a jury to decide, it was ruled yesterday by United States District Judge James. The court overruled a demurrer to a complaint for $20,000 damages, asked in the action filed by H. W. Fowzer, W. W. Counts and W. W. Barie, and decided that the case must go to trial. The defendant is the Santa Fe Railway.

The plaintiffs assert that they captured a sixty-ton whale near Newport Beach, had it partly stuffed and embalmed and placed on a railway car. It was sent to Santa Ana, they assert, and there arrangements were made for shipment by the Santa Fe Railway to San Diego, together with ten men to keep the dead whale company. It is asserted that the plaintiffs had made arrangements to exhibit the whale at San Diego for about two weeks, during the American Legion convention, beginning August 14, 1929.

The complaint declares that the railway company later refused to transport the whale, not having a tariff schedule for whales. It also is intimated that the city of San Diego recently nearly caused an international situation when it dumped a stray whale on the Mexican coast.

The plaintiffs assert they are entitled to recovery of money expended in anticipation of profits of exhibition and for loss of money which might have been gained in gate receipts.

OIL INSTITUTE MOVED HERE

Western Headquarters of National Organization Transferred From San Francisco

Official recognition of Los Angeles as the oil capital of California came yesterday when announcement was made by the American Petroleum Institute of the removal of its western headquarters from San Francisco to Los Angeles. The San Francisco offices closed yesterday, and the local offices will open Friday at 1302-1303 Security Title Insurance and Guarantee Building, southeast corner of Sixth street and Grand avenue.

NORVAL WHITE

The institute, at the same time, is moving into the Quinby Building, at Seventh and Grand avenue, its department for the adjudication of weights and measures for the oil industry. The headquarters office will be handled by Norval White, who has been assistant secretary in charge of the San Francisco offices for the last six years. Before that he did special work on the Pacific Coast for three years and prior to that time was in the New York headquarters. He has been with the institute for twelve years.

The American Petroleum Institute has been in existence for approximately fourteen years. For many years prominent oil men of California have sought to have the western offices moved here from San Francisco, but the change was not ordered until recently. The organization concerns itself chiefly with national problems confronting the industry. For several years one of its chief undertakings has been that of standardization of oil-field equipment.

In its new quarters the American Petroleum Institute will still devote itself to the national problems of the industry, while about one block distant from its headquarters, the California Oil and Gas Association, which was organized in Los Angeles nearly twenty-five years ago, maintains its offices in the Associated Realty Building, Sixth and Olive streets, where it handles what might be termed the local problems of the California oil industry. Through this office the production curtailment program, State-wide in scope, now is being carried on.

AIRPORT TO ARM TODAY FOR BATTLE

Coast Artillery Will Defend Burbank Field from Bomb Attacks

Preceded by a police escort, approximately thirty trucks bearing 250 men and officers of the Sixty-third Regiment, Coast Artillery Corps, Antiaircraft, from Fort MacArthur, San Pedro, are scheduled to advance through Los Angeles this morning en route to United Airport, Burbank, where the forces will pitch camp to execute a complicated military problem for the protection of Los Angeles against a theoretical aircraft attack.

The Fort MacArthur contingent will be joined by 100 men and three officers of the Sixth Regiment, Coast Artillery Corps, Fort Winfield Scott, San Francisco, at the airport.

With the port as general headquarters the soldiers will complete two bands of outposts between here and San Diego in preparation for the surprise air "attacks" that will be made by eight planes from Rockwell Field, San Diego, on the 13th, 14th and 15th inst.

Antiaircraft guns, machine guns and 5,000,000,000 - candle - power searchlights will be transported today from Fort MacArthur to be set up at the airport for the mimic repulse of the bombing planes.

Lieut.-Col. Willis Peace will be in command during the exercises, with Maj. Felix E. Gross, commander of the Sixty-third Regiment, and Maj. K. B. Lemmon, commander of Fort MacArthur, as co-operating officers.

During their encampment on the flying-field the soldiers will pitch their tents on the grass sections between the landing runways.

G.O.P. CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED

Attorney Silberberg Heads Southland Efforts to Roll Up 1,000,000 Votes

An aggressive campaign throughout California to roll up more than 1,000,000 votes for the Republican State ticket in the November election was begun yesterday following the selection of Attorney Mendel B. Silberberg of Los Angeles as Republican campaign director for Southern California. Harry Sperb of San Francisco has been chosen as Republican manager in Northern California.

The State-wide plan of campaign was perfected at a conference called by Louis B. Mayer, motion-picture producer and vice-chairman of the Republican State Central Committee.

Those in attendance included Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, Republican gubernatorial nominee; State Senator Frank F. Merriam of Long Beach, Republican nominee for Lieutenant-Governor; Marshall Hale of San Francisco, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee; Mark L. Requa of Santa Barbara, and more than a score of Republican leaders from all sections of California.

Southern California headquarters will be opened in Los Angeles next week and immediate steps begun to enlist the active co-operation of Republican leaders and organizations throughout this section of the State, Director Silberberg said.

The conference of Republicans called by Vice-Chairman Mayer was marked by complete harmony on every campaign detail, Mr. Mayer announced.

Those in charge of the Republican ticket, it was said, are going to make strenuous efforts to bring out the largest expression of Republicanism in the history of the State, not only as an indication of support for the party's nominee, but as proof of the solid backing which California Republicans are prepared to give President Hoover two years hence.

LUBITSCH-KRALY 'ROUND 2' DRAW

Film Director and Writer Swap Glares at Opera

Estranged Wife May Marry Friend After Divorce

Husband, Learning to Box, Lauds Spouse's "Sock"

Ernst Lubitsch, film director, and his friend of many years, Hans Kraly, film writer, who fought the famous battle of the Embassy Club last Saturday night—as related exclusively in yesterday's issue of The Times—met face to face again at the Grand Opera at the Shrine Auditorium on Monday night, but Lubitsch failed to deliver the promised punch on Kraly's chin.

Kraly was accompanied to the opera by Mrs. Helene Lubitsch, divorced wife of the German director, and although they brushed past each other several times, no blows were exchanged nor was a word spoken between them. Witnesses said many glares were exchanged, however.

LEARNS TO BOX

On the top of all this it was learned yesterday that Lubitsch is now and has been for some time engaged in taking boxing lessons from Perry Hunt, athletic manager at the Paramount studio, where he directs his pictures. Lubitsch has been taking lessons for some time but his friends assert his interest has become more manifest since Saturday night, when he took a punch at Kraly while the latter was dancing with Mrs. Lubitsch on the crowded floor of the club at a benefit party given by Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks.

Whether or not his renewed interest in the manly art of self-defense has any connection with the event of last Saturday night his friends did not venture to say. In any event, from what occurred at the opera Lubitsch apparently was not prepared for a second foray.

NEW EVDELOPMENTS

Developments in the Lubitsch-Kraly fued fell thick and fast yesterday on the heels of the exclusive story published in The Times giving first details of the sensational fistic encounter.

There came the first inkling that Mrs. Lubitsch may marry her husband's former best friend when her divorce becomes final. Of this she is not exactly sure, saying time will tell.

Kraly declared yesterday their meeting at the opera was "embarrassing to say the least," and that Lubitsch crossed their path several times.

WALKED "TO SHOW HIM"

"Perhaps he wants me to start something the next time," said Kraly. "I'm too smart for that. I have always fought, as we all are requested to do, to upkeep the dignity of motion pictures. I could only be the loser and I am sure he wants to injure my reputation.

"During intermission at the opera Mrs. Lubitsch and I got up and walked around in the halls just to show him we were willing to forget and that we were not afraid of anything he might do.

"My invitation for him to meet me to talk things over or to take any course he may desire as a gentleman and not in public is still open to him."

Lubitsch came back with a statement saying many things his former wife said about him are not correct.

"Mrs. Lubitsch says jealousy was the cause," he asserted. "She knows better, and she also knows that several points of her statement are not quite correct; but I don't think this is a matter to be discussed before the public.

"SHE SOCKED ME"

"The only point that is 100 per cent correct in Mrs. Lubitsch's statement is that she socked me when she came to the rescue of Mr. Kraly. Naturally, I couldn't hit back, and when a man, talking in pugilistic terms, does not defend himself, it is called a technical knockout so I would say Mrs. Lubitsch scored a technical knockout over her husband in the first round.

HAS STRONG PUNCH

"I am also glad to state that Mrs. Lubitsch has a pretty strong punch, and I think that when her punch develops just a little more she has a bright future ahead. I shall say no more."

"Why shouldn't I have a good punch after being married to him for seven years?" was Mrs. Lubitsch's retort. "I had to protect myself in the clinches. But that is

MY IDEA of nothing is to stand in the hot sun to find out about whether a band of ball players hired by a man in St. Louis can beat a band of ball players hired by a man in Philadelphia.

INDIAN SUMMER

This may be Indian summer and as such is entitled to sizzle a little, but last year Indian summer lasted until December 21. It seemed as though that summer never could put the brakes on.

A LOST LANGUAGE

The fiesta at Pala turned out to be one of the most interesting and colorful affairs I have ever witnessed.

What interested me most were the old Indian dances—worn old men shuffling through the steps while the old women sang—strange chants sung in quarter-tones—a sound apparently possible to an Indian throat.

The language in which they sang is a mystery. Those who speak the Luiseno language do not know the meaning of the words they sing. It is some language reaching back into a dim past when these Indians came—countless centuries in the past—to drive out some earlier people.

My friend Albanes, the leader of the Indian songs, says he believes it to be a sort of priest language which bore the same relation to the ordinary language of the Indians as the Latin of the Catholic church bears to English or Spanish, or whatever the language of the congregation may be. Those who have lived among the Sioux tell me that the men of that tribe have a language that they speak only at formal councils.

AIR IS SAFE

My friend, Clarence Brown, the movie director, who is trying to inveigle me into an airship trip, says that—pooh, pooh, the air is perfectly safe.

Sure—but the British dirigible disaster and the crash of two German passenger ships, all within forty-eight hours, are not convincing arguments.

ALL-YEAR SCHOOLS

The question is again being agitated of schoolhouses that will remain open throughout the twelve months of the year.

This would seem to be a question to which there is only one side.

If a big tire factory, for instance, remained closed for one-fourth of the year, then had to build a huge new factory next door, the stockholders would recommend the board of directors for a term in the insane asylum.

The plan of keeping the schools open for twelve months does not contemplate depriving either teachers or pupils of a vacation of three months if they choose to take it. The only difference is that they do not all take vacations at the same time.

The present method of closing schools for the summer originated in the early days of America when the services of school children were needed on farms during the harvest season. Most of them do not do much harvesting at the present time. A change in the plan would often enable a pupil to finish a four-year course in three years if he so desired.

Murderer of Policeman Driven From Lair by Tear Bombs and Slain by Po

KILLER PUTS UP FIERCE BATTLE

Officer Seeking Attacker of Young Bride Ambushed

Woman Complainant Shot as She Flees House

Heavy Firing Marks Siege Lasting Hour and Half

Routed into the open by tear gas after he had killed a policeman and seriously wounded a young woman with a rifle, Alvino Lopez, 30-year-old Mexican landowner, yesterday met instant death from a fusillade of bullets fired by members of a posse that for an hour and a half had laid siege to his shack at 1343 Hollister street, San Fernando.

The slain policeman was Sergt. Ben W. Mushaney, 28. The wounded woman is Mrs. Aurora Arvizu, 18, a bride of four months. She is in General Hospital with a bullet in the groin. Her condition is said to be critical.

An attempt by Lopez to force his attentions on Mrs. Arvizu, according to San Fernando police, precipitated the cold-blooded murder of Mushaney and the spectacular gun-battle that ended when the landlord himself was killed.

ATTACK DESCRIBED

The young woman's husband, Miguel Arvizu, 26, told the officers he and his wife rented part of the Hollister-street shack from Lopez last Friday. While Arvizu was at work Monday night, Lopez invaded the young wife's quarters and attempted to attack her. Yesterday morning she told her husband of the incident. He notified Lopez they wished to move elsewhere and asked him for a partial refund of the $8 rent the couple had paid. Lopez refused the request.

Arvizu complained to San Fernando police and Sergt. Mushaney went to the house to hear Lopez's side of the controversy. Receiving no response at the front door the officer started for the rear. As he passed a window Lopez shot him, the 25-35 caliber bullet penetrating his left breast. Mushaney staggered to the back yard and there dropped dead.

FLEEING WOMAN SHOT

Hearing the shot, Arvizu shouted to his wife to leave the house and as the young bride fled the shack Lopez fired at her. She fell to the roadway, regained her feet, staggered twenty more feet to the other side of the street and again collapsed.

An ice-cream peddler summoned police and Chief G. W. Grady and Officer Charles Wallace sped to the scene. As they stopped their car beside the unconscious young woman to shield her from further fire, Lopez blazed away at them. They took cover behind the car.

Meanwhile several hundred citizens had congregated about the place. Some one telephoned for reserves and as they answered the call, Deputy Sheriff Walter Shotmiller of Newhall substation heard their sirens screeching. He was off duty at his San Fernando home. Sizing up the situation, he telephoned his office for tear bombs and Deputies Thompson and McVine hurried with them to the shanty, while Lopez was taking pot shots at officers and citizens surrounding him.

ROUTED BY FUMES

Braving the landlord's rifle fire, Shotmiller gained the roof of an adjoining dwelling and from there hurled a tear-gas bomb through the open back door. The fumes routed Lopez from his lair. With his rifle poised for action, he scurried out through the front door and drew a bead on Shotmiller, a perfect target silhouetted against the sky. From across the street, Officer Wallace fired a sawed-off shotgun at the killer. The latter wheeled to return the fire and as he did so Archie Woods and Wade Woodson, former San Fernando High School football stars, deputized specially for the foray, pulled the triggers of their rifles. The bullets struck Lopez in the heart, killing him instantly.

The murdered police officer had been a member of the force for seven years and was extremely popular. He lived at 640 Coronel street, where he leaves a widow, Mrs. Marie Mushaney, and two children, a son, 6, and a daughter, 3.

Lieut. Thomas S. Lofthouse, in charge of the Los Angeles police motorcycle corps and president of the California Municipal and County Motorcycle Officers' Association, last night presented the grief-stricken widow with a check for $500 from the organization's fund for dependents of members killed in line of duty.

West-to-East Record Sought by Boy Flyer

Robert Buck, junior transcontinental flying champion for the east-to-west crossing, will take off tomorrow at 6 a.m. from Western Air Express Airport, Alhambra, for New Jersey in an attempt to capture the west-to-east air crown.

The youth expects today to supervise final adjustments on his Wright-motored Pitcairn open biplane and to attend Breakfast Club ceremonies this morning. He is making his headquarters at the Flying Club of California.

On the eastward journey the 16-year-old pilot hopes to lower the record of 27h. and 19m. held by Eddie Schneider, Buck's school chum. Buck broke Schneider's other record on the way west in 28h. and 33m.

LIONS PLAN LUNCHEON

The Biltmore will be the scene of the Los Angeles Lions Club's first fall luncheon Friday. William Robbins, first vice-president, will be chairman. Oscar E. Schmidt and G. Lewis of Caliente Park will be guests of honor, with Caliente Park orchestra furnishing the music, assisted by Esther Crass, soloist.

Police Board Grants Officer Right to Appeal

Hearing on the appear of former Officer Arthur R. McClanahan against his removal from the police department following his conviction on charges of extortion, which later were dismissed by the District Attorney's office when McClanahan's request for a new trial was sustained by the higher courts, was granted by the Police Commission yesterday.

The commission informed McClanahan's attorney, Judge White, that the appeal will have to be in the form of affidavits and briefs instead of an open hearing, to which the attorney agreed.

A similar petition is expected to be filed in behalf of former Officer Maceo B. Sheffield, whose conviction recently was reversed by the higher courts.

The charges against both officers were in connection with the extortion trials which followed an asserted confession by Harry D. McDonald, bootlegger.

STAFFORD INDORSED BY STATE GROUP

Among indorsements received since the primaries by Municipal Judge Dailey S. Stafford is that of the governing council of the Federated State Societies. This body urges Judge Stafford's election to the Superior Court bench, Office No. 9. Judge Stafford is opposing Superior Judge J. Walter Hanby.

OF THE COMMUNITY CHEST

ADDISON B. DAY SAYS

"Every civilized community takes care of its underprivileged. Every business man welcomes methods which reduce operating costs. The Community Chest is a method of reducing the 'operating cost' of financing the agencies which care for the underprivileged. That is why the Community Chest appeals to the business sense of the people.

"In addition to this, the Chest is to an extent an agency for determining what causes and institutions are worthy of the generosity of the public; it protects the public against fraudulent solicitation. Thus the saving accomplished by the Chest is not only in the lower cost of financing, but also includes an unknown amount which the people would contribute to unworthy causes if there were no Chest."

FITTS'S OFFICE DEPUTIES SHIFT

Twenty-nine Changes Made in Assignments

Shake-up Efficiency Move, Says Prosecutor

Aides Switched for Wider Experience Range

Twenty-nine deputies in the District Attorney's office were transferred from one department to another yesterday by Dist.-Atty. Fitts in a move to increase the efficiency of his office. In announcing the transfer Dist.-Atty. Fitts was emphatic in asserting that it in no way reflects upon the efficiency of the deputies concerned, as the changes were made in virtually every instance to broaden the experience of the men and fit them for more responsible positions in the future.

The principal changes were noted in the complaint department. From this department J. J. Sullivan, Harry Hunt and William M. Smith were transferred to Municipal courts, where they will try preliminary-hearing cases. Robert H. Patton was transferred to the county preliminary department; D. H. Clark was ordered to Department 22 of Superior Court as a trial deputy, and A. B. Nathanson, also of the complaint department, was assigned to Department 25 as a trial deputy.

GRAND JURY BILLET

Wayne E. Jordan, assistant chief trial deputy, has received the special assignment of assisting in grand jury investigations. Frank Stafford, who formerly held this position, in the future will handle appeals and habeas corpus writs. A. H. Van Cott, formerly connected with the appeals department, will work in the corporate securities division of the complaint department.

The new schedule also provides for the transfer of George Stahlman, for many months chief of the Municipal Court preliminary department, to trial deputy in Department 25 of Superior Court. Stahlman will be replaced in the preliminary department by Joseph Choate, formerly a trial deputy.

W. W. Burgess, who for six months has been trial deputy in Department 21 of Superior Court, is to be assisted in the future by Grant Cooper and David Coleman, transferred from the county and city preliminary departments, respectively.

TRIAL DEPUTIES

The trial-deputy squad in Department 24 of Superior Court under the new assignment will be headed by James P. Costello. He will be assisted by John Barnes, formerly prosecutor in Department 21, and George Kemp, who has been in Department 24 for the last six months.

Clifford Crail, trial deputy in Department 21 in the past, will head the corporate securities division of the complaint department. Other men assigned to the complaint department are V. L. Ferguson, formerly trial deputy in Department 26; Jesse Frampton, trial deputy in Department 24; J. Robert O'Connor, trial deputy in Department 27, and John Oliver, trial deputy in Department 26.

The new schedule provides that William McKay shall remain chief of the complaint department.

RUSSELLS PLACED

In the future four deputies will be assigned to trials in Department 26 of Superior Court. They will be headed by George Penney, formerly of the county preliminary department. Other members of his staff will be aided by William Russell, Russell Broker and J. Thomas Russell.

Kenneth J. Thomas and H. J. Scott, former trial deputies in Department 21, will be transferred to county preliminary cases. Donald McClure, newly appointed, has been assigned to county preliminary cases also.

Thomas O'Brien, former chief of the bureau of investigation and for the last six months a deputy prosecutor, will be transferred from the county preliminary department to Department 22 of Superior Court.

aside from the issue involved here.

"There was absolutely not an untrue word in my statement to The Times. I think Mr. Kraly acted justly under the circumstances and was in every true sense of the word a gentleman because of my presence and the presence of other ladies and because it was in public.

DENIES TAUNTING

"The great Lubitsch's statement we taunted him in public by mimicking him, laughing at him and glaring at him is ridiculous. We did no such thing. It just annoys him to see me with another man.

"Take the opera for instance. I couldn't drag Lubitsch to an opera with a team of horses when we were married. He always called friend Kraly to take Mrs. Lubitsch. Now he goes himself. What's the reason for the sudden change? I guess it's because he knew we would be there.

"But he didn't start anything Monday night. He just couldn't seem to keep away from us and hovered about us during intermission. Once, while we were getting some orangeade, he brushed by so close as to touch Mr. Kraly's elbow. I guess he wanted something to be started again, but we were prepared.

DIVORCE NOT FINAL

"As for marrying Mr. Kraly. We are very devoted. He is a fine man. My divorce, however, does not become final for nine months. Who can tell what will happen during that time? If we are in the frame of mind at the time I am able we might be married. But I'm not going to think of marriage now for I was just divorced and it's much too soon."

Lubitsch admitted seeing Mrs. Lubitsch and Kraly at the opera, but had no comment to make as to why he did not punch Kraly on the jaw. In his first statement concerning the fracas Lubitsch stated he would sock Kraly the next time he saw him.

FRIENDS PART BATTLERS

The fight between the two occurred while Mrs. Lubitsch and Kraly were dancing. Lubitsch left his dancing partner, Ona Munson, and started a right for Kraly's jaw. It struck Kraly on the chest. And then Mrs. Lubitsch leveled one on Lubitsch. Friends parted them.

It was learned yesterday that Lubitsch also threatened to start a fight Saturday night with another of his friends, Paul Kohner, Universal executive who with Lupita Tovar, Josef Von Sternberg, the director, and Marlene Dietrich, German actress, were sitting with Mrs. Lubitsch and Kraly went over to Lubitsch's table to try and straighten things out.

WENT TO TABLE

"He came back to our table and said Lubitsch had threatened to punch him on the jaw," Mrs. Lubitsch stated. "The great Lubitsch was certainly in a pugilistic frame of mind that night. He and Kohner have long been friends. Lubitsch no longer will speak to our joint friends who have remained my friends, too. I guess that's all there is to say."

Kraly averred he is very fond of Mrs. Lubitsch and that she is a wonderful woman but that they have not discussed marriage. Both he and Mrs. Lubitsch denied Kraly had anything to do with the divorce. It had been coming on for the past several years, Mrs. Lubitsch stated.

Lubitsch and Kraly worked together in Germany fifteen years ago, the director bringing him to this country to write in films.

Up until three days before Mrs. Lubitsch got her divorce they were friends, Kraly said. Then Lubitsch took a belligerent attitude toward him, which culminated in the fistic attack at the Embassy Club.

NO "RUNNING OUT"

John Weaver, playwright, who was reported as having nearly engaged in combat with B. P. Fineman, film executive, on the same night at the same place as the Lubitsch-Kraly main event, had this statement to issue yesterday:

"The report of my controversy is completely distorted and sounds as if Mr. Fineman had run out on a fight. What I said is that both of us were vaguely irritated and exchanged a few uncomplimentary remarks—reminding me in retrospect of nothing so much as Tom Sawyer and Joe Harper, daring each other to knock a chip off a shoulder, somewhat loud words with no intention of doing anything else.

"If we had been pushed into each other we might possibly have had a scuffle, but luckily nobody pushed. There was no 'situation' involved, in the least, and the whole thing should be laughed off. In justice to Mr. Fineman let me insist that I'm sure he would never do any 'running out' on a fight."

'MISSING LINK' AS APPLIED TO BUSHMEN CONTESTED

Evolutionists who consider the Australian bushman the "missing link" between man and his asserted anthropoid ancestors probably would abandon their theory if they could spend a few weeks among these interesting black people, according to Hector MacQuarrie and Richard B. Matthews, who arrived in Los Angeles yesterday after a trip through the wilds of the Antipodean continent.

Describing the trip, mostly by automobile, from Sydney to Cape York, 800 miles of which were traveled through a bushy terrain never before traversed by a motor car, Mr. MacQuarrie said that he found the bushmen to be ignorant but very intelligent, with a sense of loyalty, humor and devotion to abstract ideals as well as to benefactors.

"Certainly the bushman is not a high type of human being but he does not give the impression of being the 'missing link' in evolution," said Mr. McQuarrie. "It is true that formerly some of the tribes were cannibals, with a special taste for the warm kidneys of freshly killed enemies, but cannibalism has almost totally been abandoned.

"The bush people are small and ugly, with straight, black hair, resembling very little any of the African tribes," said Mr. MacQuarrie. "While traditionally polygamous, monogamy is the general rule. They subsist mainly on wallabies, wild turkeys, kangaroos and emus. The climate permits them to go almost without clothing, but they are extremely modest and moral. They are not ancestor worshipers but they have a peculiar reverence for age and often they carry an old man around for weeks, after he is dead, before burying him. Their ideas of the after life are vague but they are quick to accept the so-called fundamentals of Christianity, being especially strong for the miracles."

FIRE RULE ADOPTED

An amendment to the traffic ordinance prohibiting the parking of automobiles within fifteen feet of driveways entering fire stations was adopted yesterday by the City Council.

for there are no warning symptoms... Yet over half of men and women are afflicted, doctors say UNKNOWN TO YOURSELF, you may have a prevalent after 40 ailment—kidney breakdown. 6 out of 10 men and women are affected, doctors say.

Its findings are these: Kidneys, contrary to popular opinion, excrete 75% of all waste matter from the system, much in too concentrated form. Wear and tear on delicate kidney cells begins to tell at 40. Breakdown occurs, congestion of waste matter follows, and poisons which should be eliminated are turned back into the system—a serious menace to health.

Now, largely on medical advice, thousands are drinking Puritas mineral free water. It is the most effective combatant known to kidney ailment. Puritas flushes kidneys, dilutes poisonous waste and carries it away.

Ordinary water fails, in large measure, in these results, because of minerals it contains. These deposit in kidneys, adding further to congestion. But Puritas, through scientific distillation, is both mineral free, impurity free, water in its purest form. Thus it leaves no mineral content to add further to congestion.

Although at first, you'll find Puritas different in taste, each drink you will increasingly enjoy.

ROYAL ARCH MASONS WIN HIGH HONORS

Fifty-Year Members of Order Here Presented With Symbolic Buttons

The honor that Royal Arch Masons bestow upon their fellows who for fifty years have been members of such a chapter of the Masonic order was conferred last night on Berthold Baruch and Moritz Meyberg, two pioneer business men of Los Angeles.

They were presented with gold buttons indicating the honor at a ceremony conducted by the R.A.M. of California in Masonic Temple, 706 West Pico Boulevard. Angus L. Cavanaugh, Junior Past Grand High Priest, conducted the presentation. The occasion was also celebration of the sixty-sixth anniversary of Los Angeles Chapter No. 33. Superior Judge Hanby delivered the address of the evening.

Both recipients of the semicentennial honor were born in Germany, Baruch eighty-three years ago and Meyberg seventy-eight years ago. Baruch has been in Los Angeles sixty years and Meyberg fifty-four. The former was engaged in the milling and baking business and the other in the electrical business.

It was stated at the temple that the two are the only Los Angeles Masons ever receiving this honor. Baruch belongs to Downey Lodge and Meyberg to Westgate Lodge.

HENDERSON RETURNS BY PLANE HERE

Air Race Manager Being Flown Back After Crash on Former Attempt

Cliff Henderson of Los Angeles, managing director of the National Air Races, returning home by airplane after being injured in an air crash in New Mexico, landed last night at Banning and will be flown to Clover Field, Santa Monica, this morning.

Maj. Luke Christopher, official of the National Aeronautic Association, flew Henderson to Banning from El Paso, Tex., where the local man was taken after he was forced down alone in his light biplane to a landing that resulted in a crash.

Henderson received head and neck injuries and a fractured ankle, but will not be permanently disabled, according to reports from the El Paso Hospital where he was treated.

Phil Henderson, a brother, also of Los Angeles, will arrive in Christopher's ship. The three were returning from Chicago, scene of this year's national races, Christopher and Paul Henderson in one plane and Cliff Henderson in the other, when the latter was injured.

SEWERING PLANNED

The City Council yesterday adopted the ordinances of intention for the sewering of the Oxnard street and Van Nuys Boulevard district and for the improvement of New Hampshire avenue between Fourth and Sixth street. The sewer ordinance is set for protests November 17 and the New Hampshire ordinance for November 13.

Today's Bible Text

But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.—Heb. xi:16.

EDUCATION AND CRIME

It must be that education helps our boys to keep out of prison. Out of 634 admissions to the Wisconsin penitentiary last year there were only five graduates.

SHARP CENSORSHIP

Racketeering and underworld pictures are being barred by the Ohio censors. Even a showing of "The Big House" was denied. There is a good deal of politics in this action. The administration is still suffering from the criticisms following the prison riots and fire. Films illustrating prison life are not at all welcome. Now they are taking it out on Hollywood.

MAKE MOVIES OF WILLS

According to an electrical magazine a will was recently made as a talking picture. The testator disposed of his estate in several spoken paragraphs and the witnesses also appeared to briefly corroborate and to approve the mental condition of the maker of the will. If this business keeps up there will have to be a projection room in every courthouse. To get the judges to take kindly to the talkie will or other public document may be a problem.

THE MOTOR INDUSTRY

The automobile industry is one built upon business tragedies and is marked by the concept of the survival of the strong. Since the dawn of the industry a total of 640 different companies have been engaged in production—putting out that many different lines of cars. Today there are but forty-five brands in circulation. Some of those who quit had wonderful prospects and were highly successful for some time. But the business gradually concentrated in the hands of the powerful and there it seems to be today.

TOO MANY WEEDS

The Federal Farm Board has been asked to direct a more general crusade against the weeds of America. A great many farmers do not really understand the extent of the damage wrought by these undesirables. It is asserted that the agricultural industry is losing nearly $3,000,000,000 a year thereby. They cut down the quantity and quality of all crops, they increase labor costs, they rob the soil of much of its strength and they furnish a haven for innumerable insect pests. They should really be dreaded almost as much as would be an army of hostile invaders. Some types of weeds when once intrenched are almost impossible to eradicate. Maybe we will have to call out the Army, the Navy and the marines before we can get rid of them.

TO SAVE THE TAX CUT

President Hoover, doing his best to give the nation another present, like that of last year, in the shape of an income-tax reduction, has trimmed $70,000,000 from national expenditures as proposed in the forthcoming budget. Some of these savings will apply to the current year, and it may be possible to stave off, on the one hand, an increase in tax rates, on the other the suggested device of using foreign war-debt payments for current expenses. These payments, now amounting to $180,000,000 a year, have been used for debt reduction.

The falling off in tax receipts of all sorts, due to the commercial depression, has been heavy, and only drastic economy can prevent a deficit, which would require the foreign payments to be dipped into. The President is trying to direct national expenditure only into constructive lines and into channels where a maximum of benefit in relieving unemployment and restoring prosperity may be the results. Income tax receipts alone have dropped off $80,000,000, however, which was on top of the $160,000,000 reduction voted by Congress last December at the President's suggestion.

Use of the funds from abroad for current expenses might be justified as an emergency measure, but not, of course, as a permanent policy. The administration is under a moral obligation to reduce the national debt as rapidly as possible, as its existence is a continuing source of danger.

A MESSAGE TO ALL LABOR

Though addressed directly only to the American Federation of Labor, which represents only a small minority of the workers of this country, President Hoover's speech at Boston Monday was one for all employees—and employers, too. The President's program for industrial stability and prosperity rests mainly upon co-operation for the benefit equally of labor, of capital, of the public. His comment, that while in the previous industrial depression there were 2000 labor disturbances, many of major character, while in the present one there have been less than 300, mainly of minor character, plainly indicated his belief that co-operation and arbitration are replacing the strike and the lockout as means for settling industrial disputes.

As a remedy for unemployment in slack times the President favors the part-time week, such as is in effect in Detroit and elsewhere, with the daily rate of wages unchanged, rather than a cut in wage rates. This, he points out, gives some employment to more workers and compensates them with leisure and assurance of a job, for the loss of money income. The President praised both employers and workers for their efforts to relieve the present situation by co-operation and mutual adjustment, and the body of labor for high productivity. The principle, it may be said, is a good one to apply in good times as well as bad. Industrial strife is fatal alike to wages and to profits.

"Industry," said the President, "must be constantly renovated by scientific research and invention," and advised his hearers that their best interests demand that they shall welcome new methods and give full effort to reducing costs of production, so that the savings from reduced costs may be shared. This American economic conception, he said, is not yet in universal application, but working toward it.

A further need of industry to which he called attention is the elimination of destructive competition, of which he gave an example in the bituminous coal industry. Here there are 6000 operators of some 7000 mines, all independent of each other. While bituminous coal has had stiff competition also from substitute fuels, such as gas and oil, and as a power source has been displaced to a large extent by electricity (made, indeed, from coal, but much more economically so that much less coal is consumed for a given amount of power,) the competition of the coal operators between themselves has been a potent factor in the situation. This, the President indicated, needs to be controlled. He did not indicate in what manner, but his reference to legislation undoubtedly means amendments to the Sherman and Clayton acts. A major factor in the decline of the coal industry not mentioned by the President, but which must have been in his mind, has been the rule-or-ruin policy of the miners' union, which exhausted the patience of everybody concerned with repeated strikes impossible of attaining their objective.

Results were predicted by the President from his study of so-called technological unemployment—the displacement of men by new inventions and discoveries and by labor-saving processes. Some 2,000,000 men thus displaced, he said, have been re-employed in new industries and services brought into being as collateral results of these inventions and processes, and this sort of readjustment solves the problem. There is an interval during the adjustment process, however, he pointed out, with which no adequate method of dealing has been developed.

It is plain the President expects the cessation of strife between labor and capital which has marked the present year, to continue. The agreement at the White House conference of last winter was for a year only, but evidently he believes the beneficial results of co-operation have been sufficiently demonstrated so that a return to the old system will be resisted. In this he is perhaps counting too much on the public spirit both of labor leaders and of some employers, and has discounted too much the profit of racketeering methods. Industrial strife is the cake and ice cream, if not the bread and butter, of certain labor leader types; to call or threaten a strike and then try to sell it out is the only way some of them can make money outside of their salaries.

The fact is that the co-operation which the President praises so highly is most fully developed in the open-shop industries, and is so new a thing for the American Federation of Labor that no man can say how long it will last. The whole theory of the federation has always been that industrial warfare is the normal state of affairs.

The President also spoke to the national convention of the American Legion, meeting also at Boston. In this address he made a plea for veteran aid and example in law observance and emphasized the steps the nation has taken toward securing international peace and called for the aid of the Legion in enforcement and observance of the law. He again declared that the American nation is without imperialist designs and does not desire the domination of the world financially or politically and pointed to the lead taken by America in the Kellogg-Briand pact and the naval limitation treaties as proof of good faith.

"Self-government," he said, "is being questioned. We in America have proved it the surest lift to the common man. We have grown and prospered under it for 150 years. We believe in it. There is no greater service to the world than that we should hold and strengthen it."

CLEAN-UP WEEK

The number of weeks in the year being limited—and occasions for weekly celebrations increasing as the square of our daily needs—sometimes it is necessary to double up lest some really important public reminder be left weekless. This second week of October is one to enjoy a double honor among the special set-asides.

In combining two campaigns for special consideration, however, the choice has been wisely made, for the two objects treated are closely related. Thus the conscientious Los Angeles citizen is asked to give seven days of concentrated thought and action to the two major duties of every householder—the prevention of fire and the cleaning up and renovating of private premises.

Fire prevention is a week with a national standing under a proclamation by President Hoover. Our Junior Chamber of Commerce is the sponsor for our local biennial clean-up week, most appropriately located, one for the spring in May and one for the fall in October. The spring clean-up did much to brighten the countenance and renovate the costume of Miss Los Angeles. The fall clean-up, which we are now taking part in, will certainly put the finishing touches on the plans in preparation for her winter guests.

Building a city is only one part—and perhaps not the more vital—in attracting population and promoting civic growth. Preserving the city and adding to its charm and beauty after it has acquired metropolitan proportions is the real test of the quality of its citizenship. By the adequacy of its fire control, both in the prevention and restricting of serious conflagrations, we may gauge the average mentality of any city or municipality. By the attention it pays to cleaning up, painting, restoration and repair work and the pride it shows in the neatness and appearance of its streets and dwellings, the stranger gets a reliable impression of the taste and culture of the individual citizen.

In both these fields of endeavor Los Angeles in the past has stood up to the test. We believe our citizens will make this present clean-up week prove that there is to be no lowering of our established civic standards.

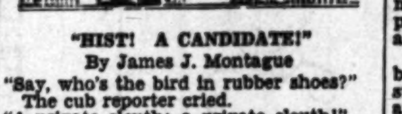
AN OVERSTOCKED MARKET

One reads, not without certain qualms, that a school for teaching the technic of poetry writing has been established in Los Angeles. It is true that our city is full of sweet and gracious souls who yearn to express themselves rhythmically, and are already doing so in large numbers. No great harm would ensue from their attending a poetry-technic school, as long as they were content to keep the results for home consumption.

Unhappily the graduates would expect to place the fruits of their technical labors on an overstocked market so as to contribute to the family budget. The supply of verse—as distinguished from poetry, which is about as rare as hens' teeth—is hopelessly greater than the demand. A technical rhymed composition which doesn't say anything is really no more valuable than a nontechnical one. What this city wants is a school to increase the number of poetry readers rather than of verse writers, for at present the writers average about ninety-nine to every one reader.

BIG CHIMES COMING

The new Riverside Church in New York, which is where the Rockefellers congregate on the Sabbath, will shortly come upon the air with the finest carillon extant anywhere. There are seventy-two bells in the lofty tower and they range in weight from twenty-two tons down to three pounds. They have almost the compass of a piano and the biggest is said to be the third largest in the world. The tower climbs 360 feet into the ozone and the church is said to have cost more than $4,000,000. Of course, the Rockefeller family is paying for the big end of all this. Anyhow, the carillon will be well worth listening to on Sunday mornings and maybe it will be possible to put it on the radio.



"HIST! A CANDIDATE!"

By James J. Montague

"Say, who's the bird in rubber shoes?"
The cub reporter cried.
"A private sleuth; a private sleuth!"
The corner cop replied.
"And what's he doing up so late?"
The cub reporter cried.
"He's tracking down a candidate,"
The corner cop replied.

"When people run for Senator
Or anything like that,
Along the street pursuing feet
Go softly pit-a-pat.
The gangsters stray along their way
With not a 'dick' to heed 'em,
But candidates can hope
For no such freedom."

"What have these politicians done?"
The cub reporter cried.
"They've asked for votes; they've asked for votes!"
The corner cop replied.
"And does that constitute a crime?"
The young reporter cried.
"It does in this suspicious time,"
The corner cop replied.

"The racketeer has not a fear
That he'll be sent to jail;
Few sleuths you find of any kind
Upon the gunman's trail.
Crooks aren't afraid to ply their trade
Until a city's busted,
But candidates are never
To be trusted!"

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

NOT long ago, in commenting on our invitation to help Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Gleason celebrate their twenty-fourth wedding anniversary, we mentioned a long string of folks famous on stage and screen who have been married to each other a long time—notably the Otis Skinners, the George Arlisses, the Joseph Cawthorns and the George Fawcetts, all of whom have been married more than thirty years, and most of them around thirty-five years.

YOUTH
DON'T PICK THE FLOWERS

But they were mere children. Here come Fred and Gertrude Nelson Andrews, once well known in the show business, who are nearing their golden wedding celebration. They are out of the "business" now, but still are enterprising. They have just launched an odd little "periodical of friendly handclasps," intended especially for elderly people, which is called You and We. Their printery at 1632½ Poinsettia Place is named the Youthland Press. Their aim is to keep alive the youthful spirit in elderly folks.

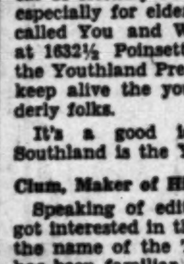
It's a good idea, too, that our Southland is the Youthland.

Clum, Maker of History

Speaking of editors, ever since we got interested in the newspaper game the name of the Tombstone Epitaph has been familiar to us. So we were glad to get a note from John P. Clum, 1958 West Seventy-fourth street, who writes us that he established that paper in May, 1880.

But making history seems to have been Clum's forte. He mentioned the fact that he established the Epitaph incidentally. What he really wrote about was another matter of history!

"The game of football here between representatives of the University of Mexico and Occidental College was the first international football game ever played in the United States. Which brings to mind that sixty years ago, while a student at old Rutgers, I played in the first intercollegiate football game ever played in the United States. This contest was played in the fall of 1870 between Princeton and Rutgers, at Princeton."



Just think how the revenues of the University of Southern California might be suffering now if John P. Clum and his schoolmates hadn't inaugurated intercollegiate football! And when one sees 80,000 people packed into the Coliseum to cheer an intercollegiate football game it is hard to realize that such contests were unknown till a man now living here helped start them.

May Have Been Subtle Flattery

Old, established customs are hard to break. In court here the other day a man who was born and reared in England but who has lived here many years, was on the witness stand, and was asked an intentionally embarrassing question. The witness, greatly annoyed, turned to the judge and asked:

"Your Lordship, do I have to answer that?"

And the judge looked rather flattered.

"Mr. Bullshooter's Secretary"

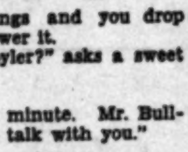
One of the growing nuisances of this town is the bluffer who isn't half as busy as you are, but who has his secretary call you up instead of doing it himself.

Your phone rings and you drop everything to answer it.

"Is this Mr. Toyler?" asks a sweet voice.

"Yes."

"Well—just a minute. Mr. Bullshooter wishes to talk with you."



THAT'S TELLING 'EM, MR. SHIPPEY!

You wait, more than just a minute. You're just about to hang up when the sweet voice apologizes: "Awfully sorry, but Mr. Bullshooter is busy on the other phone. I'll call you again in a few minutes."

Mr. Bullshooter figures that by having his secretary call instead of calling himself he is conveying the impression that he is a tremendously busy man. What he really does is make you hostile, because he was ready to waste your time, but not ready to risk a minute of his own. It is a discourtesy you are ready to forgive in a man who really is tremendously busy, but you know Bullshooter is just a bluffer. If he has a message to send, you're glad to receive it from his secretary. You'd rather talk to her than him, anyway. But if he wants to talk to you he should at least be ready the moment you are on the wire.

Joshua Little Says

There is only one world's series, but there seem to be as many "little world's series" as there are vice-presidents of a bank.

A Department of Justice official says the film industry is lawless. If you doubt that Will Hays earns his salary, just think how long it has taken the Department of Justice to notice that.

The day John McGroarty left to invite King Alfonso to visit Los Angeles an orator in the bull-fight area in Madrid urged a cheering multitude to establish a republic. Maybe Alfonso will be so glad to come he can't wait till next year.

Mrs. Anna L. Saylor, State director of social welfare, says one-sixth of the deaths in California now are in county hospitals or county homes, because of the steadily rising cost of medical attendance. I suppose it's folks who go to the high-priced specialists who die in the county homes.

I refuse to worry much about Europe till the Czechs get pretty bad. There's nothing can upset stability like a lot of bad Czechs.

WHAT I BELIEVE

BY ALBERT EINSTEIN

[Reprinted by special permission from the October issue of The Forum.]

Strange is our situation here upon earth. Each of us comes for a short visit, not knowing why, yet sometimes seeming to divine a purpose.

From the standpoint of daily life, however, there is one thing we do know: that man is here for the sake of other men—above all for those upon whose smile and well-being our own happiness depends, and also for the countless unknown souls with whose fate we are connected by a bond of sympathy. Many times a day I realize how much my own outer and inner life is built upon the labors of my fellow-men, both living and dead, and how earnestly I must exert myself in order to give in return as much as I have received. My peace of mind is often troubled by the depressing sense that I have borrowed too heavily from the work of other men.

I do not believe we can have any freedom at all in the philosophical sense, for we act not only under external compulsion, but also by inner necessity. Schopenhauer's saying—"A man can surely do what he wills to do, but he cannot determine what he wills"—impressed itself upon me in youth and has always consoled me when I have witnessed or suffered life's hardships. This conviction is a perpetual breeder of tolerance, for it does not allow us to take ourselves or others too seriously; it makes rather for a sense of humor.

To ponder interminably over the reason for one's own existence or the meaning of life in general seems to me, from an objective point of view, to be sheer folly. And yet everyone holds certain ideals by which he guides his aspiration and his judgment. The ideals which have always shone before me and filled me with the joy of living are goodness, beauty and truth. To make a goal of comfort or happiness has never appealed to me; a system of ethics built on this basis would be sufficient only for a herd of cattle.

Without the sense of collaborating with like-minded beings in the pursuit of the ever unattainable in art and scientific research, my life would have been empty. Ever since childhood I have scorned the commonplace limits so often set upon human ambition. Possessions, outward success, publicity, luxury—to me these have always been contemptible. I believe that a simple unassuming manner of life is best for everyone, best both for the body and the mind.

My passionate interest in social justice and social responsibility has always stood in curious contrast to a marked lack of desire for direct association with men and women. I am a horse for single harness, not cut out for tandem or team work. I have never belonged wholeheartedly to country or State, to my circle of friends, or even to my own family. These ties have always been accompanied by a vague aloofness, and the wish to withdraw into myself increases with the years.

Such isolation is sometimes bitter, but I do not regret being cut off from the understanding and sympathy of other men. I lose something by it, to be sure, but I am compensated for it in being rendered independent of the customs, opinions and prejudices of others, and am not tempted to rest my peace of mind upon such shifting foundations.

My political ideal is democracy. Everyone should be respected as an individual, but no one idolized. It is an irony of fate that I should have been showered with so much uncalled-for and unmerited admiration and esteem. Perhaps this adulation springs from the unfulfilled wish of the multitude to comprehend the few ideas which I, with my weak powers, have advanced.

Full well do I know that in order to attain any definite goal it is imperative that one person should do the thinking and commanding and carry most of the responsibility. But those who are led should not be driven, and they should be allowed to choose their leader. It seems to me that the distinctions separating the social classes are false; in the last analysis they rest on force. I am convinced that degeneracy follows every autocratic system of violence, for violence inevitably attracts moral inferiors. Time has proved that illustrious tyrants are succeeded by scoundrels.

For this reason I have always been passionately opposed to such regimes as exist in Russia and Italy today. The thing which has discredited the European forms of democracy is not the basic theory of democracy itself, which some say is at fault, but the instability of our political leadership, as well as the impersonal character of party alignments.

I believe that you in the United States have hit upon the right idea. You choose a President for a reasonable length of time and give him enough power to acquit himself properly of his responsibilities. In the German government, on the other hand, I like the state's more extensive care of the individual when he is ill or unemployed. What is truly valuable in our bustle of life is not the nation, I should say, but the creative and impressionable individuality, the personality—he who produces the noble and sublime while the common herd remains dull in thought and insensible in feeling.

This subject brings me to that vilest offspring of the herd mind—the odious militia. The man who enjoys marching in line and file to the strains of music falls below my contempt; he received his great brain by mistake—the spinal cord would have been amply sufficient. This heroism at command, this senseless violence, this accursed bombast of patriotism—how intensely I despise them! War is low and despicable, and I had rather be smitten to shreds than participate in such doings.

Such a stain on humanity should be erased without delay. I think well enough of human nature to believe that it would have been wiped out long ago had not the common sense of nations been systematically corrupted through school and press for business and political reasons.

The most beautiful thing we can experience is the mysterious. It is the source of all true art and science. He to whom this emotion is a stranger, who can no longer pause to wonder and stand rapt in awe, is as good as dead: his eyes are closed. This insight into the mystery of life, coupled though it be with fear, has also given rise to religion. To know that what is impenetrable to us really exists, manifesting itself as the highest wisdom and the most radiant beauty which our dull faculties can comprehend only in their most primitive forms—this knowledge, this feeling, is at the center of true religiousness. In this sense, and in this sense only, I belong in the ranks of devoutly religious men.

I cannot imagine a God who rewards and punishes the objects of his creation, whose purposes are modeled after our own—a God, in short, who is but a reflection of human frailty. Neither can I believe that the individual survives the death of his body, although feeble souls harbor such thoughts through fear or ridiculous egotism. It is enough for me to contemplate the mystery of conscious life perpetuating itself through all eternity, to reflect upon the marvelous structure of the universe which we can dimly perceive, and to try humbly to comprehend even an infinitesimal part of the intelligence manifested in nature.

Meat and Drink

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am an abstainer and always feared the drink evil—yet radical legislation I fear more. Curbing the drink evil is not more important than keeping intact the inalienable rights of the individual—surely there is sufficient wisdom among Americans to curb the one and protect the other also. Prohibition does neither; nor can it be enforced except by the most drastic legislation. Either should be abhorrent to Americans. America must continue in its glorious career untarnished by fanatical intolerance.

Many intelligent people sincerely believe that the elimination of a meat diet for a few generations would develop such a peace-loving civilization that war would be impossible. Perhaps they are right—who knows? But if such ideas were forced on us by legislation most of us would rebel very sturdily. This may seem far-fetched and preposterous, but not more so than the existing prohibition law would have appeared when our Constitution was in the making.

Many of the churches are to preach sermons favoring this law, I believe. I for one will watch with interest for arguments justifying it, believing firmly that persuasive teaching is more effective than force.

CHARLES MATTHEW.

Prohibition Stand Approved

GLENDALE, Oct. 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Many thanks for your fine stand on prohibition, both editorially and by authoritative writers on that subject. You have devoted much valuable space to this important topic.

Thanks, also, for your little editorial, lately, decrying unseemly and bad language in many recent books of fiction.

Hubbard Knew Better

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Referring to the "backwash" resulting from Mr. W. R. Hearst's radio speech it seems to me it would have been wiser if he had followed the admonition of the late Elbert Hubbard, to-wit:

"Never explain; your friends don't need it—and your enemies won't believe it."

PRIZE WINNER

Frank Dobson, one of the foremost British sculptors, whose figure, "Truth," has been purchased for the nation at a cost of $5000, was born in a charity hospital and for many years knew exactly what real poverty meant. He has known what it is to be homeless and has been forced to sleep in the open, under railway arches or wherever he could find shelter. "I was 18 when I began to see daylight," he said. "I had won various scholarships, and after struggling along, selling an occasional picture, I was at last 'discovered' by that master of all the painters, Augustus John, who introduced my work to some London buyers. Two years ago my sculpture was included in an American tour, and today I have just been offered a room to myself in the Great Chicago Exhibition of 1933. Life's funny, isn't it?"

Shipments from Sanghai, China, to the United States in the first six months of this year were valued at $34,111,000.

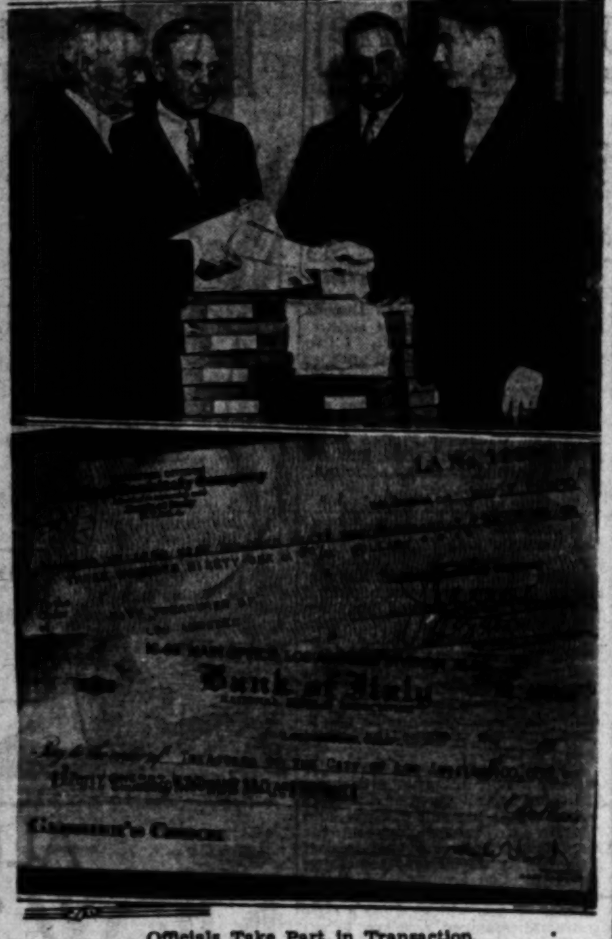
MILLIONS IN BONDS DELIVERED

City Receives Money for Water Projects



Officials Take Part in Transaction

IN THE presence of Mayor Porter, City Attorney Werner and other city officials, City Treasurer Powell yesterday delivered $5,000,000 of the $38,800,000 water bonds to Bruce Cruickshank, local representative of the Anglo and London-Paris Company syndicate, the successful bidder for the bonds.

The bonds numbered 5000, each of $1000. For the bonds Treasurer Powell received two cashier's checks aggregating $5,051,391.50, the excess representing the premium and accrued interest.

This is the first sale of bonds for water development, and work already is beginning on betterments to the Aqueduct. Some of the money also is to be expended for the purchase of lands in the Owens River Valley.

Powell yesterday rejected all offers for the purchase of $1,051,844 in improvement bonds for the opening and widening of Third street between Figueroa street and Vermont avenue. He expressed dissatisfaction with the offer made, as the premium was only $1, while accrued interest alone is nearly $140,000. Powell will offer the bonds at another sale.

Auto Killing Described by Film Actress

Her attention attracted by the noise of an impact in the street outside, Adele Arbo, film actress of 3916 South Figueroa street, looked from her window and saw the bodies of Mrs. Margaret Whalen, 22 years of age, and her son, Timothy Whalen, Jr., 5, being carried past on the bumper of an automobile, she testified yesterday in Municipal Judge Stafford's court where Chester R. Palmer, 35, was held for trial on two charges of manslaughter and one of drunk driving.

ADELE ARBO

Police Surgeon Blanchard, who examined Palmer shortly after the accident, testified that he was drunk. Judge Stafford fixed bail at $5000 pending trial.

HIT-RUN AUTO KILLS BOY

Another Youth Killed and Two Women Probably Fatally Injured in Traffic Accidents

Two boys were killed and another boy and two women were injured probably fatally in traffic accidents in and near the city yesterday.

One child killed was Barton Cololow, 4 years of age, victim of a hit-and-run motorist. He was playing in front of his home at 9950 Toluca Lake avenue when a dark-green roadster driven by a youth about 18 or 20 years of age struck him and continued on its way. The boy died in an ambulance en route to Van Nuys Receiving Hospital.

Andrew S. Callahan, Jr., 12 years of age, was pedaling his bicycle along Oxford avenue, Pasadena, when a truck driven by Walter Mason, 24, of 191 Carleton avenue, came alongside.

The truck crowded the boy against a concrete post. Mason, held by the police, said he did not see the boy because of an automobile that cut across his path.

Andrew was jammed against the concrete post, and crushed to death. His head was severed from his body.

Richard Mankin, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Mankin, 3631 Northland avenue, received serious injuries when struck by an automobile as he crossed the street to meet his mother after leaving the Page Military Academy, 1201 South Cochran avenue. He is in Hollywood Receiving Hospital with a possible skull fracture, broken shoulder and concussion. The car, police report, was driven by Floyd S. Brown, 2207 Malcolm avenue. He was not held.

An innocent bystander, Mrs. Frances Willard, 57 years of age, of 2310 West Eleventh street, was probably fatally injured yesterday morning when two automobiles collided at Ninth street and Normandie avenue. She was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital with a skull fracture.

Mrs. Willard was standing on the curbing, police reported, when a car driven by Leroy Hansen, 20, of the Huntington Hotel, collided with a machine driven by A. N. Jones of 732 South Normandie avenue. Jones's car was overturned, investigating officers said, and struck Mrs. Willard. Jones and Hansen, and Miss Adina Miller, 18, of 2309 South Normandie avenue, a passenger in Hansen's car, were painfully cut and bruised but not seriously injured.

Miss Mae Greer, 35, of 2401 West Sixth street, was in the Georgia-street hospital last night and expected to die, while Roy Williams, driver of a laundry truck, was held by police on charges of failure to stop and render aid.

Williams, according to the police report, was not located until after a search by police officers near Alvarado street and Glendale Boulevard, where Miss Greer was struck down by a truck driver who sped away. He answers the description of the driver and his vehicle the truck described by witnesses, according to police, and gave his address as 1436 West Ninety-sixth street.

Whippet Course Permit Delayed for Law Inquiry

Permission to establish a whippet racing course at 5741 West Washington Boulevard was delayed by the City Council yesterday when Councilmen Davis and Henning wished to know whether the State law would operate to prevent such an amusement.

The matter already has received the approval of the City Planning Commission and the approval of two members of the City Planning Committee, Randall and Holland.

The applicants are Emil Canat and N. S. Garnier.

WIFE LOSES LONG FIGHT FOR CHILD

Woman's Trip to Coast Results in Order to Send Son Back to Father

After court action in both California and Wisconsin tribunals, Mrs. Lois Livingston, divorced wife of Herbert W. Livingston, yesterday was under orders of Division Two, District Court of Appeal, to deliver her and Livingston's minor child, Dean, 11 years of age, to the father in the middle western State.

The Livingstons were married in 1918 and divorced in Wiscontin in 1926, at which time the mother was given custody of the child with certain exceptions. The decree provided that neither parent was to take the child beyond the jurisdiction of the court without the court's permission.

In 1928 the mother came to Los Angeles, bringing the child with her. Last year the father obtained an order by the Wisconsin Circuit Court commanding Mrs. Livingston to produce the child and show cause why the decree should not be modified by giving the father sole custody. The matter has been before Wisconsin and California courts since that time.

WATER BOARD DECLINES TO INDORSE CONSULTANTS

Efforts to obtain from the Board of Water and Power Commissioners approval of the consulting board of two engineers and a geologist selected by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to advise with the water department on engineering features of the Mono Basin project failed at yesterday's meeting of the water board.

Henry O. Wheeler, representing the chamber, appeared before the board and urged that the chamber's request be complied with. In presenting his argument he said that after the St. Francis Dam disaster and the San Gabriel Dam fiasco the selection of the engineers and geologist named by the chamber would allay apprehension.

The chamber last August presented the names of Dr. Charles P. Berkey, New York geologist, and Louis C. Hill and J. B. Lippincott of Los Angeles, as the engineers. The board will pay the fees of the consulting board.

At the conclusion of Wheeler's talk Dr. Haynes relinquished the chair as president of the board and moved the approval of the chamber's selection. Commissioner Prior seconded the motion, but Commissioners Brooks and Johnson argued against it. They felt that the idea is a good one, but that the board ought to look into the personnel of the consulting board and have some understanding with the men as to terms of employment and other matters. Johnson said that as far as Dr. Berkey's ability is concerned there probably is no question, but that the Metropolitan Water Board already has had the experience in retaining a consulting engineer of New York and not being able to get him out here when he is wanted.

A motion to appoint a committee to talk the matter over with the engineers was adopted.

The board also authorized the appointment of a committee to investigate and offer to the board the names of outstanding attorneys qualified to advise in the matter of purchasing lands for the board and handling water rights litigation.

Morley Drury's Condition Said to Be Improved

Condition of Morley Drury, former University of Southern California football star, confined in the General Hospital for what physicians diagnosed as a light attack of infantile paralysis, was reported much improved yesterday. Drs. Harry Wilson and A. G. Bower, in charge of the case, declared the athlete has recovered much of the use of his arms and hands, which were affected when he was entered at the hospital Monday morning.

At the hospital yesterday it was requested that friends of Drury substitute some other gift for flowers, which are not allowed in a communicable disease ward.

Grand opera and affairs for the visiting stars seem to be holding the fore of the social activities this week, today especially being set aside for the latter. As there is no opera this evening, two large affairs are being given.

The California Club will be the setting for the first large affair since its opening some weeks ago, as the Italy-American Society is celebrating Vergiliana Bimillerery (the 2000th birthday anniversary of the poet, Vergil,) with Grand Uff Beniamino Gigli, one of the most popular stars of the opera this season, as special guest of honor.

Mrs. Secondo Guasti, chairman of the reception committee, will be assisted in receiving by Mmes. Mellini Ponce de Leon, Ernest C. Moore, Daniel Murphy, Eugene O. McLaughlin, John G. Mott, Henry W. O'Melveny, Orra E. Monnette, Richard Jewett Schweppe, Alfred J. Bayer, James Calhoun Drake, William May Garland, Granville MacGowan, Dean Mason, William W. Orcutt, Albert Sherman Hoyt, Robert Irwin Rogers, Helena Podesta Furman, James Rathwell Page, Lawrence Sevier, J. Ross Clark, Joseph Francis Sartori, Edward Laurence Doheny, Russell McDonnell Taylor, Walter Jarvis Barlow, Ernest Duque, Salvatore Monaca, Lee Allen Phillips, Nicoli Giulii, Miss Nellie Cantwell and Miss Grace S. Stoermer.

Another event honoring the grand opera stars and season's conductors is the dinner given by Mrs. Albert Laurence Bagnall and Mme. Pietro Cimini at the Bagnall home in Western avenue, when more than 300 guests have been bidden. There are planned a number of charming divertisements for the entertainment of the guests.

The entire house and gardens will be used for the dinner. Dancing will be in the new ballroom which is to be opened this evening for the first time. Marquees have been erected in the gardens at the rear of the grounds, and for those who do not care to dance there will be fortune tellers and palmists as well as bridge games.

Preceding each night at the opera, dinner parties have been given by many of the loge holders. One of the most delightful was that of Monday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Robert David Matthews and Gurney E. Newlin entertained at the California Club, taking their guests afterward to hear "Manon." Those included were Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Irving Wailes, Dr. and Mrs. Hill Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Ruddock, Mr. and Mrs. Donald O'Melveny, Miss Louise Burke and the hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jewett Schweppe entertained at dinner and opera Monday evening, their guests being Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Secondo Guasti and Col. Ira Clifton Copley, while last evening they entertained Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Van Court, Mrs. Cecil Brount De Mille, Mrs. Manuel Moreno (Laura Moreno,) and Baron Popper, at dinner and in their loge afterward.

Dinner Reception

An interesting event of the week-end will be the dinner, and reception later, which Mrs. Genevieve Gray is planning in honor of Mme. Clare Clairbert, one of the opera stars, the affairs taking place Sunday evening at the Town House. Four hundred invitations are being issued for the reception. Those bidden to the dinner preceding include Mme. Clairbert, Mrs. Letha Lewis-Starrow, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. E. Avery McCarthy, Miss Jean Hill, Maestro and Mme. Pietro Cimini, Signor Beniamino Gigli, Merle Armitage, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Thomas, B. De Borgignon and Raymond Harmon.

Wedding Reception

The marriage of Miss Alice Cornelia McReynolds, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Phillips McReynolds, to Edwin Harbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Harbach of Beverly Hills, will be an event of this evening, the ceremony to take place in St. John's Church, West Adams street. It will be followed by a reception and wedding supper at the home of the bride's parents in Berkeley Square, for relatives, the bridal party and a few close friends. After their return from the wedding trip, Mr. Harbach and his bride will make their home here.

Honor Visitors

Mrs. A. C. Moorhead of El Segundo is entertaining with a bridge-luncheon at the Women's Athletic Club tomorrow in honor of Mrs. Earl Scofield and Mrs. Roy Burdick, who are visiting here from Richmond. Autumn colors will be used both at the luncheon and in the bridge accessories. The invited guests are Mmes. A. S. Russell, Harry Hanna, Frank Palmer, James Allen, Leslie Nelson, Robert Thorburn, Clinton Purcell, George Davidson, Augustus Gleason, E. G. Smyth, Ernest Shultz, George Simkins, Roy Selby, Ralph Converse, Lillian Deacon, William Hooper, Marjorie Smith, Merle Moore, Howard Vesper, George Roberts, George Hutchins, Don Nutt and Misses Harriett Lawlor and Jane Hanna.

Betrothal

Announcement is made by Mrs. A. W. Smith, 601 South Gramercy Place, of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Julie Smith, to Lieut. John J. La Page of the Presidio at Monterey.

Miss mith was graduated from Girls' Collegiate School and attended the University of California at Los Angeles, where she became a member of Chi Omega. Lieut. La Page, son of Mrs. J. J. La Page of Birmingham, Ala., was graduated from West Point in 1929. The wedding will be an event of early December.

Chinese Motif

Miss Dorothy McCall, bride-elect of Douglas Moore, was the honoree at a charming affair given recently by the Misses Hazel Spencer and Adrienne Fortune at the home of the former, 2061 La Salle avenue. The garden, where the guests assembled, was transformed into a veritable Chinese paradise. Swinging lanterns led to an arbor decorated with Chinese hangings. Genuine pieces of oriental art and burning incense were used with delightful effect and the hostesses were dressed in Mandarin pajamas.

A novel feature of the affair was the appearance of Miss Spencer's small nephew, Dean Holman, who was garbed as a Chinese coolie and entered the garden pulling a rickshaw laden with gifts for the bride-elect.

Guests bidden were Mrs. F. C. Holman, Mrs. Lucille Rieson, Mrs. Thelma Pascoe, Mrs. George Peterman, Miss Helen Jiles, Miss Ida Mae Storey, Roberta McPherrin, Mary Wiley, Geraldine Hehr, Ethel Whitlock, Mary Roberts, Mavis Behm, Margaret Whidden, Ellen Pearson, Grace Sugars, Nadine Behm and Dorothy Moore.

Coming Event

Anticipated as one of the lovely affairs of the current month is the bridge-luncheon to be given the 15th inst. by Mrs. Edgar Martin Heintz (Gladys Vorhes,) honoring Mrs. George W. Elkins and Mrs. Frederick Nasson.

HER WEDDING DAY ANNOUNCED

Post-Honeymoon Home in Honolulu

[Lansing Brown studios]

Miss Louise Dickson

MISS LOUISE DICKSON, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. Dickson of South Normandie avenue, has chosen November 12 as the date for her marriage to Dr. Irving Blom of Honolulu. The ceremony will take place in Arlington Christian Church. More than 250 invitations have been issued.

Mrs. Lester Heilman has been asked to assist as matron of honor. Miss Meredith McKee of Detroit will come west to be maid of honor. Other attendants will include Misses Dorothy Dickson, Florence Dickson, Frances Black, Eleanor Veale, Mrs. Charles Wanglin and Mrs. Earl Hoisington. The wedding will be the culmination of a romance which had its inception when Miss Dickson and Dr. Blom were students at University of Southern California. The former is a member of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority and the latter of Delta Sigma Delta Fraternity. After the wedding trip Dr. Blom will take his bride to make their future home in Honolulu.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

CONSISTENT TREATMENT OF CHILD A PROBLEM IN FAMILY OF ADULTS

The relative problem crops up repeatedly. One of the chief points of friction in families is the difference of opinion on the subject of discipline for misbehavior. We feel that for the matter to be handled consistently it should be left to one individual, either the father or the mother. If the other members of the family disagree, they should air their criticisms outside the hearing of the child. How can any child feel he is getting fair treatment when the various adults of the family can't decide themselves what is wrong and what is right?

In homes where there is more than one adult in charge, any adult assumes the opposite position to the parent. If the parent is severe, the opposing adult is lenient, and vice versa. In the end this is probably better for the child than too much severity or too much leniency, but it isn't consistent treatment. The child never knows which side is going to be uppermost, so that instead of being reasonable his behavior is just playing one side against the other, doing as he pleases and hoping for the best.

A REAL EXAMPLE

In this mixed-up household, where three adults reign, there is an even worse situation. In fact a worse one, from the standpoint of the child, could hardly be concocted if it were arranged purposely.

Here is a 2½-year-old child with a mother and aunt and a grandmother, all differing as to the treatment. The special grievance is the aunt who administers punishment when the mother is out of sight.

Mrs. T. M. says in part, "I live with my mother-in-law and another son's wife lives there, too. I do not believe in spanking, but as soon as my back is turned she takes advantage of my absence to spank my little girl. Whenever I come home from downtown the child tells me she has been spanked for something or other."

CHOOSE YOUR COURSE

Possibly the aunt feels that if she has the care and responsibility of the child when you are gone she also has the right of managing the discipline. To give your child the kind of treatment you consider fair, there are three courses open to you: Take care of her yourself all the time and don't ask others to be responsible for her. Hire some one else to look after her when you are away. Move into your own home. The last is by far the most desirable of all. Then you can manage the child your own way.

Children need to learn that older persons are in authority over them, but there are all kinds of discipline—spanking is just one of them, and undesirable. Perhaps you and the aunt might both see this subject more clearly if you read something about it. You are probably pretty shaky yourself on methods of discipline. If you will send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope I shall be glad to send you a leaflet called "An Analysis of Obedience and Punishment."

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

KOSHER FOOD

The Jewish Talmud contains the first health rules ever written by man. Many of these laws are still practiced by the orthodox Hebrew who believes that they were divinely inspired. If not of divine inspiration, it is all the more marvelous to know that almost at the very dawn of civilization rules about right living were laid down which have remained sensible and logical through the present age.

According to these rules food is divided into two classes: Clean and unclean. The clean food is called Kosher, meaning it is fit and proper to use. The unclean is called Tref or Terepah and is discarded. The first object was cleanliness, thus ensuring a food supply strictly clean and wholesome.

It is possible that the food be prepared strictly according to religious rites and be within the letter of the law, being called Kosher, but if it is done in an unsanitary manner the spirit of the law is not kept.

The first rules which the Gentile notices is that the Hebrew does not eat pork, but there are several other rules. Meat, to be Kosher, must be prepared in a certain way, and is still handled in this way today, as it was several centuries before Christ. Kosher may be applied to other foods than meat, for example to bread. Bread for the Passover must not contain leaven, therefore Kosher bread at this time is unleavened. The vessels used for meat must not be used for other cooking and must be kept separated from vessels used for milk.

Kosher meat must be killed by a Shochet, who is an expert inspector and butcher. The animals are killed instantly and must not be frightened before killing. A complete inspection is then made of the meat and the slightest blemish will result in the animal being declared unfit for food. Thus Kosher meat is always healthy, as the unclean meat or Tref is discarded.

Meat may be used from those animals which are allowed for food such as the ox, sheep, goat or scaled fish. If the animal has been torn by wild beasts, has died a natural death, been poisoned or diseased, neither it, nor milk from it, is used. Before the meat is used it must be washed, salted and washed again to remove all blood possible. Blood which is in the tissues of the meat is all right, but no blood should be left congealed on the surface of the cut or in the veins.

Fresh fish of the scaly class is considered Kosher, but shellfish and fish without scales, such as eels, are discarded. Swine, frogs, snails and rabbits are also Tref.

Another of these rules prohibits the use of milk with meat or fish. No milk is used at the same meal in which meat is used.

In my work with thousands of patients along the line of practical dietetics I have found two good rules of diet which coincide with these Hebrew health teachings: (1.) Eat clean meat from healthy animals; (2.) Do not mix milk and meat. That milk should never be taken at an ordinary meal was recognized in the Hebraic laws and this still holds true today, although many people do not recognize the fact that to drink milk when eating either meat or fish is to form one of the most incompatible of food mixtures.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Save Your Pennies

If you have no electric toaster, housewife, save your pennies for one. It can be put on the breakfast table and each member of the family can tend to his or her own toast, leaving you time for other breakfast preparations.

Hemming Linens

When hemming table linen, make an additional crease in the linen after the hem has been turned back, exactly at the line where the hem begins. Then overcast instead of hemming and the work will go more quickly and evenly.

A Touch of Green

Now that most of our garden flowers are gone, a few greens may be started in preparation for winter. Grapefruit seeds may be sown in the fern dish and make a very pretty decoration.

Easier to Handle

If a certain cookie of which you are fond is very difficult to handle, in that it sticks and tears, try mixing your batter the day before baking and placing it in the refrigerator overnight. You will be delighted how much easier the job will be the next day.

Preserves the Paintings

The back of the canvas of the oil painting should be given two or three coats of white lead to preserve it from decay. This will also help to keep the canvas that has already started to decay.

Sticky Paper

Don't even try to pull that sticky paper from the package of raisins. Just tuck the package in the oven for a few minutes and the paper will peel right off and the raisins will separate without any effort on your part.

Floor Registers

Floor registers will not have that dusty look if you will give them a coat of liquid stove polish occasionally. It takes but a few minutes and certainly improves the appearance of the register.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

TUNA RAREBIT

Place in a saucepan one teaspoonful of butter, melt and add a few drops of onion juice, mix one tablespoonful of cornstarch with one-half teaspoonful of salt, and one-quarter teaspoonful of paprika, add this to the mixture and gradually stir in one cupful of milk. Add three-quarters of a cupful of grated or finely chopped American cheese, and a cupful of flaked tuna, that has been well drained. Stir lightly until the cheese is melted, then add one slightly beaten egg, and one teaspoonful of lemon juice, remove from the fire and pour over squares of thin buttered toast.

PEAR PIE

Place in a saucepan two cupfuls of water, two-thirds cupful of sugar, and one-third cupful of lemon juice and three whole cloves. Heat until the sugar has dissolved, then add six peeled, cored and thickly sliced pears, simmer slowly, until the pears are tender, but not soft, drain out the pears, add two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, that has been dissolved in a little water, to each two cupfuls of the syrup, and boil until clear. Place the sliced pears in a baked pie shell, cover carefully with the thickened syrup, and let stand until cold.

BEET ROOT FRITTERS

Take three cooked beets, and cut in round thick slices, cut the same amount of onions, in very thin round slices, place the slices in a dish and season with salt, pepper, and sprinkle with chopped parsley. Add a half-tablespoonful of vinegar, and one tablespoonful of oil. Make a sandwich of the beets, placing a slice of the onion in between, dip these carefully into a frying batter, and fry them slowly until a delicate brown on both sides. Drain and garnish with parsley.

FARMERS' CABBAGE

One cupful of cold cooked meat, one cupful of chopped cooked cabbage, one cupful of cooked tomatoes, one cupful of bread crumbs, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, a seasoning of salt and paprika. Place a layer of the meat in the bottom of a baking dish, over it place a layer of the cabbage, then a layer of the sliced or cooked tomatoes. Continue until the entire quantity has been used, seasoning each layer as it is added, cover with the bread crumbs, dot with butter, and sprinkle over the parsley. Place in a moderate oven and bake until brown.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES
by THORNTON W. BURGESS

THE BATTLE OF THE BEECH-NUTS

The armed, rejoicing in their might,
Are always looking for a fight.
—Mother West Wind.

A great hush had fallen over the Green Forest in the neighborhood of the beech trees. Gone was the voice of Chatterer the Red Squirrel. No longer did Happy Jack the Gray Squirrel bark. Even the tongue of Sammy Jay was quiet. Sammy was there. So was Blacky the Crow. Both were leaning forward eagerly watching the scene below. Lightfoot the Deer was standing on the edge of a little opening among the trees. He was a picture of rage. One dainty forefoot pawed the ground. The hair along the back of his neck, on his shoulders and along his back was raised. On the other side of the little clearing a strange Deer, as big as Lightfoot, as handsome as Lightfoot, and apparently as angry as Lightfoot, was also pawing the ground.

Where this strange Deer had come from no one knew. Probably he had come down from the Great Mountain. No one had seen him before. He was perhaps a little younger than Lightfoot, but every bit as fine looking. All of the little people looking on agreed to this. Standing half-hidden in the midst of some small hemlock trees, was beautiful Mrs. Lightfoot. She, too, must have thought the stranger very handsome. Certainly there was admiration in the shy glances which she gave him. To see her you never would have guessed that she was the cause of all this anger. She acted for all the world as if she wondered why these two should be threatening to fight.

Suddenly, as if by agreement, both plunged forward. As they came together they rose on their hind feet and struck with their forefeet. They struck hard. You know those forefeet are armed with sharp-edged little hoofs. Then they dropped to their feet and head to head, their antlers rattling together, began pushing with all their might. Each was trying to push the other backward and upset him. They pushed and pushed, snorting angrily. After a while they separated and backed away, only to come together again as before. Buster Bear came shuffling up. They paid no attention to him. They paid no attention to any one. They were too much wrapped up in their own quarrel to think of anything else. Buster sat down at one side to watch the fight.

Rearing up and striking with those sharp-hoofed forefeet, coming together head to head and pushing with all their strength, Lightfoot and the strange Deer continued the great fight. Now and then one would try to get back to the other, but never succeeded. The ground was torn up. Once Lightfoot slipped to his knees and it looked as if he might be overthrown. A moment later he was up again, however. The same thing happened to the stranger. Neither could get an advantage. They were very evenly matched.

"Oh, I do hope Lightfoot will win!" whispered little Mrs. Impy.

"So do I," replied Impy.

This was the wish of all the other little people, too. You see, they had known Lightfoot for so long that he seemed to belong there; and they knew that whoever should lose this battle would have to leave the Green Forest. So all those little people in feathers and fur looking on hoped and hoped that Lightfoot would win. As for pretty Mrs. Lightfoot, probably she hoped so, too, though it was clear that she admired the stranger very much. If the latter should win she would be quite willing to bestow her favors upon him. If he should lose, she probably wouldn't be sorry. Now, wasn't that a queer state of affairs?

Sammy was there, so was Blacky the Crow

CAFE NEWS

Everything is in readiness for the gala premiere in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel of Ted Weems and his orchestra tomorrow night. In entirely new guise the Blossom Room, after complete redecoration in a striking motif of green, silver and black, will have its first public showing at the debut of Weems, which marks his Western appearance. Distinguishing the occasion will be the attendance of many celebrities of the stage and screen, and special welcoming ceremonies presided over by Walter C. Kelley, "the Virginia judge." It is anticipated that tomorrow night's event at the Roosevelt will outshine any previous "special night" ever given there.

BITTICK HERE SOON

The Town House orchestra under the direction of Jimmy Bittick of the Drake Hotel, Chicago, will open the season's dinner-dances the 17th inst. This orchestra is said to be one of America's finest musical organizations. These dinner-dances will be held each Friday and Saturday night throughout the season, during which a table d'hote dinner will be served.

"WHOOPEE NIGHT"

Prominent film players, producers, directors, composers and other "who's who" of Hollywood will gather at George Olsen's new club, Culver City, tonight, to celebrate "Whoopee Night." Advance reservations forecast one of the most brilliant events of the season. A gala program will be presented, with Olsen and his music, a feature of the stage "Whoopee" and the screen version, introducing a sparkling medley of song numbers from this success. Many surprises will also be included. The screen "Whoopee" brings together again Eddie Cantor, George Olsen and Ethel Shutta, all of whom appeared in the stage production during its New York run.

SAMOVAR POPULAR

The Samovar restaurant in South Pasadena celebrated its second anniversary last Sunday. Near the Huntington Library at Fair Oaks and Monterey Park, it has found favor from the beginning, according to Alfred Murray, manager. The new banquet room adjoining is meeting a real need for bridge-luncheons and gatherings of families and organizations. Special rates are now made for children.

CAFE BUSY PLACE

Frank Averill, manager, reports the Hollywood Plaza Pig'n Whistle is proving popular for Saturday luncheon parties. Among those entertaining recently were Leatrice Joy, Franklin Pangborn, Baron and Baroness Von Brincken, Jason Robards and Francis Dade. The Pig'n Whistle now has a special children's menu.

"PAY-OFF" NEXT FILM AT R.-K.-O.

Radio Picture Directed by Lowell Sherman Will Start Tomorrow

Lowell Sherman is the star and director of "The Pay-Off," which opens tomorrow at the R.-K.-O. Theater. It follows "Leathernecking." Both are Radio pictures.

The incoming stage bill will include Bill Sharples, radio star, in "The Western Show." This act presents a company of twenty-two entertainers. The regular vaudeville unit is headed by Casa and Lehn and a supporting company in "The Hollywood Rush," a comedy sketch. Others are Ward and Van, Fleurette Jeoffrie and Alice and Sonny Lamont.

"The Pay-Off" is said to be a dramatic romance woven around the exploits of a group of suave and debonair robbers. The supporting cast includes Marian Nixon, William Janned, Helene Mollard, George Marion, Walter McGrail and Robert McWade.

John Wayne to Attend Eastern Film Premiere

Raoul Walsh's newest film discovery, John Wayne, who has the featured role in "The Big Trail," is New York bound. The youthful actor left yesterday on a personal appearance tour of eastern cities and will be present at the opening of "The Big Trail" at the Roxy Theater in New York City on the 17th inst.

Walsh has discovered several potential stars, lifting them from the ranks of the unknown and, it is said, they all have vindicated the faith he had in them. "The Big Trail," now showing at Grauman's Chinese Theater, marks Wayne's first appearance in motion pictures.

In the supporting cast of the epic production are Marguerite Churchill, El Brendel, Tully Marshall and Tyrone Power. Elinor's orchestra is presenting "Pioneer Memories," which lends musical atmosphere to the program at the Chinese.

FRANCES DEE SIGNS WITH LASKY

Will Rogers to Remain With Fox During Long Period; William Sistrom Resigning Post With R.-K.-O.; Hope Hampton Receives Film Offers

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

That most vivacious and charming of split-pint size ingenues, Frances Dee, isn't to be allowed to leave the Paramount fold. Miss Dee has just been signed on a long-term contract, and is slated to play the lead in the next Chevalier picture.

FRANCES DEE

Three months ago the casting office of Paramount sent out a call for beauties, and ten were found and signed for the much-talked-of locker-room scene in "Follow Thru." When the sequence was shown in the rushes, something made every eye seek out one girl. Her name was Frances Dee.

Shortly afterward Paramount was looking for a leading woman for Maurice Chevalier's "Playboy of Paris." Miss Dee was remembered and given a test. She won out and was given the role. Next she played opposite Charles Rogers in "Along Came Youth."

WILL ROGERS SIGNS NEW FOX CONTRACT

Of course, there is nothing unexpected in the news, but the fact is that Will Rogers has signed a new contract with Fox.

Rogers is probably the best money maker Fox ever had in the way of stars, due to his phenomenal success in the talkers.

It is not yet set what he will play in as his next starring vehicle, whether it will be Mark Twain's "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" or some other story.

Stage Name With Paramount

Another Broadwayite was claimed yesterday by the film colony, when Ruth Lyons was added to the cast of Ruth Chatterton's starring Paramount vehicle, "The Right to Love."

Miss Lyons just completed two seasons with Ziegfeld's "The Three Musketeers," in which she played opposite Dennis King.

During her four years on the New York stage, the actress enacted roles in such productions as "The Mulberry Bush," starring Claudette Colbert, and "Night Hostess." Miss Lyons is appearing for the first time on the screen in "The Right to Love," in the featured role of a Chinese missionary.

Sistrom Resigns

William Sistrom, executive manager of Radio Pictures' studio, has decided that six months of a milk diet is plenty.

WILLIAM SISTROM

He tendered his resignation yesterday, explaining that he had decided to take his physician's advice. He will rest for a few weeks, later entering a hospital for a long-deferred stomach operation. His resignation was accepted with regret by William Le Baron, vice-president in charge of production.

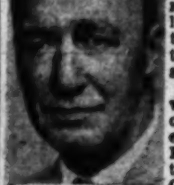
He expects to clear his desk at R.-K.-O. within two weeks. His enforced "holiday" may continue several months, he said, probably terminating with a trip to Europe.

Hope Hampton Wanted

A highly flattering offer was received yesterday by Hope Hampton, we hear, following her Los Angeles debut in grand opera, Monday night, when she electrified her audience with her performance in "Manon." However, we learn that it is not likely Miss Hampton will accept, as she is deeply interested in her operatic career.

Macdonald Is Here

The hero of many pictures, J. Farrell Macdonald, became one in real life the other day on location when he rescued Helen Twelvetrees and an extra girl whose name was not learned, from the fury of a terrific sandstorm.



J. FARRELL MACDONALD

The cast, which is working on "The Painted Desert," Pathe production, at Tuba City, Ariz., saw the storm in the distance traveling in a direction which would have missed them, when suddenly it veered around and came tearing through the set, playing havoc with heavy frame buildings.

Macdonald saw it coming just in time to rush the frightened actresses to a closed car near by, and he drove them hurriedly away just as the set in which they had been working, crashed to the ground.

William Davidson With R.-K.-O.

William Davidson has been awarded a "heavy" role in "Hook, Line and Sinker," according to an announcement made yesterday by William LeBaron, R.-K.-O. head. The company co-features Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, and Edward Cline is directing.

Leatrice Joy Buys Ranch

A farmerette's life is the life for her, says Leatrice Joy, who has just purchased a ten-acre fruit ranch at Van Nuys. Miss Joy is also building a colonial house on the ranch, and is preparing to spend some time there before returning to professional life.

JERITZA ART IN NEW CONQUEST

Opera Star Fascinates as Wagnerian Heroine

"Tannhauser" Surpassing as Event of the Opera

Rodzinski Again Manifests Skill as Conductor

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Maria Jeritza came into her own domain as the Wagnerian heroine last night at Shrine Auditorium. In a performance of "Tannhauser," rendered radiant by her presence, she added another and more ideal conquest to the ones that she has achieved here. Critical judgment must indeed give to her the palm for the superlative and quiet dignity of her interpretation of Elizabeth.

This role, of course, is no flaming and flamboyant one such as she has essayed on certain previous occasions. It is essentially a spiritual creation as are many of the Wagnerian heroines. Yet she realized in the finer accents of a rare portrayal the mystic quality of the woman symbolizing "redemption through love," and the nobility of a queenly figure of medieval romance.

Unquestionably the Jeritza personality filled the stage during the second act of the song tournament. Competition with chorus, pageantry and ensemble of effect on the huge Wagnerian plan, failed to overshadow the dazzling moment of her first entrance, her queenly bearing in the more visual episodes, and the particular triumph of her defense of the wayward Tannhauser.

Again in the third act she won the poetic summit with the serenity of her pleading for the salvation of the unshrived knight, and the exquisitely pictorial impression that she evoked in her slow exit as a ghostly shrouded figure in white from the darkening stage.

Altogether it was a revelation of how much this often pallid role may mean, and it makes one wonder too why Jeritza should not concentrate almost entirely on the Wagnerian interpretation henceforward. The Brunhilde and the Isolde that she could bring to the stage would unquestionably be unsurpassed today.

In many ways "Tannhauser" represented the peak of the operatic engagement. For one thing, the audience was the largest, and the response the most genuine and surpassing. Curtain call followed curtain call after the second act, and the climax was Jeritza's appearance alone for a prolonged and enthusiastic ovation.

Conductor Artur Rodzinski gained almost equal honors, as evinced in the reverberant applause that greeted his appearance before the curtain. The vitality and sweep of his reading of the elaborate score was impressively an event of the evening.

As stage director, Armando Agnini was also brought before the curtain after the second act. The distinguishing results of the Grand March merited this tribute, for in this scene more than any other during the engagement, the general qualifications of the Los Angeles Grand Opera organization were tested, and very admirably disclosed.

There might have been moments when the perfect balance between singers and orchestra was not attained in this scene, but its larger aspects were more than splendid.

Of the other principals in "Tannhauser" besides Jeritza one may especially credit John Charles Thomas. His singing of the "Evening Star" fulfilled expectations as a beautiful, if familiar, event of this opera. It may have seemed a little subdued in quality, but was very artistically given.

Sydney Rayner sang Tannhauser with dramatic effect, but unevenness vocally. The interpretation fell somewhat short of the others. Dorothea Manski as Venus and Ezio Pinza as Hermann were others especially good. The ballet was most attractive in the work done by the trio in the finale.

"Whoopee" Promised at Premiere

Eddie Cantor

Will be present on the stage of the United Artists Theater tonight in connection with the opening of his starring film vehicle produced by Sam Goldwyn and and Florenz Ziegfeld.

STARS TO SEE NEW FILM

Buddy De Sylva, Lew Brown and Ray Henderson, creators of "Just Imagine," will have Gloria Swanson, Eddie Cantor, Samuel Goldwyn, Joseph M. Schenck and Sol Lesser in their personal party at the world premiere of the film Friday night at the Carthay Circle Theater.

Others who have been invited by the trio, and who have promised to attend if they can make arrangements are Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks and Al Jolson. The latter is in New York, but hopes to fly to Los Angeles in time for the premiere.

Fox notables who will attend include Raoul Walsh, Frank Borzage, El Brendel, Marjorie White, Maureen O'Sullivan, Frank Albertson, John Garrick, Hobart Bosworth, Victor McLaglen, Edmund Lowe, Lilyan Tashman, Charles Farrell, Irene Richard and others.

Fall Fashions to Be Displayed

Fall fashions will be exhibited during the opening act of "Little Orchid Annie" when the Hadley Waters-Charles Beahan farce comes to the Hollywood Playhouse Monday night. The newest creations in autumn gowns, wraps, hats and furs will be modeled by mannequins as a feature of the comedy in which Betty Bronson plays the name role.

Miss Bronson, filmdom's "Peter Pan," portrays a naive mannequin who sends her young husband through college at the expense of her rich admirers. The actress will return to the talkies immediately after her engagement in the farce.

Bard's Offers "For Defense"

"For the Defense," a play about a criminal defense lawyer, portrayed by William Powell, starts at Bard's Eighth and Broadway theater today. The story was written by Oliver H. P. Garrett.

The original plot for the story was suggested by Charles Furthmann, a former criminal defense lawyer in Chicago, who retired from practice several years ago. Kay Francis plays opposite Powell.

BRUNETTE OPPOSITE STAR

Kay Francis, who plays opposite Ronald Colman in "Raffles," current attraction at the Uptown Theater, is the first dark-haired actress to be cast opposite the star in six years.

Youthful Actors Score Successes

Three of the youthful members of the cast supporting Pauline Frederick in "The Crimson Hour," now playing at the Belasco Theater, have scored personal hits.

The three are Ethel Jackson, Sanford McCauley and Johnny Arledge. Prior to the opening of "The Crimson Hour" none of these three had acquired much stage experience, it is said, but now are hardened troupers.

PASADENANS ENACT PLAY BY FLAVIN

"Dancing Days" Reveals Somber Story of Youth and Its Persecution

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

Frustrated youth in the person of a young girl, dominated from babyhood by a puritanical grandmother of New England lineage, furnishes the raison d'etre for the very human document, "Dancing Days," by Martin Flavin, now being given its premiere at Pasadena Community Playhouse.

Admitting that in this day of the ubiquitous and all-conquering adolescent, these situations are not numerous as in the "gay nineties," yet isolated cases do exist and Mr. Flavin has colored his narrative with the deeply somber brushstrokes of tragedy.

The author is the possessor of a fine dramatic intuition; and in this drama of flagellated youth, he brings the full power of his mediumistic concern to bear, exposing with ironic sympathy the dancing heart of youth suffocated beneath the cruel selfishness of her elders. The swagger and fanfaronade of artistic parents is dealt with in a manner thoroughly convincing in its authenticity. These artistic parents never grow up, choosing to dance through life, avoiding all responsibilities and with no tenderness toward the wistful child of their youthful love. Their gayly mature children of Peter Pan vintage disdain to look beyond their own immediate horizons of self-indulgence. The girl, in that vehement efflorescence of youth, finally succeeds in breaking down the tradition, perhaps through desperation, and moved by the very ruthlessness of this elder generation.

Dorothy Adams, as the delicately chiseled soul, with her desire for glamour and beauty unquenched, imprisoned within the stern confines of New England atmosphere, gives sincere and straightforward delineation. She depicts the gallant spirit developed by this tradition, behind which pulsed the merry heart of imaginative youth, with fine sensitiveness. As the debonair and temperamental artist-father, Phillip, Addison Richards brings poise and a certain deftness in characterization which bespeaks the finished actor. The spoiled and childlike actress-mother, is vividly portrayed by the alluring Gerda Mann, late of a Max Reinhardt company. A worldly wise charmer of the demi-mondes is well imagined by Margarita Fischer. Gilmor Brown brings his very individual talents of characterization to bear upon the part of Gerald. James Ellison as the unimaginative, but honest lover, gives interesting account of himself. Mr. and Mrs. James Hawks, Morris Ankrum, Herbert Rooksby and Harry Shumway contribute good bits.

PEOPLE INVITED FOR NAVY DAY

Head of Battle Fleet Tells Plans for 27th Inst.

Warships This Year to Stay at Their Home Port

Thousands of Visitors Will Be Shown Sights

All Southland residents were issued a blanket invitation by Admiral Frank H. Schofield, commander-in-chief, yesterday, to be the guests of the Battle Fleet on Navy Day, the 27th inst. The celebration this year will be concentrated at the base in Los Angeles Harbor, whereas in previous years the ships have been scattered for Navy Day at Coast cities the length of the Pacific Coast.

In a fleet letter issued yesterday outlining plans, Admiral Schofield explains that the 27th inst. will not be a holiday for the fleet personnel, but the fleet, instead, will be host to the people of California. The admiral urges all officers and men to extend every courtesy to the thousands of Navy Day visitors and to bend every effort to explain the workings of the myriad parts of the fighting ships.

VISITING HOURS FIXED

Visitors will be received on board all ships from 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., with no break at the noon hour. Eleven boats will run between the Los Angeles Harbor Navy landing at Fifth street and the fleet and as many more from the Santa Barbara-street landing at Long Beach. No boats, however, will operate from the Pine-avenue pier at Long Beach. The boats from Los Angeles Harbor will operate to all ships in port except the aircraft carrier Lexington while the Long Beach boa will carry visitors to and from the Lexington and all battleships. Fleet officials expect crowds beyond the capacity of available ships' boats but the fleet of Long Beach and Los Angeles Harbor water-taxis will supply additional transportation.

Ships open to visitors at Los Angeles Harbor will include the Lexington, nine battleships, including the California, West Virginia, Tennessee, Maryland, New Mexico, Idaho, Mississippi, Nevada and Oklahoma, the fleet repair ship Medusa, the train flagship Procyon, the hospital ship Relief and various auxiliaries.

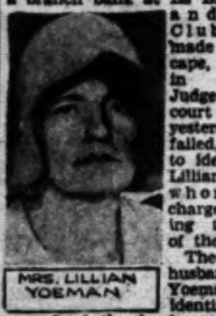
SQUADRON AUGMENTED

The dreadnaught squadron was augmented yesterday by the return of the U.S.S. West Virginia, squadron flagship, from her annual overhaul at the Puget Sound navy yard. Vice-Admiral Richard H. Leigh, commanding the battleship divisions, will shift his flag from the U.S.S. Maryland, temporary flagship, back to the West Virginia today. The U.S.S. New Mexico, flagship of Battleship Division Four, will complete overhaul at Puget Sound next week, depart that yard on the 20th inst. and arrive at Los Angeles Harbor on the 25th inst., stopping at San Francisco en route to load ammunition.

WOMAN NOT IDENTIFIED IN ROBBERY

Witnesses Fail to Back Police Charges Against Mrs. Lillian Yoeman

A woman drove the small sedan in which the bandits who held up a branch bank at La Brea avenue and Country Club Drive made their escape, witnesses in Municipal Judge Russill's court testified yesterday. They failed, however, to identify Mrs. Lillian Yoeman, whom police charge with being the driver of the car.



MRS. LILLIAN YOEMAN

The woman's husband, Alvin Yoeman, was identified by several of the bank employees as one of the bandits. An unidentified man wearing a large piece of adhesive plaster across the lower part of his face did the actual work of the robbery while Yoeman watched, they said. Both men climbed into the sedan which the woman then drove rapidly away, it was testified.

C. P. Conrad, assistant manager of the bank, said that he and one of the book-keepers were victims, the bandits obtaining $507 from him and $769 from the book-keeper. They fled when the bank's manager stepped on the burglar alarm, Conrad said. The robbery hearing will be resumed this morning.

Showers Today Possible After Mercury's Drop

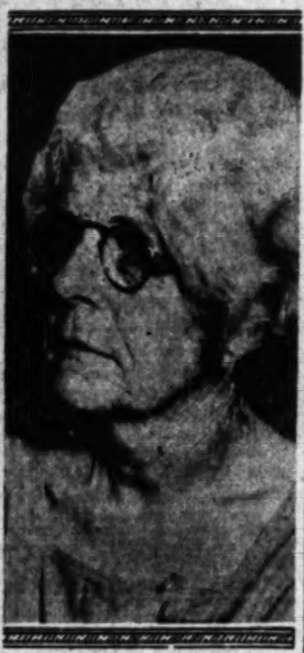
Light showers may fall in Los Angeles today, the Weather Bureau predicted last night. Rain coming down from the north reached Eureka yesterday with .06 of an inch of precipitation. It may reach here today.

Yesterday's peak temperature was only 77 deg., compared to 93 on Monday, and 84 on Sunday. However, yesterday's atmosphere was 61 per cent saturated with moisture, whereas the humidity of Monday was but 16, and Sunday 14. The increase in humidity made yesterday seem almost as warm as the two preceding high-temperature days, despite the mercury's lower position.

X-Ray Discloses Beaty's Injuries

Supervisor Beaty is suffering from a congested lung and three broken ribs received when he and four companions crashed in an airplane at King City early Saturday morning. Announcement of the nature of the county officer's injuries was made yesterday by Mrs. Beaty after seeing X-ray photographs taken by Dr. R. A. Terry. The Supervisor is resting easy at his home in Long Beach.

WOMAN CONVICTED OF LIQUOR CHARGE



Mrs. Lena Rose

Mrs. Lena Rose, 57 years of age, 511½ Windward avenue, Venice, yesterday started serving a forty-day jail sentence for possession and sale of liquor.

With gray hair and a wrinkled face, she was utterly bewildered and feared that she would lose the lease on the hotel which she runs and thus be deprived of her livelihood. She was convicted of a Wright Act charge by Municipal Judge Curtis. It was charged that five pints of liquor were found in her possession at the time of the raid, which followed the sale of one bottle to a police officer. She is the support of a daughter who is ill and a 5-year-old grandchild, she says.

FREEDOM FIGHT LOST BY KRAUSE

Detective Must Remain in Jail Pending Appeal from Bribery Conviction

Louis Krause, private detective convicted of bribery in connection with the trial of Jacob Berman, prominent figure in the ill-fated Julian Petroleum Company, must remain in jail pending his appeal, Superior Judge Wilson ruled yesterday.

"Krause's condition is what could be expected of a man nervous and depressed from jail confinement," testified Dr. Benjamin Blank, County Jail physician, who was called by the District Attorney after Attorney L. T. Rummel, attorney for Krause, had stated the man's health is in danger from continued imprisonment.

Krause was convicted July 10, last, and sentenced to San Quentin by Judge Wilson after probation was denied him.

CRIMINALS REAP GREAT HARVEST

Angelenos Lose $163,834 to Crooks in September

Police Recovery of Plunder Totals Only $17,075

Other Figures Disclosed in Statistical Report

Whatever the opinions may be of criminal psychologists as to the moral issue involved in the oft-repeated assertion that "crime does not pay," the police report on crime and police activity for September shows, in a startling revelation, that criminals, from a monetary standpoint, reaped huge dividends from their unlawful operations. This report, the first of the kind to be compiled by the statisticians' office and released yesterday by Chief Statistician Rhoda Cross, shows that citizens lost a total of $163,834 during the thirty days of September through the combined activities of burglars, bandits, purse snatchers, pickpockets and petty thieves.

Of this enormous loss police recovered only $17,075, the report states. The loss appears even larger when it is considered that the valuation of 651 automobiles stolen is not included in the total amount of cash and property taken.

An interesting contrast to the crime figures are those showing the activity of the police. The report states they issued 12,630 citations for minor traffic violations to citizens. In addition 830 persons were arrested for violation of the Wright Act and 857 on suspicion of felonies. Many of the latter were released or had charges reduced. These specified arrests helped to make a total of 5200 for the month.

While the report is unusually comprehensive and discloses the operations of criminals in each division and the contrasting activity of each police squad and detail, the total figures for each major class of crime suffice to give a clear picture of the crime situation in Los Angeles and what the police are doing to combat it.

These, given in brief tabulation, are as follows:

Robberies; 113 reported and investigated, representing a total loss of $31,253 in cash and property. Of this police recovered $110. Thirty-eight cases were cleared through arrests.

Burglaries: 454 reported, representing a loss of $58,214. Recovery amounted to $7332. Seventy-nine cases were cleared.

Grand theft; Eighty-six cases reported, representing a loss of $47,983. Recovery totaled $5567. Eight cases cleared.

Petty theft: 658 cases reported representing a loss of $30,238, of which $3239 was recovered. Eighty-seven cases cleared.

Theft from persons (includes purse snatching:) sixty-six cases reported representing a loss of $2627, of which $479 was recovered. Sixteen cases cleared.

Worthless checks: Ninety-nine cases reported, representing a loss of $3519, of which $548 was recovered. Thirty cases cleared.

Auto thefts: 651 cars stolen, of which 496 were recovered. In figuring valuation of stolen automobiles police value each car at $400.

In addition to the above figures the report shows that there were three murders during September and that four were solved, the fourth being from the preceding month.

Traffic figures showed twenty-eight deaths or an increase of 12 per cent over the preceding month while injuries amounted to 1333 or an increase of 1 per cent. At the same time a total of 995 accidents showed a 4 per cent decrease as compared to the total number for August.

Outside of the regular vice and liquor investigations the report reveals that police also investigated 272 complaints made by citizens.

C. H. CONDEE LAID TO REST

Plans for Double Funeral of Brothers Changed Due to Illness of Widow

Funeral services for Charles H. Condee, pioneer business man of Southern California, who died Sunday, heartbroken at the news of the death of his brother, Robert A. Condee, were conducted yesterday at Paul Robinson's funeral parlor, Dr. W. E. Roberts officiating. Cremation followed at Rosedale Cemetery.

Pall bearers were James Carson, Cassius Jay, Walter Burke, Reginal Weiss, Curtis Colyear and Fred R. Green.

Originally it had been planned to conduct a double funeral service for the Condee brothers but the plans were changed because of the illness of Mrs. Charles Condee at her home, 1855 West Twenty-first street. News of the death of her brother-in-law, Robert Condee, who died early Sunday morning at Pomona Valley Hospital, followed by the sudden death of her husband, a few hours later, proved too great a shock to Mrs. Condee who now is in the care of physicians.

Charles Condee, who was 74 years of age, and a native of Ohio, had lived in California for the last fifty-six years, having been a resident and real estate man of Los Angeles since 1882.

Funeral services for Robert A. Condee will be conducted at the Chapel of Inglewood Cemetery at 2 p.m. today, with Dr. J. R. Stead officiating. Interment will be in Inglewood Cemetery. At 9:30 a.m. today memorial services will be conducted at Casa Colina, Mrs. Margaret Fowler's residence, at the California Junior Republic, Chino. Dr. Stead will officiate.

Mr. Condee, who was 55, was a native of San Diego, the son of Dr. Asa Condee, pioneer physician of San Bernardino. He was an agriculturist and cattle breeder and at the time of his death was president of the State Board of Agriculture, director of the California Holstein Association and the Pacific Slope Dairy Association, president of the State Fair Association and of the California Junior Republic at Chino. He also was a member of the State Chamber of Commerce and a Mason and Rotarian.

On the 23rd inst., Mr. Condee was stricken with a heart attack from which he never recovered.

The body of Emil Cole, who died Monday after having come to Los Angeles last week to attend the funeral services of his brother, Louis M. Cole, Shriner and financier of Los Angeles, was taken last night to Chicago. Mr. Cole died unexpectedly Monday morning while conversing with friends at a bank on South Spring street.

Accompanied by Monroe Fox, a cousin, the body was taken last night to Chicago where funeral services will be conducted.

HOLLYWOOD BUS LINE TO PORT ASKED

Application for Through Transportation System Heard by State Board

Pointing out numerous advantages that they declared would accrue, a number of witnesses yesterday supported the application of the Los Angeles Motor Coach Company to provide direct bus service between Hollywood and the harbor district. The hearing was before Examiner Satterwhite of the State Railroad Commission.

Earl C. Brown, president of the Merchantors' Association, a division of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, declared that with travel between the two districts made easier he believed greatly increased numbers of persons would journey to Hollywood for entertainment and shopping.

Charles Danziger, managing director of the Hollywood Plaza Hotel, and Carl Bush, executive secretary of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, also backed the motor coach company's petition. It was pointed out that one or more transfers are required for travel between the two places at present.

Hearings are also to be held on the application of the West Side Transit Company to extend its Long Beach line ending at Manchester and Western avenues into Hollywood and on the petition of the Harbor State Company to operate a line between Los Angeles and San Pedro.

LUNCH WILL HONOR NAVY HEAD TODAY

Admiral Chase and Other Leaders Will Be Present at Chamber Gathering

Admiral J. V. Chase, commander-in-chief of the United States Fleet, Admiral F. H. Schofield, commander-in-chief of the battle fleet and eighteen top ranking officers of the Navy, will be guests of Los Angeles business leaders at a luncheon sponsored by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce at the Biltmore at noon today.

Today's affair will be the first public appearance of Admiral Chase since taking over command of the fleet, his command having been formally established at a ceremony in Los Angeles Harbor Monday. In response to President John C. Austin of the Chamber of Commerce, who will preside, the new commander-in-chief will give a talk on the peace-time service of the Navy and the ships of the fleet, endeavoring to describe some of the activities little known to landsmen.

Admiral Schofield also is on the program for a brief talk. Band music, featuring navy airs, will be heard.

Loeb Acquitted in Traffic Case

Following a deliberation of several hours a jury in the court of Municipal Judge Bogue yesterday afternoon acquitted Arthur M. Loeb, chairman of the Julian Oil Company stockholder committee, of having run through a traffic signal at San Pedro and Seventh street, September 5, last.

Loeb was placed in jail for six hours after he refused to sign a ticket presented to him by the traffic officer.

He also was charged with not having a tail light and with having inadequate brakes. As the case occurred in the day time Judge Bogue dismissed the charge as to the tail light as the State law governs its operation only at night. The brake charge also was dismissed.

Police Get New Shirt Deadline

Samples of new material for shirts for the personnel of the Los Angeles Police Department are to be inspected shortly, it was announced by the Police Commission, which yesterday extended the time for wearing the present grey-blue soft shirts until March 1, 1931, when the period for the new-type shirts begins.

President Thorpe stated that the shirts now worn by traffic officers without coats are not of a satisfactory color, as they do not form sufficient contrast to give the officers a smart appearance.

RAYS TRIED ON FRUIT

To determine the preservative effect of ultra-violet rays upon fruits and fruit juices is the object of research experiments being conducted at the University of Southern California under the direction of Miss Margaret Airston, professor of pharmaceutical chemistry. Miss Airston is being assisted by Erwin Clarke of the college of pharmacy.

Maloney, once he found a way around the giant from pushing him into a corner or against the ropes, lashed Carnera's head with wide rights and straight lefts into his body. None of these blows hurt Carnera much but, from the fifth to the ninth rounds, they were enough to make him miss. While Maloney gamely held on to his lead, Carnera closed in on him and battered his head and body with short blows.

TROJAN SQUAD LEAVES TODAY

Southern California Players Off for Pullman

Jones Selects Squad of 35 for Trip North

Duffield and Musick Shine in Workout

BY BRAVEN DYER

Gunning for Cougar meat the Trojans of Southern California depart this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the Central Station. Whether the barrage of passes and powerful line plays with which Howard Jones has fortified his charges will be sufficient ammunition to bring home the bacon will not be decided until late Saturday afternoon at Pullman.

TAY BROWN

Mr. Jones is taking an army of thirty-five hunters to the great Northwest so the battle ought to be fought on fairly even terms as far as man-power is concerned. No doubt Babe Hollingbery's reserves are more experienced than the Trojan subs—they ought to be inasmuch as Babe has twenty letter men at his beck and call—but the feeling prevails that the Trojans, if they are going to win, will do so with about fifteen or sixteen men and not with the third string.

Those making the trip are as follows:

Center: Stan Williamson, Bill

WELCOMING HOME CALIFORNIA'S POLO HERO

Here we have Mr. Eric Pedley, scoring ace of the United States team in the triumph over Great Britain in the international series at Meadowbrook this summer, getting one the greeters' gestures at the railroad station yesterday morning—a mallet arch under which he passed to the cheers of the gathered assemblage. Below is a close-up of California's greatest contribution to the polo world.

International Polo Player Praises Team-mates

Hitchcock, Englishmen Play Here This Winter

BY FRANK ROCHE

That was not an earthshake that hit the city yesterday morning. It was just Los Angeles welcoming back its own Eric Pedley, the West's greatest polo player. Pedley, the only player born west of the Rockies ever to make the American Big Four, and who, in addition, stole all the thunder from the world's greatest collection of poloists during the recent internationals at Meadowbrook, was received amid fanfare of trumpets yesterday by Los Angeles sportsmen headed by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

ELMER BOESEKE

Following a noisy celebration at the Southern Pacific Station Pedley was paraded through the downtown section of the city and then feted at a luncheon at the Biltmore by leading State and city officials. Pedley, when he had a chance to recover his breath, thanked every one for the demonstration and then announced that Capt. Tommy Hitchcock and the pick of the English horsemen who took part in the big series, had promised to come to Southern California this winter for Coast tournament play.

ERIC ON RADIO

Pedley will give his impressions of the recent international polo classic on The Times Sports Edition of the Air tomorrow night over station KHJ at 9:30. In other words, the greatest No. 1 polo has ever seen will tell Southern California fans all about it.

Eric was high in his praise for the members of the English team. In a modest way he put the soft pedal on his accomplishments. He lauded Tommy Hitchcock, captain of the "big four," and his other teammates, E. A. S. Hopping and Winston Guest.

One of the first to greet Eric when he arrived was Elmer Boeseke, team-mate of Pedley on the Midwick big four and an alternate on the American international squad. Boeseke and Pedley went back together as candidates for the team—Eric made it and Elmer just missed by an eyelash.

Boeseke in a talk at the luncheon declared that he was sure Eric Pedley was the difference between defeat and victory for the United States in the series with Great Britain.

KENNEDY WHIPPED BY AL FAY

Kearns's Protege Puts on Rally in Ninth to Capture Verdict at Olympic

BY PAUL LOWRY

Al Fay, a newcomer from eastern shores, provided the natives with a real fistic upset at the Olympic last night.

Heralded only as another heavyweight belonging to the Jack Kearns stable of prospects—one of whom may some day fill Jack Dempsey's shoes—Fay put on a dime-novel finish to beat Les Kennedy in a rousing ten-round bout.

AL FAY

The last round decided the trick, and Fay won the session by stepping in briskly and pasting lefts and rights to Kennedy's head.

Kennedy's previous success in beating Kayo Christner, Jack DeMave and Max Baer caused his installation as better than a two-to-one favorite before the fight.

But right off the bat Fay proved he was no sucker for Kennedy's counter punching. He moved in and out with rapidity of foot, and used both left and right with skill and seriousness of purpose.

At the end of the third round Referee Lieut. Jack Kennedy walked over to Kennedy's corner and told the Long Beach fighter he looked like a punching bag.

STEP ON GAS

That speeded up the festivities and Kennedy went to work and

BY ALAN GOULD

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7. (AP)—As advertised, the well-known fast-ball firm of Grove, Earnshaw, Earnshaw and Grove has been given the contract to pitch the Philadelphia Athletics to their second straight world's championship at the expense of the highly persistent and still very dangerous Cardinals of St. Louis.

GEORGE EARNSHAW

Connie Mack, in so far as he ever commits himself before any game, intimated as much upon arrival today to share with his men a noisy reception from a crowd of rooters, with a band, at North Philadelphia station at 5:45 p.m.

They will resume business at the old home stand, Shibe Park, tomorrow afternoon in the sixth game of the contest for major league baseball laurels and personal dividends that mean over $5000 to the winner as against around $3300 to the loser.

ALL ON HAND

All of the warring forces, including the somewhat exhausted correspondents, came back to the eastern battlefront today, with the Athletics holding the lead, three games to two, after a desperate fight to take the last of three torrid engagements on the western front.

The Mackmen, therefore, need only one more game to settle the issue and the probability is that the order of operators by the pitching firm will be big George Earnshaw, as the starter, and Robert Moses Grove, as relief man, if necessary. In this order, they proved thoroughly effective yesterday in blanking the Cardinals in a thrilling game decided by Foxx's ninth-inning homer and they will be shot right at the Red Birds, unless Mack undergoes a sudden change of mind and heart.

The Cardinals, knowing they must win to prolong the series to its limit of seven games, will rely on their able young south-

Heap Big Chief Ernie Johnson's Seattle Indians daubed on their war paint yesterday at Wrigley Field and massacred the Angels in both games of a double-header. The Red Skins hammered their way to a 15-to-13 victory in the opener, and then wound up their day on the war path by scalping the Seraphs, 11 to 1, in the final.

As you might guess by the scores, neither game was much to look at, but then there weren't many fans present, so the double annoyance can be put down as trivial.

BIG MINORS TO HOLD DRAFT CONFAB

CHICAGO, Oct. 7. (AP)—Representatives of the three class AA leagues will hold a conference in Cleveland either Thursday or Friday in advance of the major league meeting to consider their policy in the draft question.

The majors have asked the three leagues, the International, Pacific Coast and American Association, to meet with them in Cleveland two days after the final world series game to thresh out the draft problem.

"We intend to go over the question among ourselves a day before conferring with the majors," President Thomas J. Hickey of the American Association said.

Tough Competition Looming for Leading Elevens

Five Squads Look Strong on Pacific Coast

Four Outfits Stand Out in Southern League

With set-up games left behind, all conferences are swinging into midseason stride, which will carry them forward to victory or defeat on or before Thanksgiving.

Weak sparring partners, permitting games of the point-a-minute variety, while adding to point totals, do little to enable coaches to weed out dead timber and few conferences have shown enough to permit even a hazardous guess as to the ultimate leaders.

TROJANS GOOD

On the Pacific Coast Stanford, Oregon State, Washington State, Southern California and Washington have displayed teams of potential ability—ragged in spots and exceedingly strong in others.

Despite Washington's defeat of Montana and the unusually strong showing of Oregon State in their game with Southern California, Washington State still looks to be the class of the Northwest. Oregon State displayed a powerful team here Saturday, with plentiful reserves, but could not withstand the Trojans' crushing attack. Washington State's rout of California serves notice that they are to be counted in the running when coast-wide honors are handed out. They should give the Trojans a whale of a battle next Saturday with odds even if clear, dry weather prevails and in favor of Washington State if a muddy, slippery field is encountered.

Stanford tangles with Minnesota in an interstate fracas at Minneapolis next Saturday. This game should result in a walkover for Stanford. Minnesota's 33-7 defeat Saturday by Vanderbilt shows that Doc Spears left a comparatively weak outfit for Fritz Crisler to whip into early season form. In this game five Minnesota errors cost them five touchdowns.

California meets St. Mary's and will probably take it on the chin again. Nibs Price's shift does not seem to be functioning perfectly as yet and in meeting St. Mary's plays into the hands of a master of the Notre Dame style of attack.

In the Middle West few teams played opponents of a caliber to indicate a great degree of strength. Ohio State's trouncing of Indiana, 23-0, and Northwestern's defeat of Tulane, 14-0, in an intersectional game were highlights which should mean something or other. Other games ran true to form. Notre Dame was almost sunk by the Mustangs of Southern Methodist and in the last four minutes of play barely pulled out with a 20-14 victory which dedicated the new Notre Dame $750,000 brick bowl.

TECH SPARKLES

In the South Georgia Tech took South Carolina to the tune of 45-0; Alabama licked Mississippi, 65-0; Florida played North Carolina State a 27-0 game and Tennessee took Center, Ky., 18-0. Kentucky ran wild over Sewanee in their opening game, winning, 33-0. A more intelligent estimate of southern teams may be given after the coming week-end games. Alabama meets Sewanee; Tennessee plays Mississippi and Vanderbilt locks horns with Virginia Polytechnic Institute in the Southern Conference. Three southern teams play intersectional games. Carnegie Tech plays Georgia Tech; Pennsylvania meets University of Virginia and Yale tangles with Georgia.

At this time Kentucky, Vanderbilt, Alabama and Tennessee appear to be exceptionally strong.

The football map in the East appears to be very splotchy. The games of the past week-end were, for the most part, weak set-ups who presented very little opposition to the big colleges. Pennsylvania, Carnegie Tech, Harvard and Yale show early season promise of real strength.

Carideo of Notre Dame, Barry Wood of Harvard, Albie Booth of Yale and Orville Mohler of Southern California made a place for themselves in national conspicuousness over the week-end. Carideo, Wood and Booth will find in Mohler, Southern California, a quarterback who gives promise of being a great performer even in his sophomore year. The prediction made by the writer more than a year ago, that Mohler would be an all-American quarterback in his junior year, seems very likely to be fulfilled, barring injuries.

Merle Hufford, University of Washington, Ernie Pinckert and Marshall Duffield of Southern California are other Pacific Coast backfield performers who are destined to project themselves into the national limelight before Father Time blows taps over the football activities in the present season.

Justo Suarez Draws Layoff

Suarez won the fight on points.

I ASKED Mr. Gude if I could run some ads in the sport section where I could talk horse-sense OUT LOUD to men only—about Arch Preserver shoes.

In talking to women about them I have to mention the style staffs maintained in Paris and New York.

Well, YOUSE GUYS don't care anything about that. I can talk machinery TO YOU.

Shoe heels are the rub. They lift your feet off the ground and take away the arch support that nature intended. Thin leather under your arch does no good. ● Arch Preserver shoes (made by E. T. Wright & Company) give you a steel shank from heel to ball.

Another thing. Most shoe soles are concave inside crosswise. Nerves and blood vessels are squeezed into a "trough." Arch Preserver soles are flat crosswise.

NEWMAN GETS SOPHS INTO SHAPE FOR TIGERS

Whipping a team of big, willing, but slightly inexperienced sophomores into shape for their opening conference game with Occidental this Friday night in the Rose Bowl is the chore Coach Wallace Newman of Whittier has laid out for himself in the next few days.

New men, either second-year students or jaysee transfers, make up the bulk of Newman's squad this season. Five of the starters Friday night will be sophs and two junior college recruits.

Outstanding among the sophomore gridsters is Bill Krueger, fleet-footed back from Huntington Park. Krueger's first claim to fame in the athletic world was his ability as a track man at Huntington Park, where he held a mark of 10s. in the century and ran a fast quarter mile. This year he dons moleskins for the first time and is quickly proving himself a real threat against Whittier foes. Up until last week-end Krueger had been laid up with a sprained ankle, but starred against Arizona State when he played his first game of organized football. Occidental stalwarts will have to keep on the alert to stop this Quaker speed merchant.

Newman has uncovered a new hope at end in "Porky" Lewis, a former Whittier lad who returned to school this semester. Lewis will in all probability, start at the left wing.

Other new men who have definitely established a tanbark reputation are Gibbs, Grunsky, Dietrick, Daugherty, Groom and Hill, all of whom will start against Oxy.

Occidental football fans note with alarm the illness of Dick Glover, elusive fullback, who is in the grips of old man influenza. Should he not be in shape by game time, the Tigers' chances of snatching a victory would be materially lessened.

New reserves of ability for the line have made themselves evident in practice the last night or two. Waddell at guard, Hansen at tackle, and Hibbits at tackle are the favored ones. Hibbits is a brother to Charley Hibbits, Oxy's all-conference guard of 1929. His defensive play is the equal of any on the squad, but his work on the offense needs polishing up.

John Reed, stocky halfback, has at last recovered from a sprained ankle and will probably start Friday night against the Poets, replacing Art Elliott. Elliott, however, will get into plenty of action during the game.

Seals Defeat Acorns, 7-5

OAKLAND, Oct. 7. (AP)—Scoring two runs each in the seventh and eighth innings San Francisco defeated Oakland, 7 to 5, in the series opener here tonight. An Oakland rally in the ninth, when three runs were scored off three hits, was halted after Turpin relieved Douglas on the Seal mound.

San Francisco pounded three Oakland pitchers steadily getting at least one hit in all but one inning. Hurst took over the mound work for Oakland in the seventh after Phebus had been pounded for four hits and two runs in the seventh. He then stepped out for a pinch hitter and Joiner finished the pitching assignment. Oana, San Francisco, and Read, Oakland, each hit home runs. Score:

Cards Off for Minneapolis

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 7. (AP)—Thirty-three Stanford football men left here today for Minneapolis, where they will play the Minnesota team Saturday.

Coach Pop Warner made a last-minute change in the list of men making the trip, substituting Tom Lambert for Guido Caglieri at right halfback. Caglieri is recovering from a shoulder injury.

Warner told the Stanford student body at the send-off rally that the Minnesota team is "strong." Husky Hunt, assistant Cardinal coach, who scouted the Minnesota-Vanderbilt game Saturday, backed up this assertion. Vanderbilt won the game, 33 to 7.

HONOLULU, Oct. 7. (AP)—The Hawaiian Amateur Athletic Union has instructed its delegate to the national meeting at Washington, D. C., November 6, to bid for the national men's and women's championship swimming meets in 1931.

Hack Wilson Wins Highest Player Award

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7. (AP)—Lewis R. (Hack) Wilson, pudgy outfielder of the Chicago Cubs, who smashed all National League home-run records this year besides dethroning Babe Ruth as the major league circuit-clouting champion, was proclaimed tonight his league's most valuable player by a vote of a committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

The selection was unofficial inasmuch as the National League last year abandoned its annual custom of picking the most valuable performer and rewarding him with $1000. However, it was made by the same committee that functioned on behalf of the league last year and was announced by James Cruisinberry of Chicago, the retiring president of the writers' association.

Wilson won distinction, for the first time, after a close contest with Frankie Frisch, captain of the St. Louis Cardinals, and Billy Terry, first-sacker of the New York Giants and the new National League batting king. Wilson received 70 votes out of a possible maximum of 80. Frisch received 64 and Terry 58. No others were close.

ITALIAN MARVEL FINALLY LOSES

gradually but he digested his punishment in impressive fashion and beat Carnera to most of the punches up to the ninth round.

The defeat was the first suffered by Carnera since he started his American campaign early this year. He piled up a record of twenty-three victories, twenty-two by speedy knockouts, but disquieting rumors followed most of his contests. The boxing public, however, appeared ready to judge him by his showing against the Boston favorite.

Carnera was impressive only at close quarters. Giving away such weight, Maloney had to depend upon fast footwork and it was seldom that the Italian could land a clean blow.

Even against the ropes or in a corner, Carnera was only able to chop short, hard blows on Maloney's head, neck and body. But he did not even stagger Maloney at any time.

The Associated Press score card called the third even and gave Maloney credit for the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth. The card also revealed that Carnera landed a total of 195 blows to Maloney's 192 but the latter's were cleanest.

The unofficial gate receipts figures were announced as $60,000. Carnera's purse was $40,000 and Maloney was guaranteed $15,000 with a 25 per cent privilege. Carnera sails for Italy late this week.

Napoleon Jack Forval, heavyweight from Emporium, Pa., knocked out George Cook of Australia in the seventh round of a scheduled ten-round semi-wind-up.

Old Ball Dies Natural Death

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. (AP)—The Association of Golf Ball Manufacturers discontinued manufacture of the present type of golf ball on the 1st inst., and all balls now being produced are of the new and larger type that becomes the standard ball on January 1, 1931, it was announced today.

Prescott S. Bush, secretary of the United States Golf Association, added no further changes in specifications are contemplated, the new ball having proved most satisfactory.

DUBROCK OUT OF HOLLYWOOD LINE-UP

Buddy DuBrock, star No. 3 for the Yellow Jacket polo four of the Hollywood Polo and Hunt Club, may be out of the game for a week with a wrenched knee, it was learned yesterday from R. P. Murray, manager of the Movie City organization.

DuBrock was struck in the knee with a mallet last Sunday in leading his team to a victory over the Whites and is at present under the care of the club physician. However, his condition is reported as improving and he may be able to play for a few chukkers Sunday.

LOCAL DRIVERS IN TIGHT SPOT

Stiff Outside Competition at Ascot Track Tonight

Southern California racing drivers, classed for years as rulers of the speedway world, will be up against some stiff outside competition tonight at the Legion Ascot Speedway when some of the best the North, East and Middle West has to offer in the way of driving talent and racing machinery will make its appearance.

At least half of the outstanding entrants for tonight's races are pilots from other sections of the country.

Topping this list are "Shorty" Cantlon of Detroit, "Swede" Smith of Portland, Sam Hoffman of Sioux City, Lyn Eldredge of San Francisco and Johnny Krieger of Denver.

That quintet appears to be formidable enough to give the Los Angeles throttle knights plenty to worry about. Cantlon, one of the leading drivers of the East, has not done anything spectacular since he arrived here three weeks ago, but he expects to flash his old-time winning form tonight. The Detroit ace, who has been having difficulty trying to get his Miller-Schofield Special geared for the tricky turns at the local oval, has had a staff of mechanics working on the car during the past week and should have it in shape tonight.

"Swede" Smith, who came through to first money in the main event last week, has his No. 24 clicking just as fast as ever and should be among the fastest qualifiers. Likewise, Sam Hoffman, who won a ten-lap race in his first appearance at the track last Wednesday, has been clocked fast in trial spins. Hoffman, who was a lion of the dirt tracks of the Middle West this year, evidently is one of the few who can drive one course as well as the next. Unlike some of the other cars brought here from other sections, Hoffman's Morisco Special is built perfectly for the Ascot saucer.

Ralph Hamlin, prominent automobile magnate of this city and an old-time road racer, will referee.

Although Jimmy Sharp and Walt May will be confined to the pits tonight as a result of recent crashes, Southern California will be well represented among the thirty-odd drivers going to the post. Chief among the "home-grown" products are "Stubby" Stubblefield, who will be out for his fourth consecutive victory in the Italian Helmet dash; Arvol Brunmier, who has been breaking records with reckless abandon lately; Francis Quinn, rated by many as the greatest of all dirt-track drivers, and Melvin McKee, the Irish go-devil.

Several new cars and pilots are slated to make their appearance, among the entries being E. C. Snyder of Portland his Fronty No. 54. Snyder has not decided whether he will drive the car tonight or allow Ernie Triplett to test the mount in local competition.

BREAKFAST CLUB HONORS WOMEN

promptly at 8 o'clock. Eric Pedley of polo fame, and Jack Dempsey are also included in the program. This is the first of a series of affairs arranged in honor of the visiting women.

Yesterday's practice rounds over the north course were featured by a foursome made up of Miss Collett, Miss Bernice Wall of Oshkosh, Wis., Leo Diegel of Agua Caliente, and Willie I. Hunter of Montebello Park. Miss Collett and Hunter won, but the margin of victory and cards were kept a secret. Miss Collett is hitting a long ball, and off the first tee outdistanced both Diegel and Hunter.

Mrs. Leona Pressler of San Gabriel had the best score of the day, an 82, two over women's par. She played with the brilliant young Inwood (N. Y.) golfer, Miss Helen Hicks.

Miss Barbara Bastheim of Hillcrest, who has been steadily climbing the championship ladder, shot an 85. Mrs. Mark Steele of San Gabriel and Mrs. Brent Potter of San Francisco, had 88's.

Others who played practice rounds include Mrs. O. S. Hill of Kansas City, 1929 western women's champion, who played with Miss Helen Lawson of Wilshire and Mrs. George M. Midgley of Los Angeles; Mrs. Gregg Lifur of Riviera and Mrs. Willie Hunter of Montebello Park, Miss Helen Luscomb of San Diego and Mrs. J. Palma of Honolulu.

A few outstanding stars are yet to arrive, including Mrs. Harley Higbie of Detroit, who gets in Friday morning on the Golden State Limited.

It will be possible to get a line on how the women are playing Friday morning when the Flintridge Country Club has arranged an eighteen-hole medal play invitation event as part of the entertainment program. Mrs. Hunter Robbins is chairman for the day.

Season tickets for the championship are now on sale, and can be obtained at Spalding's, Tuft-Lyons, B. H. Dyas and the May Company. These tickets are priced at $5 for the week. Tickets for individual days can be obtained at the following tariff: Monday, $2; Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, $1; Friday, $2, and Saturday, $2.50.

There to Pullman from many miles has very few weak organization. He than he had last more aggressive attack. The strength is pretty well balanced. At the first of the season he had two major problems—guards and a quarterback but his team cannot be called weak in those positions. Except for quarterback he has a backfield that would warm any coach's heart, with big Schwartz doing the pile driving and two sets of triple threat halfbacks, Porter Lainhart, Tuff Ellingsen, Stub Jones and Emmett Schroeder and with some good boys among the sophomores, one of them, George Sanders, considered by Hollingbery to be the best prospect he ever had. He misses Buckley at quarter, but Tonkin, who understudied Buckley, is a peppy player, his one weakness being a scant 145 pounds of weight. Mentor Dahlen, a sophomore, is being brought along as rapidly as possible, has more weight than Tonkin and so will see considerable playing.

At guard the Cougars have two of last year's reserves, Paredi and Mitchell. Harold Yap, a Hawaiian, is making a bid for position, but Hollingbery recognizes the guard positions as a weakness and is trying to strengthen them. He has no other line troubles, with his regulars, Mel Hein, center; Glenn Edwards and Alskog, tackles; John Hurley and Lyle Maskell, ends, and with others almost as good as these first stringers, for every position.

In his line-up Hollingbery has three men whom he rates as good as any on the Coast. They are Schwartz, fullback; Edwards, tackle, and Hein, center. Schwartz weighs 192, is stocky but fast, always a menace when yardage is needed and equally good on backing up the line. Edwards weighed 215 pounds last year and is said to be nearer 240 this year. Yet he is surprisingly fast for his size and a trouble maker for any opposing team. Hein weighs 193 and in his two years of play has established a reputation from Los Angeles to Seattle. It is these three men that the Trojans will have to keep an eye on particularly, yet the whole Cougar tribe is able to give a good account of itself.

BONITA BOWS TO LIONS

The El Monte Lions chalked-up their third-straight win of the season yesterday at the expense of the Bonita High team. The Lions won by a score of 18-0, with Wally Logan, quarter, playing the stellar role. Albers also played well for El Monte, while Morris, Bonita half, starred for the losers.

TROJAN SQUAD LEAVES TODAY

Southern California Players Off for Pullman

Jones Selects Squad of 35 for Trip North

Hawkins, Julian Whittier.

Right guard: Jess Shaw, Rupert Black, Vaughn Deranien.

Right tackle: Tay Brown, Ernie Smith, Bill Armistead.

Right end: Garrett Arbelbide, Neil Norris, Henry Biggs.

Fullback: Jim Musick, Gains Shaver, Bert Ritchey.

The team will stop at Red Bluff tomorrow morning and go through a workout on Kaer Field, made famous by Morton Kaer, former Southern California halfback, who starred as a prep in the little Northern California high school. Arriving at Spokane, Wash., Friday noon, the team will practice at Gonzaga University and remain all night in Spokane. The eighty-mile train ride from Spokane to Pullman will be made Saturday morning.

LONG PRACTICE

Last night's sessions continued until 6 o'clock with Jones driving his players through severe scrimmage against Washington State formations. The Head Man was in a decidedly irascible mood and seemed bent on bringing out all the football each of his men had to display.

Tay Brown, varsity right tackle, was bumped so soundly on one play that he had to leave the field with a badly bruised hip, but Doc Fieseler opined that the S.C. sophomore would be ready for duty Saturday, to which Mr. Jones added: "He'll have to be." Ernie Smith followed Brown in the position.

Duffield, who is driving better than ever before this year, skippered the varsity through a long period of offensive scrimmage. Duffy will be Troy's siege gun against the Cougars Saturday and after he has done his best to batter down their defense, in will go Mohler. Marsh isn't getting much newspaper credit for the hard work he has been doing, but Trojan coaches know and appreciate his worth and that counts most with the Santa Monica boy.

Pinckert did not scrimmage last night, Fieseler fearing that the wound over his eye might be reopened. It's almost a cinch to be split again Saturday and the Trojan medico desired to give the cut as much of a chance to heal as possible. Apsit saw no heavy duty, either, but will be ready to play Saturday. Tipton filled in for Pinckert and Kirkwood and Mallory batted for Apsit.

JONES'S VERDICT

Jones was asked several times what he expected to do Saturday. "Well, I can't tell," opined the Head Man. "I only wish I knew."

"Are you going to win?"

"I really can't say," replied Jones. "But I'm not saying we are going to lose," was his parting shot.

RABBIT PUNCHES

POLO'S RED GRANGE

MR. ERIC PEDLEY sat at a long table as one of many honored guests at the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce banquet earlier in the year.

Yesterday in the same hotel he was the only honored guest of the day, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce and other civic greeters were making a great racket about it.

When Mr. Pedley partook of his early-season banquet the good folks in attendance little guessed that the "White Knight," as Mr. Pedley is sometimes referred to, would be the scoring hero of the recent international polo series between the United States of America and Great Britain.

Least of all, perhaps, Mr. Pedley himself.

The only goal Mr. Pedley set before his eyes was that of making a place on the American quartet which was to battle the English team.

But Mr. Pedley surpassed his most ambitious hopes. He not only made the team, but overnight the Californian became the sensation of the international series.

He is the "Red" Grange of the polo world, and if you recall how "Red" was honored and lauded for his collegiate deeds on the gridiron you can appreciate why the boys were cheering Mr. Pedley yesterday.

Mr. Pedley is a modest young man, and he took it all in good grace, although the photographers at the railroad station had him do everything but lift the locomotive off the track.

STANFORD BACKS TROJANS

THINGS are rather quiet on the California football front this coming week-end. With the Trojans of Southern California in the Northwest to play Washington State, Stanford in the Midwest to meet Minnesota, California facing St. Mary's at Berkeley and U.C.L.A. meeting Pomona here there are no Pacific Coast Conference battles in the State.

For the first time this year the Trojans will have something like united backing from Stanford supporters in their northwestern skirmish.

Stanford fans want the Trojans to beat Washington State and then come up to Palo Alto the 25th inst. for a licking.

Otherwise Stanford will never get a crack at that Coast championship. The best they can get is a tie.

This is the result of a schedule which sees Washington State meeting none but northwestern teams after the S.C. game next Saturday—Montana, Oregon State, Idaho and Washington in turn.

If Washington State gets by the Trojans you can just about write your own ticket the Cougars will take their Northwest rivals in stride.

THE SOUTH GOAL

"I SAW the game in which Brick Muller passed to Stephens," writes Mr. W. W. Smith. "You are right. It was the south end of the field. Ask Mr. Les Henry if he remembers that the crowd broke through a fence and squatted near the goal post.

"And again, Muller came out before the game and gave an exhibition of passing in front of my seat on the northwest end of the field, passing the ball time and again for sixty yards."

TEACHOUT SHOWS 'EM

IT'S TOO bad Bud Teachout wasn't good enough for either Seattle or Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League.

The National League pitching averages for the season show him to be the third leading heaver in the Heydler loop.

The former Occidental star has participated in thirty-nine games, winning ten and losing four for an average of .714. Only Mitchell and Fitzsimmons of New York have better marks, and their averages are only a few points to the good.

INDIANS SCALP ANGELS TWICE

hurler hitting two home runs and a single and holding the Angels to three safeties to check in with an easy victory. Clyde Barfoot, although bothered with a lame arm, went the route (or was it rout,) scattering seventeen Seattle hits through seven innings.

In the opener, the Indians gave Dutch Ruether plenty of runs, piling up eight in the third inning alone, but the veteran Sud southpaw needed them all. Ruether wobbled as badly as his support, and Ernie Johnson was becoming as nervous as a June bride when the Angels scored six in the seventh and another in the eighth to come within two runs of the Tribesmen. But Dutch retired the Angels in order in the ninth to save the contest.

Glenn Gabler and Augie Walsh were the Angel hurlers in the opener, the two of them yielding thirteen hits.

Skipper Lelivelt, whose mound staff is in bad shape with Win Ballou nursing a sore arm and Carroll Yerkes on the sick list, had to let his pitchers take it on the chin. He has to save himself some hurlers for the remainder of the eleven-game series and also keep his mound corps in shape for the coming pennant play-off with Hollywood. These games don't mean a thing to Lelivelt, but it is up to him to see that his hurlers are all set for the series with the Stars.

The first game was a terrible affair, with the Redskins apparently sewing it up in the third, when they scored eight times off Gabler and Walsh to take a 10-to-2 lead. But the Cherubs kept pecking away at Ruether and the Indian fielders let balls drop to the right and left of them in a most amazing manner until the Angels found themselves within shooting distance only to run out of bullets.

Ray Jacobs, Louie Almada and Wes Schulmerich rapped out circuit clouts.

House was too good for the Seraphs in the finale, while the Indians ran up five runs in the first four rounds and then cinched it with four more in the sixth. Those four in the sixth resulted when Lawrence's double with the bases filled rolled through Harper and the fleet-footed Tribe outfielder raced all around the paths. House hit his homers in the fourth and seventh, the latter scoring Gaddy, who had doubled.

Carl Dittmar's home run on top of the left-field light screen in the second inning saved the Seraphs from a shutout.

Johnny Moore, playing his first game since he broke a bone in his right wrist several weeks ago, failed to get a hit in the nightcap, but he'll be doing his stuff up at that plate again as soon as he gets his eye on the ball.

Two more today, folks, and the same dose goes for every other afternoon this week, except Saturday. Scores:

Joseph Scott presided at the luncheon given in Pedley's honor and introduced Carleton Burke, Snowy Baker, Elmer Boeseke, Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan, Mayor Porter, LeRoy Owens, and a host of others, all of whom lauded Eric to the skies for his brilliant performances on the field of sport.

Will Rogers, unable to attend, added a humorous note to the affair with a telegram in which he warned Eric that he would not be a great No. 1 if he had to play that position on the team that he (Rogers) has to ride with. He signed it Will (One Goal) Rogers.

Eric, before leaving for his home with Mrs. Pedley, announced he was going to take a rest before playing any polo. He may ride at the Uplifters' Club next month.

"Therefore, under no circumstances, will the Boston Red Sox further consider McCarthy as manager."

FOUR MAT STARS SIGNED

Daro Lines Up Quartet of Wrestling Behemoths for Olympic Auditorium

Four mat stars, whose wrestling has won them many mat fans in this section, have been signed to appear on "Carnation" Lou Daro's all-star mat program at the Olympic next Wednesday night.

They are Don George, former University of Michigan grappler, and Bob (Bibber) McCoy, powerful and fast 220-pound Irishman, who will clash in the finish feature event of this program; Joe Malcewicz, the rough mat panther from Utica, N. Y., who will tangle with Jose Dominguez, 215-pound Mexican sensation, and Nick Lutze, local mat idol, who will face Moose Norbeck of Canada in the opener.

Dominguez is the newcomer on this card. He comes to the Coast with about the same kind of a reputation that preceded Malcewicz's first local appearance more than two years ago. These two have never met before, but Malcewicz declared yesterday he would not wrestle the Mexican unless the match was made a best two-out-of-three-fall finish battle.

The bout had originally been scheduled a one-hour time limit affair, but the Utican declared he had heard too much about Dominguez's ability on the mat to take a chance against him in a one-fall battle. As Dominguez stated the proposed change made no difference to him, Daro scheduled their battle for best two-out-of-three falls to a finish.

Lutze and Norbeck are scheduled for a one-fall, one-hour time limit bout. Lutze went through his first light workout yesterday in about a week. An injury to his knee kept him from meeting McCoy here last week. In Norbeck he will be facing a rough grappler who has been training here for the past month hoping to get a bout with one of the local top-notchers.

Hollywood Legion Signs Boxers for Main Go

Cecil Payne, who is making another invasion of the Pacific Coast, has been matched with the veteran Ignacio Fernandez for a ten-round battle at the Hollywood American Legion a week from this Friday night.

Payne is hoping to land a bout with Johnny Lamar, who takes on Bad Bobby La Salle in this Friday's feature tangle. La Salle is being made the favorite over Lamar, according to the latest dope coming from the ring world.

Tom Gallery, Hollywood matchmaker, announces a change in the semi-wind-up. Teddy Palacios and Sammy Offerman will meet over the four-round route instead of Lew Lafferty and Charley Ernst. Palacios is a favorite at the Movie City stadium, but will have to work to get over the fancy boxing Offerman.

Johnny de Coursey and Jack Tremaine tangle in the special event. Two four-round bouts complete the card.

EXPLORER PROVES VETERAN ANGLER

HERMOSA BEACH, Oct. 7.—Among the world-wide celebrities to visit the big Olympic fishing barge last week was Maj. Hammond, world explorer. Hammond has spent most of his life taking motion pictures of animals in their native state. He has been in all the "wildernesses" of the world, including Africa, South America and Siberia.

The major pulled in quite a number of bonita and perch, while angling on the Olympic, while some sandabs, sculpin and bass were also caught.

STORES FOR MEN

Topcoat Event Continues! $30

Wonderful worth-having topcoats at—$30, imagine! Big, burly coats; or lighter, trimmer ones. Any model—any shade. A 2-day "run" on these topcoats, in spite of the warm spell. And there is—Still Good Choosing!

Selection was not greatly weakened these 2 first days in spite of what happened when so many men discovered the coats. There are lots of good Harris Tweeds—and whoever heard of Harris Tweeds for $30? Made as they have been made for generations—hand loomed, native dyed and popular everywhere. But offered now as they have not been offered before! And even better Imported Fleeces hand loomed, too. You ought to see one in the mirror! And heft one—there's a lot of coat for $30!

Bullock's went east for the fabrics. Cornered them in a melancholy market. Took them to the manufacturer and told him how to make them. His fine work added life to the life already in the cloth. You can wear and wear any model among them until you tire of it—if possible! And let the rain rain! Yours will be a coat that was loomed and processed to be wet-proof.

Choose your model—belted, half-belted, unbelted; raglan sleeves or set-in sleeves; leather buttons or ivory buttons—but don't let this good fortune pass you by—for at $30 it is the best good topcoat fortune you may see for a long time!

U.C.L.A. Eleven Shows Offensive Strength in Scrimmage; Pomona in for Tough G

PERFECT BRUIN PIGSKIN PLAYS

Passes Work Well in Hard Drill at Westwood

Solomon and Bergdahl Star in Air Attack

Sagehen Game Listed for Coliseum Saturday

The Pomona College eleven will have plenty of work Saturday afternoon stopping the offensive measures of Coach Bill Spaulding's U.C.L.A. gridders. The Bruins scrimmaged hot and heavy for about an hour and a half last night at Westwood, and showed enough offensive strength to give the Sagehens plenty of trouble.

BILL SPAULDING

Two elevens, fairly evenly matched from first-string material, battled away last night, and Spaulding's pet formations clicked almost to perfection, with the passing attack functioning particularly well. Capt. Eddie (King) Solomon was the quarterback of one team, and Leonard Bergdahl, the boy who pulled a last-period passing attack on Southern California, calling signals on the other team.

Solomon and Bergdahl both looked good in heaving passes, the sophomore quarter tossing one to Earle Painter that was good for a touchdown. On the Bruin reverses sponsored by Spaulding, both Buddy Forster, the light but elusive halfback, and Norman Duncan, stalwart fullback, looked good. Duncan gave evidence that he is a good broken-field runner, and will probably be given more of an opportunity to carry the ball in games than heretofore. "Howie" Roberts also showed abundant ability in ball-carrying, an improvement over his play last year, and may yet do justice to the number "14" he bears on his back, the number ex-Capt. Joe Fleming carried so many times in rolling up yardage and touchdowns.

In the line, Lloyd McMillan was the outstanding star at the right tackle position yesterday, and will probably have first call over "Fat" Norfleet, the 235-pound behemoth. Norfleet is just recovering from a tonsil-removing operation, but he will have to show more than he has so far to gain a berth on the first string eleven. Gordon Jones, guard, who made a good showing against the Trojans, also shone in line play last night, as did also Leslie Haight, 165-pound end transfer from Pasadena Junior College.

Jackie Lynch Returns Home With Laurels

TAFT, Oct. 7.—Jackie Lynch, young tennis player of the West Side, has returned home from a tournament tour of more than three months in which he participated in several dozen matches at points ranging from the Pacific to the Atlantic Coast.

The 15-year-old Taft tennis star returns triumphant from his latest match at Berkeley, where he succeeded for the first time in defeating Jay Cohn of Santa Monica, the latter having been the Taft boy's nemesis throughout the eastern meets. Cohn is the national boys' champion. He beat Lynch for the championship recently at the Culver Military Academy courts at Culver, Ind.

The Berkeley match was an upset in more ways than one, inasmuch as it upset the string of victories garnered by Frankie Parker of Milwaukee. In the early Midwest tourneys, Parker beat Cohn with ease, Cohn beat Lynch without ado. In Berkeley matches, however, Cohn for the first time defeated Parker, and in turn went down to defeat at the hands of Lynch, for the first time, leaving the West Side youth at top of the heap.

BRUIN FROSH GRIDMEN PLAY CADET ELEVEN

The freshman football team at U.C.L.A. will meet its most strenuous test of the season Saturday when it clashes with the strong eleven from Oneonta Military Academy of South Pasadena in the lone appearance of the Bruin yearlings this year in the Los Angeles Coliseum. The game will be played as a curtain-raiser to the varsity tilt between U.C.L.A. and Pomona College.

Coach Freddy Oster will have a strong squad in against the cadets, but Oneonta defeated the U.S.S. Oklahoma eleven, 7 to 3, last Saturday, the bluejackets having previously tied Whittier College. Joe Keeble, Blackman and Bill Robb are the backfield stars of the Bruin frosh, with Eddie Austin, Tom Rafferty, Phil Nordli and Lawrence Lane playing stellar roles in the forward wall. Tex Jones is the big offensive star for the cadets.

FIREMEN GO NORTH FOR ARMY CONTEST

The Los Angeles Fire Department football team heads for San Francisco Friday night where on Saturday Coach Bill Blewett will send his men against the West Coast Army eleven at Kezar Stadium. The game is one of the most important contests of the season for the firemen, who have developed one of the strongest noncollegiate elevens on the Pacific Coast.

Blewett's men won last year's game against the service teams by a close score and are determined to keep up the victories on Saturday.

The SPORT LIGHT

by Grantland Rice

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

PHILADELPHIA (Pa.) Oct. 7.—The battle of mighty pitching arms now moves into the sixth game of the best world's series baseball has known in many years.

There has been a deadly shrinkage in batting averages and the deficit is likely to continue with Hallahan and Haines ready to tackle Earnshaw and Grove in case the struggle moves on to the seventh wave. The Athletics are within a game of one more championship, but they have a hard young man to beat in Bill Hallahan, the pitcher who rolled them back last Saturday with a fast ball and a baffling curve.

Gabby Street now has two fresh pitchers to throw at the enemy, while Mack must fall back on his two mainstays who have already worked four of the five games. There will be no rest for Earnshaw and Grove until this series is over. They have pitched ably to date, but there is always a limit, even to the right and left arm.

There has been no series in years that has known such magnificent pitching as this series has shown so far. Grove and Grimes have each carved out two fine exhibitions. Earnshaw has allowed but one run in sixteen innings of brilliant work. Hallahan and Haines have turned in two masterpieces. To show how effective the pitching has been, it might be noted that in one stretch Cardinal pitchers held the hard-hitting Mackmen to one run in thirty consecutive innings. Here you have proof enough that the lost art has come back.

FIGURES FALL

Cardinal pitchers have driven the Athletics to a batting average down around .187, and Athletic pitchers have cut the Cardinals' all-year average of .312 down around .205. Grove and Earnshaw have held the Cardinals in check by suppressing Frisch and Bottomley almost completely, and these two are the main punch of the Red Bird offense.

Bottomley's defensive play has been high class, but he has blown himself to only one single in twenty times at bat. Chick Hafey has done better work, but the big three of the Cardinals have fallen far below Cochrane, Simmons and Foxx, the big three of the Athletics, who have hammered out four home runs and a few doubles and triples.

In the first five games played the Cardinals have shown the smoother, better, all-around team, when you consider all the departments of play. They have offered the star of the series in young Charlie Gelbert, the bounding elk at short, who ranges all over the lot. Gelbert has run down twenty-six chances without an error, and many of these were of the toughest sort. On one play he went back of Adams at third to pick up a ground ball and just a moment later he cut in across second, back of the box, to handle another hard chance. He can go to his right or left with equal agility and that's something few can do. It is the trade-mark of class.

In a series of this sort anything can happen. The Cardinals return to this city hanging on by one slender thread, but they are still better off than they were last Thursday night when they started west in a hole that looked as deep and black as the mouth of a railroad tunnel. It took them only a brief spell to prove they had the stuff and the heart. They crashed right back into the middle of the series on the pitching arms of Hallahan and Haines, who are all set to pick up just where they left off. These two may find the going rougher at Shibe Park, where Cochrane, Simmons and Foxx have their sights adjusted to the right-field wall, but you can gamble the Cards will make a first-class battle to the last play. It is asking something from any club to beat Earnshaw and Grove on successive days, but if Hallahan and Haines are near their St. Louis effectiveness the two Athletic aces can afford no lapses at any stage.

Here is another point. Gabby Street feels confident that Frisch and Bottomley will start hitting at any moment, and if they do the Cardinal offense will be more than doubled. When your main massed punch has been shot full of holes it is hard to make any headway.

MORE DANGEROUS

The Athletics were beaten on the two days Cochrane, Simmons and Foxx were stopped, but they refused to be stopped forever. That one wallop from Foxx in the ninth was worth a ball game just when it began to look as if no one would ever score. It takes great pitching to hold this trio down, and it hardly seems likely they can be cornered and captured on the old home lot where they are doubly dangerous. Cochrane hit two long flies in St. Louis that might have cleared the right-field barrier at Shibe Park.

Neither Earnshaw nor Grove showed any sign of weariness at the finish of the fifth battle. The big Athletic right-hander looked better than ever as he breezed along the first seven innings before a pinch hitter relieved him. Grove had more stuff than he has shown so far when he finished the last two innings. If their pitching arms are tired after the long campaign, where they carried 70 per cent of the burden, they haven't shown the same so far.

AL FAY WINS OVER KENNEDY

rocked Fay with lefts and rights to the head, winning the fourth round.

From there on it was quite a battle, Fay coming back in the fifth to nail Kennedy with two beautiful left hooks and a corking right-hand uppercut to the face.

Kennedy won the sixth by a shade and had a big margin in the seventh with short hooks to the head.

Fay made a great rally just before the bell to take the eighth round, and then Referee Kennedy tolled off the rounds as four for Fay, three for Kennedy, with one even.

Whereupon Kennedy won the ninth with a splurge of fighting which Fay duplicated in the tenth, the margin in the latter round being Fay's edge at the end of the fight.

A cut opened over Kennedy's right eye in the seventh bothered him in the latter rounds.

BIG FELLOWS

Fay weighed 191½ and Kennedy 188.

The semi-wind-up resulted in a substitution for Paulie Walker, the eastern welter, who was down with the flu. Johnny Romero, a southpaw, took his place, and looked so bad to Referee Frank Holborrow that he stopped the bout in the fourth and awarded a technical knockout to Sammy Aguirre. The latter was trying, and the referee apparently figured Romero had no such intentions.

Overcoming a knockdown for the count of nine in the first round, Henry Rollins finished out six rounds of biff and boom fighting to earn a draw with Tommy Huffman, brother of Sailor Eddie Huffman.

Chalky Wright won a six-round decision over Kid Avalino, substitute for Sergio Radam, and Johnny Previs scored a three-round technical knockout over Frankie Boldt.

SEVEN BOUTS BILLED AT WHITTIER ARENA

An attractive boxing card will be offered fans in the Whittier section tonight when Promoter Jack Perry presents seven bouts, headlined by a middleweight battle that will bring together Young Terry, hard-hitting Whittier Mexican, and Guy Salerno, Italian slugger.

Terry, a big favorite at the Pico arena, is picked over the Los Angeles boxer.

Mickey Erno, who was active at smaller clubs around Los Angeles two years ago, comes back to meet Melchor Santana, Hynes flyweight, in the semi-wind-up.

PERALTO SIGNED FOR MAIN-STREET BATTLE

Carlo Curtis yesterday signed Sam Peralto to box Joe Guerrero in a six-round bout at the Main-street Club Saturday night. The bout will be half of the double main event, Tommy Elks and Vivencio Alicante boxing the other feature six. The bout gives the card three titleholders. Guerrero is the Mexican lightweight champion; Elks holds the Mexican welterweight title and Alicante is the undisputed lightweight champion of the Orient.

Bears Labor Under Lights for Gael Tilt

BERKELEY, Oct. 7. (Exclusive)—Still mindful of the humiliating defeat administered last Saturday by the strong Washington State Cougars, Coach Clarence "Nibs" Price tonight worked his University of California football varsity before the floodlights for the first time this season.

This Saturday Price has another tough hurdle to get over—the slippery men of St. Mary's College, under Ed Madigan. The Saints and Bears battled to a scoreless tie last year, and reports are to the effect that St. Mary's is stronger than ever with a prospective all-American in the fleet, and sure-footed Fred Stennett.

Although the Cougar upset was attributed in the main to the strength of the northerners rather than to the weakness of the Bears, big question marks are on the faces of all the press observers at the nightly secret practices as to what radical changes are in the offing.

Tonight was given over to practice against the well-known St. Mary's shift plays. The Bear weakness on passes was also put to the test. Clarence "Moose" Garrity was a prominent ball-carrier today. He acquitted himself quite well in the few minutes that he played against the Cougars. He may see more action against the Saints. Garrity is running much harder and playing better defensive ball than in any season of his college career.

BITTO AND DRAKE IN WILMINGTON GO

Joe Bitto, rugged San Pedro light-heavyweight, clashes with Paul Drake, hard-hitting San Francisco scrapper, in the six-round main event on a ladies' night program at the Wilmington Bowl tonight. Ad (Pickles) Heintz, all-navy heavyweight champion from the U.S.S. Idaho, makes his second appearance as a professional in the six-round semi-wind-up, when he tangles with Chief Whitehorse, veteran Indian battler. Other bouts carded are: Red Grigry vs. Ora Smith, welterweights, six rounds; Mickey McLaughlin vs. Jimmy Benway, welterweights, six rounds; Nate Litfin vs. Ritchie Thomas, featherweights, six rounds; Tony Cruze vs. Chick Peralto, welterweights, four rounds.

MIDGET GRIDDERS BEING DEVELOPED

In order to develop a school prep team to provide experienced material for the varsity squad at the Black-Foxe Military Institute, Capt. L. L. Cunningham, director of athletics, is forming two full teams of cadets, all of whom tip the beam at less than 100 pounds. The two teams will clash in two or three games, after which a schedule will be arranged with outside football squads of the same weight. Capt. Clayton E. Triggs is coaching these new pee-wee elevens.

paw, Bill Hallahan, who shut out the Athletics in the third game at St. Louis and inaugurated the comeback of the Red Birds.

The prospects are for a continuation of the spectacular battle of pitching wits and strong arms, by far the greatest succession of twirling performances in a decade of world's series competition.

Before it started, the prediction was that the sage of the house of Mack would be obliged to put virtually the entire pitching burden for the A's upon his right and left-handed aces, Earnshaw and Grove. Subsequent events have thoroughly justified this forecast.

STARS WILLING

Grove won the first game, Earnshaw the second and they combined to capture the crucial fifth contest after three of the lesser Mackian lights had been pounded in the third game and after Grove had lost a close fight to old Jesse Joseph Haines in the fourth. Having gambled once with his boxmen and lost, Connie Mack is not likely to take any further chances, especially with both Earnshaw and Grove strong and willing enough to shoulder all of the remaining box-work.

The Cardinals, although the odds are against them once more, believe they have another come-back in their systems, especially with their two previously victorious pitchers, Bill Hallahan and Jesse Haines, prepared for further duty. In winning the two straight games that put the Red Birds back on even terms last Saturday and Sunday, Hallahan and Haines held the slugging Athletics to exactly eleven hits and one run in eighteen innings.

Al Simmons and Jimmy Foxx, with some timely aid early in the series by Mickey Cochrane, have hit up to their season's averages so far, but as a whole the team mark of the Athletics—.181 in five games—is far below their American League figure of .294. Similarly, the clouting of the Cardinals has skidded from a season's hitting figure of .314 to a series mark of only .206.

Jimmy Wilson, spark-plug catcher of the Cards, and Charley Gelbert, shortstop, whose all-around play has been a sensation, are hitting well above their normal marks, but the rest of the Red Birds, especially Bottomley, Hafey and Frisch, have fallen far below their usual hitting standards.

The most extended world's series battle in four years will result in the gate receipts nearing the $1,000,000 mark by the time the returns for the sixth game tomorrow are tabulated. They exceeded $800,000 for the first five games and upward of $150,800 will be collected if Shibe Park is filled to its capacity of nearly 33,000 again. A seventh game would send the "gate" over the $1,000,000 mark for the first time since 1926.

Beavers Drub Missions, 13-3

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7. (AP)—Portland's Beavers pounded George Caster and Herman Pillette for eighteen hits today to score an easy 13-3 victory over the Mission Reds. A six-run rally in the first frame put the visitors well in the lead. The locals nicked Nahti for a dozen hits, but the latter received good support. Hale and Kramer hit homers for Portland. MAPLE LEAF PUCKS FACE BRUINS AGAIN

Bolstered by the addition of several new puck chasers to the line-up, the Maple Leaf ice hockey sextet is expected to skate on the ice tomorrow night as favorites to turn back Dave Patrick and his Los Angeles Bruins.

Although the Bruins showed flashes of midseason hockey in lambasting Hollywood last week, the Leafs are expected to prove stronger offensively as well as on the defense.

"Buck" Weaver, manager of the Maples, has obtained two of the best defense men in local ranks in the persons of "Rube" Brandow and "Skeets" Mason. At goal the team has Bill Vaughn, an outstanding net custodian, while in the forward line are such sharpshooters as "Chick" Bond, "Chuck" Warrren and "Lefty" McDonald.

COLLINS HAS HUNCH A'S WILL CUT LOOSE TODAY

BY EDDIE COLLINS

Captain of the Athletics

(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—For the first time in this series I feel like making a rather startling prediction.

EDDIE COLLINS

As we await Wednesday's game my mind reverts back to the final game of the 1911 series between the Giants and the Athletics. That series was a nip-and-tuck affair just as this one has been, but the sixth game turned out to be such a complete rout of our rivals that our triumph seemed all the more decisive because of the lop-sided score by which we won.

My hunch is that in tomorrow's game our players are going to cut loose with a barrage of base hits and runs against Lefty Hallahan, who undoubtedly will be Manager Street's starting pitcher.

I think the victory will be so decisive that there will be no doubt remaining in the minds of the baseball public as to which was the better club in this series.

So far the games have been uncomfortably close. A timely base hit inserted most any place would have easily swung the balance in favor of the club that lost. But I repeat, now that we are back again on our home grounds, where for one thing the background is much more in favor of the hitter than in St. Louis, I just can't help believing our players are going to be more like their true selves and show the Cards wherein our real strength lies.

We are a team that wins mostly through sheer batting power. While we have given spasmodic evidences of this strength (I refer to Foxx's home run and the clouts that Simmons and Cochrane made in the first two games in Philadelphia) we have not yet hit on all cylinders or really looked like the great team we feel we are and have showed ourselves to be in our American League season.

I am willing to give the St. Louis pitchers credit for efficient work, but I am not satisfied in my own mind that they are good enough to stop us again. In fact, as I have said in previous articles, I feel that the Cards have played fully up to the hilt in all their games, and still they have been able to beat us only two out of the five games so far played.

Had the A's displayed anything near their usual form in every game the series would now be over. Jimmy Foxx's clout in Monday's game restored the confidence of our hitters and I feel it is just the spark needed to set off the fireworks.

M'KINLEY BABES LOSE TO PASADENA ELEVEN

The Pasadena High School babes trounced the McKinley lightweight eleven, 21 to 0, yesterday on the Bulldogs' field. The all-around playing of the Bulldogs' quarterback, Gabriels, was the feature of the game. Gabriels accounted for two of his team's touchdowns; the first with a 45-yard return of a punt, and the second with a short smash on tackle. Burkhardt returned a punt 60 yards for the Pasadena touchdown.

SAN PEDRO BABES TRIM WASHINGTON

The San Pedro lightweights scored a 21-to-7 victory over the Washington High babes yesterday, in a game played in the Pirates' gridiron. Two of the Pirates' scores came as a result of blocked kicks. Earl blocked one of the President punts in the second quarter and fell on it over the goal line for a touchdown. Novak, also blocked a punt, which was recovered by Sardisco behind the Washington goal line, for another score. Thompson passed to Aguerberry for the other San Pedro touchdown. Crutchley tore off a sixty-yard run to account for the losers only marker.

MUIR TECH GRIDDERS WIN OVER EL MONTE

After battling on even terms throughout most of the game, Kareleus shot a short pass to Cruesberg for a touchdown to give the Muir Tech lightweights a 6-to-0 victory over the El Monte babes yesterday in a game played on the former's gridiron. The two teams had played scoreless ball until late in the fourth quarter when Kareleus and Cruesberg executed their touchdown play.

JIMMY MACK TO MEET PASADENA GO WINNER

To meet the winner of the Judy Zuniga-Johnny Godinas bantamweight bout which headlines the Pasadena Arena card for tomorrow night, Manager Morrie Cohen announces he has signed Jimmy Mack, the Hollywood flash. Mack was a big hit at the arena a couple of weeks ago when he licked Ernie Hood, taking only four rounds to stop the hard-hitting Crown City boy. Mack will meet tomorrow night's winner, just two weeks later.

The four-round semifinal will be Billy Wagner vs. Sailor Jimmy Hamilton, middleweights.

FRISCH LOOKS FOR CARD WIN

St. Louis' Sluggers Due to Come Out of Slump

BY FRANKIE FRISCH

Second Baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7. (NANA) All the Cardinals, from Manager Street on down to the two mascots, confidently believe that we'll even up this world series again in the sixth game here tomorrow. We've got to take this game or lose the series, and we've won going up grade so often this year we feel we are destined to go on through to another uphill victory.

FRANKIE FRISCH

The fact that Philadelphia beat us on Monday and took the lead in the series, 3 games to 2, has not disheartened us the least. We, of course, would have felt better winning that game, but when we lost it on that home run by Jimmy Foxx we merely felt that our ultimate victory for the championship had simply been delayed.

I look for the good hitters in our batting order to start popping tomorrow. I may be wrong, but I don't think we can be stopped throughout the series. So far, most of our batting has been done by the tail-end batters in the line-up and their success indicates that the Philadelphia pitchers can be solved.

That being true, the batters in the heart of the Cardinals battlefront should crush the Philadelphia flingers when they come out of their slump, and I believe we'll be out tomorrow. We're a long time overdue. The law of averages is with us. Mack's best hitters, Cochrane and Simmons and Foxx have had their days. They hit hard in the first two games of the series and Foxx broke up Monday's game. Our big hitters haven't exploded as yet, but watch them tomorrow afternoon.

It's my guess that we'll look at Earnshaw or Grove again tomorrow. We are getting accustomed to them by now. They're stars, both of them. Earnshaw has shown us more than Grove, but we don't think it will make any difference who pitches against us from now on.

We are better fortified for pitching during the rest of the series than Philadelphia. We have Hallahan and Haines well rested. Manager Street says he intends to pitch Hallahan tomorrow. That means Bill will go to the hill with three days intervening since he shut out the Athletics last Saturday. Earnshaw or Grove, if either works, will be pitching with little rest.

MICKEY WALKER TO FACE JOHNNY KLINE

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7. (AP)—Johnny Kline, now on the Pacific Coast, has been signed to meet Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, in the main bout of a boxing show at the Coliseum here Friday night, the 17th inst., Mique Malloy, promoter, announced today. Walker's title will not be involved as both men will weigh around 165.

NEW BROADCAST CHAIN PROMISED

United Plans Hook-up of West Coast Cities

Service Expected to Begin by November 1

Programs Will Originate in Los Angeles

The Times Forum, KHJ, 1:30 p.m., presents Harriet Andrews, soprano, and Mona Content, concert pianist. World-Wide News, 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Promise was given yesterday by the United Broadcasting Company to establish a new West Coast chain of eight stations, with headquarters in Los Angeles and originating here. Frederick C. Dahlquist is the authority for this broadcast and states that actual service will be consummated November 1. The eight stations included in the proposed chain are: KXA, Seattle; KBOS, Bellingham; KMED, Medford; KXL, Portland; Korc, Eugene; KTAB, San Francisco; KTM, Los Angeles, and KGB, San Diego. The last three named stations are controlled by Pickwick Stages.

While as not yet definitely included there is a possibility that KPWB will take over a portion of the time. It is the intention of the United Broadcasting Company to begin with a three-hour nightly broadcast from 7 to 10 p.m. with the expectation of later increasing the hours.

Associated with Mr. Dahlquist is Maurice G. Cleary, former vice-president and treasurer of the United Artists Corporation. Other directors are: Louis Davis, Jr.; W. E. Voegelbach, Ed Heller, Kenneth Humphries, George Comstock of Seattle, Herbert Ihrig of Seattle and A. W. Bjornstad and Richard Haller. The latter will be vice-president and production manager.

WIFE BARRED FROM HOUSE

Divorce-Seeker Cannot Live in Community Property Apartment Edifice

Mrs. Myrtle M. Orthman cannot live in the apartment-house that is the community property of herself and husband, whom she is suing for divorce, but she is entitled to half the rentals, Superior Judge Hanby decided yesterday as he appointed R. E. Allen receiver of the property.

Attorney S. S. Hahn for Ed Orthman, and Attorney Griffith Jones for his wife agreed to the receivership.

They tell us that—

Lloyd S. Nix, former City Prosecutor, talks over KELW, Burbank, every Wednesday and Friday, 7 to 7:15 p.m., combatting the radio-casting of Rev. Robert P. Shuler. Ye who like pyrotechnics can sit on the fence.

NCB is going to tell us just what their stars do around home. It'll be something pretty, though. I'll bet they kick the cat, fight with their wives and cuss out the laundry just like the rest of the census.

Melba French Barr, soprano, and Lillian Ariel, pianist, KECA, at 9 tonight. Two successful pioneers of local broadcast.

Marh Senoj, Renba Snikwah—No, they're no Indian mystics. But these alphabetical riots for composers' names are driving announcers crazy. Why do you have to have a name with the alphabetical rabies to be able to write good music.

One of the pleasing things about radio is its almost total lack of off-color jests, plots and songs. Both the stage and screen underwent a great deal more moral cleaning with their advents than has radio.

The "Emperor of Crime" series, appearing on KFI nightly except Saturday and Sunday is unique in radio under the direction of James Knight Carden.

Another premier, 8 to 9 tonight, over KMTR, with Freeman Lang, the bald-headed Sheik of Sawtelle, at the microphone, introducing "Whoopee" at United Artists Theater.

It's a picture no artist could paint—to see some 210-pound athlete who could squeeze a microphone to pieces with one hand—sidle up to it, break into a rash of hiccups, false starts and—yes, even his hair stands on end. If I had a football team—I'd hire microphones instead of players for my front line.

For sweet music listen to the violin choir, eight violins, under the direction of Calmon Luboviski, assisted by Claire Mellonino tonight, KNX, 7:30 to 8.

"He's got the ball—he's torn through the line—he's free and headed for the goal. No, . . . Doakes lost 1 yard on that play." Even a pacifist could kill a bird like that.

Gladys George Obtains Divorce From Film Man

Mrs. Gladys Clare Erway, known on the stage as Gladys George, obtained a divorce from Arthur Benjamin Erway, film actor, in Superior Judge Fleming's court yesterday on her testimony that Erway was unreasonably jealous of her, beat her and threatened her with a gun.

"I lived in a state of terror," testified the actress. "Once when he hit me my mouth was swollen for two weeks."

Miss Ginger Pearson testified that she lived next door to the Erways, and that she saw the marks of Erway's fists on his wife's face.

They separated last month.

Error in Ballot Delays Election

The waterworks bond election called for yesterday in the district bounded by Western, Normandie, One Hundred and Twentieth and One Hundred and Twenty-eighth streets, was held up by Registrar of Voters Kerr because of an error discovered in printing the 100 ballots necessary for the election.

The amount of the bond issue was given on the ballots as $65,000, whereas the ordinance passed by the Board of Supervisors fixed the amount at $68,000. A new order calling the election will be before the Board of Supervisors today, according to William Davidson, county mechanical engineer, and head of the county waterworks districts. The election cannot be held in less than thirty days, according to provisions of the law.

Trial Date Set for Dr. Fiske

Denying his guilt on a charge of murder for the death of Miss Vera Nelson, 19-year-old girl who is asserted to have died as a result of an illegal operation, Dr. William C. Fiske, 70-year-old physician, yesterday appeared before Superior Judge Wood. Judge Wood fixed the defendant's trial for November 12, next, in Superior Judge Hardy's court.

Dr. Fiske was arrested shortly after he had attempted to end his own life by turning on the gas in his Hermosa Beach office, investigating officers assert. In an adjoining room, the officers state, they found the body of the dead girl.

Loeb Freed in Traffic Trial

Arthur M. Loeb, Julian case witness, was found not guilty of three traffic violations by a jury in Municipal Judge Bogue's court yesterday.

He was arrested at Seventh and San Pedro streets on September 8, last, witnesses called by Deputy City Prosecutor Jack testified. Charged with failing to obey a traffic signal, with having no brakes and no tail light, Loeb spent several hours in jail because he refused to sign a traffic tag, the witnesses said.

DUCK LIMITS DISCUSSED

Conferences Held Here on Fish and Game Conditions, With Emphasis on State and Federal Conflicts

Conferences with State Fish and Game officials and George H. Cecil, manager of the Chamber of Commerce conservation department, as to game conditions in California, were held by Paul Reddington, chief of the Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture, yesterday.

Reddington at a meeting with C. R. Bell, fish and game commissioner, and John L. Farley, executive officer, Division of Fish and Game, expressed his pleasure at the friendly relations between State and Federal officials in working out a solution of fish and game problems.

The officials discussed particularly the difference in duck limits under State and Federal laws. Under Federal regulations, hunters are allowed fifteen ducks on two days a week and under States rules they are allowed bag limits of twenty-five ducks on two days a week. Hunters are permitted to possess thirty ducks under Federal laws and twenty-five ducks under State laws.

It was pointed out by Farley that prosecutions are seldom attempted for violation of the bag limits but, rather, for violations of the regulations as to the possession, because of the difficulty of proving that the ducks bagged are the hunter's own.

Reddington was told that scarcity of game makes it unlikely many hunters will violate the regulations. The Federal official was also informed that the majority of the gun clubs have signified their intention of aiding in the enforcement of a fifteen-duck bag limit.

SURPRISE WELL BEGINS FLOWING

an extension of the Devil's Den district.

SECOND ATTEMPT

Several months ago this well started the flow from a depth of 5086 feet, yielding approximately forty barrels a day. It sanded up after a while, but was cleaned out and drilling was resumed. The hole was completed in a leisurely manner.

Shallow production has been obtained in the Belridge district for many years, many of the wells yielding from forty to seventy-five barrels at depths between 700 and 1200 feet. Other production has been obtained between 1500 and 3000 feet, but the wells have not been large producers. The completion of this well does not mean that a frenzied drilling campaign will be launched there. It is probable that the large companies, of which there are several interested there, will work out some sort of unit plan for development of the deep zone.

OTHERS DRILLING

The Belridge Oil Company controls more than 15,000 acres at North Belridge and has about the same amount at South Belridge, where the General Petroleum Corporation now is drilling a deep-test hole. The Richfield Oil Company, drilling on 480 acres less than two miles northwest of Belridge No. 15, was down 5055 feet yesterday and making steady progress. This well is on Sec. 22, 27-20.

Other oil companies vitally interested in the North Belridge district include the Union Continental, Associated, Standard and Ohio. The Continental Oil Company has a shallow producer flowing about thirty barrels a day from a depth of 700 feet and Union has another on acreage near it. The Associated Oil Company owns in fee 160 acres on Sec. 34, 27-20 which offsets Belridge's No. 15 and Standard has 180 acres on Sec. 36, 27-20 about a mile southeast of the new producer. Associated also has under lease 10,000 acres north of Belridge's producer.

Air service between Sao Paulo, Brazil, and the United States via Paramaribo has been inaugurated.

Conference Set for Red Cross

Thirty-four chapters of the Red Cross in Southern California will be represented by delegates at a one-day regional conference next Tuesday at La Casa del Camino at Laguna Beach. H. J. Hughes of Washington, D. C., legal adviser to the American National Red Cross, making his first tour of the Pacific Coast chapters, will be present. J. Arthur Jeffers, manager of the Pacific branch, and Miss Marianne King, assistant director of public information, also will be present.

Dr. Morton E. Hills of Ontario will be the chief speaker on "Administration of the Health Program in the High Schools."

Russian Dancer Divorces Mate

Ala Moscova, Russian dancer, in private life Mrs. Alvina Chulock, yesterday won a divorce from Gregory Chylock, scenarist, whom she charged with being so jealous that he forbade her to leave home to take professional engagements. The danseuse asserted that all her writer husband did was to "sit around the house and scribble."

They married November 22, 1923, and separated March 20, last. Superior Judge Hahn granted the wife a decree on grounds of nonsupport.

WIFE DECLARES MATE PUNCHED HER IN EYE

Her husband punched her in the eye to wake her at 2 a.m., Mrs. Anna R. Campion yesterday testified in getting a divorce from John Campion, hospital attendant. The wife also charged that Campion once broke into her home at 5 a.m., knocking down her bedroom door, and then tearing a ring from her finger. Mrs. Campion said Campion is employed at the Western State Hospital, Fort Steilacoom, Wash. They were married November 20, 1918, and separated December 31, 1925. Superior Judge Craig granted the wife a decree.

For Hard Coughs That Call For Super-Help

Creomulsion is made for coughs from colds that hang on. For coughs deep and difficult—coughs where you dare not risk a less effective help.

But careful people use it for coughs which seem milder—use it to do the utmost and be safe. For nobody knows where a cough may lead.

Creomulsion combines seven major helps in one. Some coughs yield best to one help, some to another. Doctors often differ on the best help, for coughs are not alike. So here we combine all the best—to be sure.

Creosote stands first. Here it is blended, emulsified and made palatable. For soothing membranes and combating germs, it is considered the supreme help in this type of cough.

But other helps are sometimes needed—pine tar, wild cherry, menthol ipecac and others. Nobody can tell to which help your cough will soonest yield. So experts have combined in Creomulsion all best helps in one. No narcotic, nothing harmful to a child, but a seven-way help to deal with all conditions.

The price is $1.25—a little higher than a lesser help. But your druggist guarantees it. Your money is returned if it fails to bring the quick, complete help you desire. Don't you think it worth that little extra to be sure that you are doing the utmost for a cough?

WOMAN RETAINS FOUR HUSBANDS

Fifth Cites Marriage Record and Gets Annulment

No Divorces Interrupted Wedding Sequence

Cast-off Wife Permitted to Keep Daughter

Assertions that he was only one of his wife's five undivorced husbands yesterday won for Franklin Boyer an annulment of his marriage with Mrs. Pauline Fulcher-Milward-George-Boyer - Flinn. Superior Judge Yankwich granted the annulment after considering a complaint that the much-married defendant married five men without bothering to wait until death or divorce provided interludes.

Boyer, formerly an army lieutenant, testified that the defendant was convicted seven years ago of defrauding the government by simultaneously collecting allotments from two soldier-husbands. He offered in evidence San Francisco newspaper clippings, dated March 1, 1923, containing the woman's asserted confession of plural matrimonial alliances.

MARRIAGE SEQUENCE

This confession set forth that she was born in England, sent to India as a child, then to South Africa, returning to her birthland to marry, at 16 years of age, with Charles Fulcher. She left him eighteen months later, and at Quebec, in 1905, she married a man whose name she withheld in the confession because "he didn't count." Three years later she married Reginald Milward, going to San Francisco. There she met Boyer. They eloped to San Jose and were married June 22, 1918, the confession added. The woman accompanied Boyer to the Philippines, returning without her husband and with a daughter, Frances Ella Boyer.

WIFE GIVEN CUSTODY

In 1921, William Edward Flinn, marine sergeant, was added to the husbands' list. It was while collecting allotments from both Boyer and Flinn that the woman's amazing career was brought to light. She is reported to be living now at Alameda, Cal. While winning an annulment, Boyer successfully pleaded with the court to let Mrs. Boyer keep custody of their daughter, saying she is a good mother.

FIRE DEATH RESULTS IN NEW PLEA

Chief Scott Urges Against Gasoline as Cleaner After Woman Loses Life

Warning against the use of gasoline, benzine or any inflammable liquid as a cleanser was given by Fire Chief Scott last night following the death yesterday morning of Mrs. Max Innegouck, 50 years of age, as the result of cleaning blankets with gasoline in her home at 6149 Orange street.

"This warning cannot be sounded often enough," Chief Scott said, "yet people still insist on jeopardizing their lives and property by the dangerous habit. Gasoline vaporizes quickly and the gas can be ignited by either flame, spark or friction. Despite our efforts to warn citizens twenty-one lost their lives by the careless use of this liquid during the last year."

Mrs. Innegouck died at the Hollywood Receiving Hospital after a neighbor, Mrs. F. C. Shaw of 6145½ Orange street, had made a heroic effort to save her. The gasoline, in a pail, became ignited from the flame of a water heater on the back porch of Mrs. Innegouck's home, according to police. Enveloped in flame, she ran out screaming for help. Mrs. Shaw, hanging up wash in her own rear yard, saw her neighbor's plight and, thinking quickly, jerked the wet clothes from the line and wrapped them about the stricken woman.

As a result of a similar accident the day before Mrs. Ruth Hiveley, 35, of 4536 Wesley avenue, is in the Methodist Hospital with third-degree burns of the arms, face and neck.

"Investigator" for Mayor Held as Intoxicated

An undercover investigator of the Mayor's office, according to his own statement to Desk Sergeant McCarthy and Officer Coppage, giving the name of Patrick Connolly, 27 years of age, of 1337 South Rimpau Boulevard, was booked at Central Police Station yesterday afternoon for being drunk in an automobile at First street and Broadway.

Connolly, according to Officer Coppage, was in an automobile driven by George W. Pancoast, 32, of 1247 Arapahoe street, which collided with another machine. Pancoast appeared to be intoxicated, according to the officer, and was held on suspicion of driving while in that condition.

Both Coppage and Sergt. McCarthy declared Connolly asserted he was an investigator in the Mayor's office. When booked, however, he gave his occupation as laborer.

ENDURANCE FLYER DOWNED

Mendell in Fist Fight With Radio Operator but Goes Ahead With Plans for Fifth Flight Attempt

Downed again—this time by a right hook from the fist of his former radio operator, R. V. (Doc) Howard—Loren Mendell, endurance flyer, who has made four forced landings in his attempt to set a new air-endurance record, was not "out" last night, either physically or in his desire to make another take-off.

"Things are pretty well tangled up now," Mendell said, "but if I can get another ship or get the present one fixed I'll go up again."

Mendell made his fifth "forced landing" on the floor of an airplane hangar at Grand Central Air Terminal shortly before noon yesterday when Howard attempted to remove from the endurance plane Pride of Hollywood the $5000 worth of radio equipment loaned Mendell by Western Air Express to broadcast news of the flight.

RADIO SET SOUGHT

Howard had withdrawn as radio operator after the second time the Pride of Hollywood was grounded and went to the port, he said, on orders of Western Air Express to take back the radio set.

"Over my dead body you'll get it back," Mendell told him, according to witnesses. And to back this up, mechanics said, Mendell struck Howard.

The latter, a former professional football player, came back with a jab to Mendell's face. The two clinched and rolled around on the hangar floor until spectators separated them.

A Western Air Express attorney later went into conference with Mendell and it is understood the air line will remove the radio if legal details can be straightened out for the ship's release from the airplane company at Grand Central that prepared it for the endurance attempts.

MENDELL APOLOGIZES

Mendell later apologized to Howard for the hangar fracas. Howard was particularly incensed by the fact that he had on his room-mate's suit and the scuffle on the floor did not do the clothes any good. Neither participant was injured severely.

Since starting with his original crew of Howard and Pete Reinhart for a new record of 1000 hours in the air more than two weeks ago, Mendell has been followed by hard luck. Howard quit the flight after the second time up and Reinhart after the third. Another radio operator was obtained for the third flight and a substitute co-pilot was obtained for the fourth attempt, but it failed when a piston broke.

The longest time the Pride of Hollywood was aloft was sixty-six hours, the third flight.

DAM'S GOLDEN ERA HAILED

City's Greatest Industrial Growth Predicted to Follow Boulder Project

An industrial era greater than this city ever has known will follow the completion of Boulder Dam when 1,000,000 horsepower will be available at low rates for manufacturing in the Southland, it was predicted yesterday by Lynn Atkinson, contractor, who spoke to members of the Los Angeles Realty Board at their noonday luncheon.

Atkinson, who built the Pardee Dam near Stockton and the Coolidge Dam in Arizona, told some of the problems which will be encountered in the construction of Boulder Dam, which he declared will be more than twice the height of any other dam in the world.

"More preliminary work must be done at the dam site," Atkinson declared, "than actual work on the dam itself. There must first be drilled through the mountains four tunnels, each of fifty-foot diameter, to divert the flow of water. This will cost $17,000,000. After these are ready, two coffer dams each 100 feet high must be built from which the water will flow through the tunnels. Then silt 125 feet deep must be excavated and when this is completed actual work on the dam will begin.

"There once was a flood in the Colorado when 200,000 cubic feet of water per second passed, and the tunnels must be ample to provide for this should such a flood occur while the dam is being built. If the Colorado ever should break through its barriers again the Imperial Valley would become an inland sea."

Atkinson urged realty brokers to begin thinking about the bond issue for the Los Angeles aqueduct and declared that if this issue fails of carrying the government could not be blamed for abandoning the whole Boulder project. He asserted that the expenditures to be made for the Boulder Dam, aqueduct and various other water and power projects scheduled for the next few years will total $500,000,000 and will precede a great era of industrial expansion.

Louis C. Hill, United States government consulting engineer, speaking briefly on the purposes of the dam, declared it is being built first for flood control, second for irrigation purposes and third for the development of power. He asserted that one of the chief engineering difficulties to be overcome in the dam construction is that of temperature in the concrete. He asserted that heat generates in the concrete and that in cooling cracks occur. The problem is, he said, so to prepare the concrete that the generation of heat and consequent cooling will be reduced to a minimum and without danger of cracking.

Harold Ferguson, president of the Los Angeles Realty Board, opened the program and turned the meeting over to Phil Norton, vice-president of Hugh Evans & Co., and chairman of the day, who introduced the speakers.

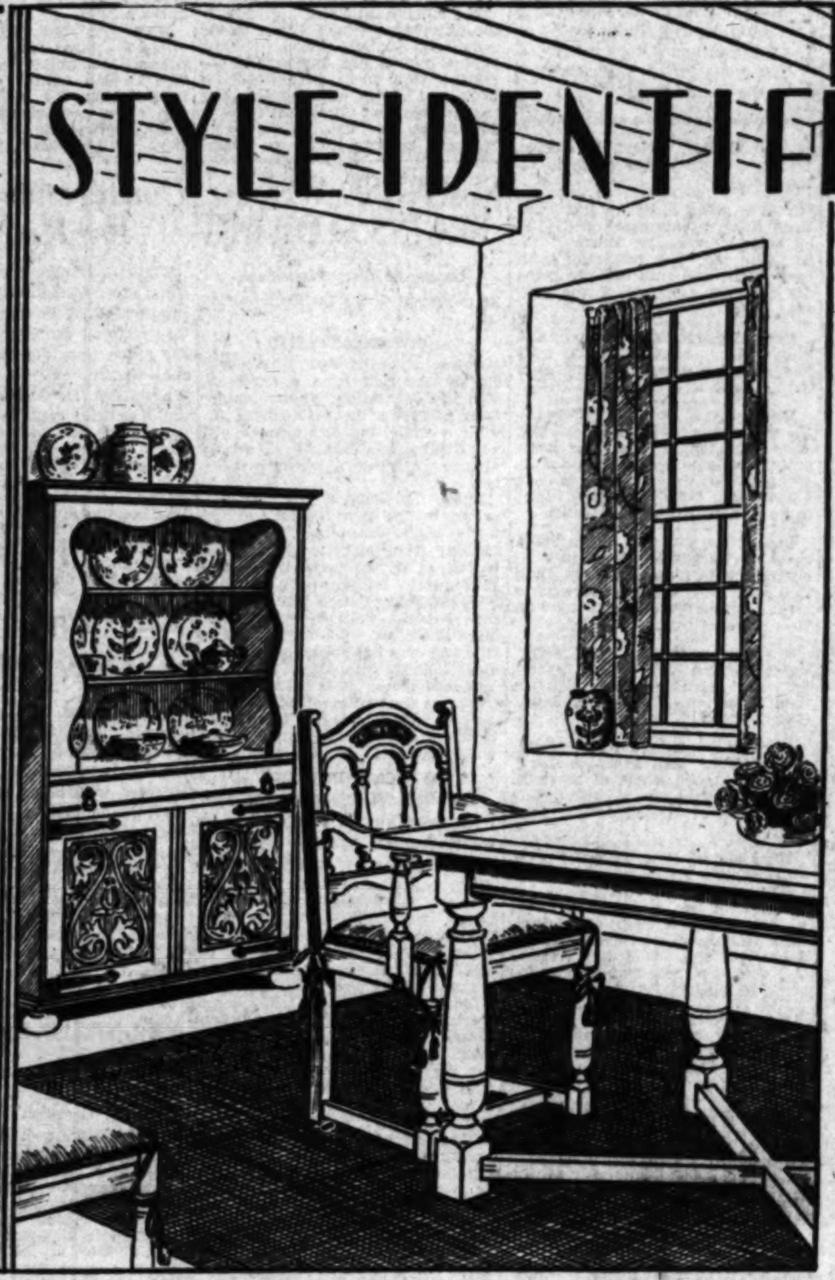
STYLE IDENTIFIED WITH LOW PRICE



Through Bullock's Affiliation With The Grand Rapids Chair Company As Distributor . . . .

Periods in Furniture . . Fabrics . . Fashions! The land has become period conscious . . style conscious! And Bullock's is aiding considerably in identifying Style more closely with Low Price.

Bullock's is making it possible for those who have homes, to buy furniture of better craftsmanship, better style at much less than they would ordinarily pay. Scientific merchandising is at the bottom of these lower prices. One method Bullock's employs is that of eliminating the profit of the middleman. Bullock's has accomplished this in one instance by becoming Distributor in Southern California for the Grand Rapids Chair Company the largest manufacturer of quality Dining Room Furniture in this country. This company is noted for its skill in reproducing period styles. Authentic designs are often followed in their entirety, others are adapted to meet modern requirements. Note:—The illustration shows how completely Bullock's has identified style with low price.

With all the picturesqueness of the Jacobean period! The cupboard or "dresser" as it was called in those days came into use during the Commonwealth. A choice of this piece or a Sideboard with 8-foot extension table, 2 Arm Chairs and 4 Side Chairs $189

ORIENTAL RUGS AT BULLOCK'S LOW PRICED

"Low Priced" applies to Bullock's entire stock of Oriental Rugs . . just as it does to all Home Furnishings at Bullock's. Prices are low considering quality. Quality as well as price should be considered in the purchase of an Oriental Rug. Quality, determined by closeness of weave . . design . . coloring . . condition of wool. Wool from which the original fats and oils have been removed seldom holds its color satisfactorily.

But how to be sure . . you may say! Since few can know Oriental Rugs as a connoisseur, the honesty and integrity of the store selling them must be relied upon. So select that store with as great discrimination as you do your rug!

Bullock's vast stock of fine antique carpets, of semi-antique and modern reproductions of old types is an inspiration to anyone in search of an Oriental. Especially noteworthy is the vast and unusual collection of Oversize Oriental Carpets which includes many old pieces of a rare and exceedingly fine character. A comparison of value, matching quality for quality, is convincing proof of the lowness of Bullock's prices.

PERIOD FABRICS IMPORTED by BULLOCK'S

Shiki Satin from France

An awareness that homes in general are becoming "period" conscious led Bullock's to original sources for Period Fabrics. Expressive of modern originality or faithfully reproducing or interpreting that which has been good in the art of weaving in the past, Decorative and Upholstery Fabrics from world famous looms have come to you, through Bullock's. And by reason of this are priced as low or lower than the importer usually asks the decorating trade.

"Shiki" Satin is a French weave with a far Eastern flavor . . its crinkled texture resembling the bark of a tree. Heavy and sturdy, this rayon faced fabric is rich in sheen, supple and drapable. Its low price points to the elimination of the profit usually accorded the middleman!
